CHICAGO LIKE BATTLEFIELD

Bloodshed Marks Fierce Fighting in War of the Teamsters.

NO QUARTER GIVEN

Employers and City Officials Strengthen Their Forces for Long and Bitter Struggle.

TROOPS ARE BADLY NEEDED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—Bloodshed, an attempt at lynching, a new federal injunction, the calling into service of 900 extra policemen, marked aggressive action on the part of the employers, the posting of "danger" proclamations, ominous bristle of firearms, terrorizing of street pedestrians, great loss of perishable goods in commission houses and warehouses, partial paralysis of business, and general preparations for an extension of the strike, were the main features today of the war between the teamsters and the employers. The complications are now such that the calling in of federal troops for the preservation of peace seems probable. Today's list of strike casualties is as follows:

THE DEAD:

CHARLES BEARD; died of fractured skull in a hospital.

THE SERIOUSLY INJURED:

ALBERT M'ILVANE; shot in the back; not expected to live.

CHARLES MOODY; beaten on the head; condition critical.

HENRY SHULTZ; shot in the side.

WILLIAM BASS; shot in leg.

J. ERICSON; shot in arm.

W. N. BROWN, non-union teamster; struck by bucket of cement thrown from twelfth story; leg broken.

JOHN BLUM, non-union driver; struck by brick; ribs broken.

THE REV. W. K. WHEELER; beaten by strikers.

MARTIN GARRARYA, non-union man; head split open by billies in hands of strikers.

JAMES SMITH struck in back by stone; condition serious.

LYDE M'DOWELL; shot in hip.

POLICEMAN GUY DITTINGER; pounded with butt of revolver and half his teeth knocked out.

LEONARD WEBBER; scalp wound from bullet.

GEORGE JORDAN, negro, non-union teamster; beaten; condition serious.

POLICEMAN EDWARD CAMPION; struck on head by stone and knocked unconscious.

TONY RENBERG, union teamster; struck on head with stone; condition serious.

FRANK CURY, leader of non-unionists; struck on head with stone and severely injured.

While disorder reigned in the streets, representatives of employers whose wealth agggregates $200,000,000 met at the Union League club and devised ways to strengthen their position. After the conference it was announced the employers would grant no quarter to the teamsters, and that they would move 500 to 800 wagons tomorrow under guard with non-union men driving. Several railroad officials met with the employers and proffered moral support to them, but refused to be drawn into the controversy by violating their traffic contracts with truck companies which are still doing business with union men.

900 Extra Policemen.

The fact that a dozen or more big trucking concerns have refused to join the Employers' association in their fight is an element of weakness in the cause of the employers, but with or without the assistance of these trucking companies the Employers' Teaming association decided to "stand pat" and carry on the war to the end.

RAMSEY AGAIN DECLARED OUT

Frederick A. Delano Assumes Active Management of the Wabash.

CHARGES OF EXTRAVAGANCE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 2.

Notice was sent out from the offices of the Wabash railroad today that Frederick A. Delano, vice president of the road, had assumed active management of the system by authority of the board of directors. It is understood that notwithstanding the denials of friction made at the close of last Thursday's meeting, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president of the Wabash, is virtually regarded as no longer being identified with its management. Unsolicited by Mr. Ramsey the directors voted him a six-months leave of absence.

Friends of Mr. Ramsey are inclined to regard the bestowal of the unasked leave of absence in the light of a removal, or of a distinct rebuff, and they state that he will never return to his post. He will sail abroad in June, and it is stated that on his return he will identify himself with other railroad interests. Mr. Ramsey, in fact, is no longer attending to the business of the Wabash.

Charges of extravagance were made against Mr. Ramsey in connection with the Wabash-Pittsburgh terminal. It is pointed out by his partisans, however, that he simply obeyed the orders of the committee of which Mr. Gould is chairman.

Troubles of the Wabash with regard to the demands of the debenture "B" bondholders assumed more definite shape today. The bondholders and their committee will hold a meeting in the United States Mortgage and Trust Company's office tomorrow, at which they intend to adopt radical measures to obtain the back interest which they insist is due them. Invitations were extended to the Gould interests to be present with counsel. The railroad interests, however, administered a distinct snub to the protective committee. It is said that the Wabash will not even be represented by counsel at the meeting.

BARONESS IS HYSTERICAL WHEN OFFICER APPEARS

Woman Charged With Theft of Clothing Is Sent to a Hospital.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—"Baroness von da Vietz," who was arrested in New York Sunday at the instance of Mrs. William A. Slater of this city, charged with the theft of clothing to the amount of $150, and who was brought to this city yesterday, lies in a ward at the Emergency hospital suffering from an attack of hysteria. It is thought that she will be able to leave the hospital tomorrow morning, but it is believed the charge will not be pressed, most of the goods having been recovered. Mrs. Slater is said to be satisfied to allow the "baroness" to go free.

Supt. Gallagher of the house of detention was instructed to have the "baroness" at the city hall this morning. A few minutes before 9 o'clock he suggested to the baroness that she get ready to go to court. The mention of the word court started her into hysterics.

Baron von Vietz has not yet reached Washington, or, if he has, it is unknown to the police, as he has not called to see his wife.

Strange Bug Destroys Weevil.

WACO, TEX., May 2.—Chief Howard of the etomological bureau at Washington has been notified of the discovery in Falls county, Tex., of a peculiar bug which is destroying the boll weevil. The insect was found on a plantation near Waco.

NOTED FINANCIER PASSES AWAY

CHARLES EDWARD SPEER

President of the First National Bank, who died suddenly at his home in Craft avenue last evening.

WILL DELAY PRIMARIES

Republican County Nominations Are to Be Made in September.

CHANGE IN RULES

Party Law to Be Made Uniform Throughout the County and Doors Will Be Open.

CLARK NOT TAKING CHANCES

Republican primaries for the nomination of candidates for county offices to be filled this fall, will not be held until September 16. In the meantime uniform party rules are to be adopted in the county.

The change in the date of the primaries from June 3 until September 16, was agreed upon yesterday at a conference attended by the candidates for county nominations and by a number of men prominent in the councils of the party. The delay is in order to make the necessary changes in the rules so that the doors of the party can be opened to all Republicans in search of better government, and also to give those who desire to be candidates sufficient time to present their claims to the Republicans of the county.

The rules fix the first Saturday of June as the date for holding the primaries. This year that day would fall upon the third of the month. It will be necessary to call the county committee together to authorize the proposed change in the rules. The call has been issued for a meeting Saturday afternoon. The proposition to delay the primaries will then be submitted and must lie over until May 20, when it will be acted upon finally.

Uniform County Rules.

County Chairman Ford says that after the date of the primary is fixed, committees representing the county, and the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and McKeesport organizations will be named to prepare uniform rules for the government of the party. It is probable that the rules of the three cities will be made to conform to the rules in force in the county. This will be done at least in so far as to the qualification of voters is concerned. There will also be some changes in connection with the plan of dealing with contests.

This change in the date of the county primaries will not interfere with the election of the Pittsburgh city committee in June. The members of that body will be chosen at the regular time. The new county committee will not be elected until September 16.

The candidates in attendance at the meeting yesterday were William B. Kirker, prothonotary; A. C. Gumbert, John W. Moreland and W. W. Murray, county commissioners; John W. Crawford and Harvey A. Lowry, recorder; George Foster, treasurer; Fred W. Edwards, register, and Richard M. Kopp, clerk of courts. Among the others present were Chairman Ford, ex-Judge Elliott Rodgers, ex-Senator William Flinn, John A. Bell, David Hardy, Francis J. Torrance, John H. Henderson, John P. Hunter, L. L. Davis, Chairman Langsdorf of the McKeesport committee, W. H. Keech, City Chairman M. G. Leslie and H. G. Wasson.

Clark Will Be Nominated.

The Citizens are preparing to arrange for fusion with the Democrats. The Democratic primaries will be held on May 13. At that time state and county delegates will be elected. The county convention will be held the following week. It will nominate James A. Clark for county commissioner and appoint a committee to fill the balance of the ticket. This committee will have power to enter into fusion negotiations with the Citizens.

Friends of Harry T. Rowley, chief clerk to the county commissioners, said yesterday that he was talked of as the other fusion candidate for commissioner. There is a story going the rounds of the court house that the Citizens have agreed to allow Commissioner Clark to name his colleague and that he has selected Mr. Rowley. So far the report is unconfirmed.

The 20 Democratic delegates from this county will go to the Harrisburg convention on May 24 to do whatever Col. J. M. Guffey wants. While the colonel has not yet announced his favorite for the nomination for superior court judge, there is reason for believing he would like to have the convention name John B. Head of Greensburg. Westmoreland has another candidate in Judge L. W. Doty. While many of the Democrats of the county are said to favor his promotion, they do not want him to leave the local bench. They argue that if the judge is elected a superior court justice, a Republican will succeed him upon the common pleas court bench.

There are four superior court judges to be elected this fall. Each elector is permitted to vote for three and the Republicans have nominated that number. The Democrats are certain of securing the fourth place and most of the leaders of that party think it best to nominate but one candidate. There are a number of Democrats, however, who want to make three nominations and from present indications there will be a fight in the convention on this question.

CANAL BUILDING LEGAL.

Application for Injunction Against Construction of Panama Waterway Is Denied by Court.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia today decided that the secretary of the treasury cannot be enjoined from paying the $50,000,000 appropriated by congress for the purchase of the Panama canal property. The decision was rendered in the suit brought by Warren B. Wilson of Chicago, who attacked the act as unconstitutional.

The decision was prepared by Justice Morris. He holds that the government has a perfect right to construct either a canal or a railroad in a territory over which it exercises exclusive jurisdiction and that it can levy taxes for that purpose.

RIVALS EXPLOITS OF JESSE JAMES

Gang of Masked Bandits Wrecks Bank Safe and Holds Villagers at Bay.

POSSE SURROUNDING WOODS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ONEONTA, N. Y., May 2.—A band of masked robbers rode into the village of Gilbertsville, 18 miles from here, at 3 o'clock this morning, blew open the safe in the private bank of E. C. Brewer, and made good their escape with booty estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

When the startled villagers were awakened by the muffled roar of the explosion, and had been halted by the pistol fire of the retreating bandits, they found the robbers had completely isolated Gilbertsville from the outside word by cutting all the telegraph and telephone wires. When the village folk finally started in pursuit, the robbers had gained a lead which could not be overcome.

Tonight parties are searching the woods, as several teams stolen by the robbers were found abandoned by the roadside. It is believed there were five heavily armed men in the band. They first pried open the bank door. Two holes were drilled into the heavy steel doors of the safe and these were filled with nitroglycerine. The explosion which followed wholly wrecked the safe and shattered every window in the bank building.

The robbers gathered all the money exposed by the explosion and started on a run just as the first of the awaked villagers reached the scene. Other residents came quickly, but the invaders were making good their escape, firing as they went.

The alarm spread quickly through the town and in a short time everybody was hurrying to the bank. Then an attempt to communicate with the neighboring towns was made in the hope of intercepting the burglars. Telegraph offices and the telephone exchange were opened, but the operators found only dead wires.

Postmaster W. S. Root and C. P. Root, his brother, started for Mount Upton, the nearest railroad station, six miles away, and from there notified all the neighboring towns. They had gone but half a mile when they came upon a team hitched to a telegraph pole. One of the horses had become entangled in the harness and had thrown himself. Further along they came upon a one-horse surrey. An axle of the vehicle was broken and a short distance away was the horse.

COREY IS OPTIMISTIC OVER STEEL INDUSTRY

President of the Corporation Sails for Europe—Mr. Dinkey Enthusiastic Over Trade Conditions.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, sailed for Europe this morning. He will be gone about 10 weeks.

While Mr. Corey has not publicly expressed his views on the steel and iron situation, his friends say he is very optimistic and looks for a continuation of the prosperity the industry is now enjoying. Not since the organization of the United States Steel Corporation has the manufacturing end of the company been in such a strong position. Mr. Corey goes away confident that any change in the steel situation will be for the better.

President Dinkey of the Carnegie Steel Company is in the city. He is also said to be enthusiastic over steel and iron conditions and the future outlook.

HELEN KELLER'S TEACHER WEDS HARVARD PROFESSOR

BOSTON, May 2.—(Special.)—Culminating the mutual interest they took in Helen Keller, a famous blind, deaf and dumb girl, Miss Anne Mansfield Sullivan, her teacher and companion, and John Albert Macy, instructor in English at Harvard, and one of the editors of the Youths Companion, were married at Miss Keller's home at Wrentham this afternoon.

SUDDEN DEATH OF CHARLES E. SPEER

Well-Known Bank President in Ill Health, but Was Thought to Be Improving.

A QUIET AND USEFUL LIFE

Charles Edward Speer, president of the First National bank, and one of the most prominent financial men in Pittsburgh, died early last evening at his home in Craft avenue. Although Mr. Speer had been in ill health for several months he had lately apparently improved, so that his death was considered sudden. The direct cause of death was heart failure from acute indigestion.

Mr. Speer, who became sick about five months ago, went to Palm Beach, Fla., for relief. He returned from there a month ago. Shortly after coming back he suffered a relapse, but for a week past had been improving. On Monday he got up, wrote several letters and retired feeling much better. Yesterday his condition was worse and he did not rise. Shortly before 6 p. m. he took some nourishment and later asked to be raised in bed, as he found difficulty in breathing. He sank back shortly after being raised and it was then seen that his condition was very serious. He died at 6:45 o'clock.

Mr. Speer was born in Pittsburgh in 1837, where 1837 Penn avenue now stands. His father, James Ramsey Speer, one of the most prominent physicians in Western Pennsylvania, died a few years ago at the age of 89. Charles received the average schooling of the period and at the age of 18 entered the service of the First National bank as a messenger. With that institution he had been ever since, rising steadily from one position to another until he became president, 15 years ago, a position he has filled ever since.

Mr. Speer always lived in Pittsburgh and his life flowed peacefully and uneventfully, but last night even before his death was generally known, several men were met who said that all their success in life they owed to Mr. Speer. While he was charitable, where charity was needed, he was a wise philanthropist who sought to develop habits of thrift and industry, timing his rewards so that the recipients retained their self-respect.

Mr. Speer was married in the '60s to Miss Sarah Kennedy Dawson, the daughter of John L. Dawson, who was a congressman from the Fayette county district and the father of the homestead law. Through a parent Mrs. Speer is descended from Albert Gallatin, the young Genevese patrician who came to America, afterward becoming secretary of the treasury and settling in Fayette county. Mr. Speer and Miss Dawson were married at Albert Gallatin's home place, now owned by Mrs. Speer. It is a famous farm, for there the greatest men of the land visited Gallatin and there Lafayette was entertained on his triumphal tour through the United States.

From this farm the stone of which the new First Presbyterian church was built was quarried. When it came to building the church he told the building committe, of which he was chairman, that it could have the stone on the Gallatin farm tested, and if the stone was found to be available, the church could have all it needed for nothing. The stone was examined and was found to be as good as the best building stone in the country.

Had Mr. Speer lived until next February he would have been 50 years with the First National bank. Although very wealthy and active in financial affairs, he was connected with but comparatively few institutions and corporations. He was a member of the Pittsburgh Clearing house committee, chairman of the board of trustees of the Allegheny cemetery, an elder in the First Presbyterian church and had been chairman of the board of trustees of the church.

Mr. Speer is survived by his widow and these children: J. L. Dawson, Charles E., Jr., and Mrs. Charles A. Painter and Misses Mary and Louise Speer, and the following brothers, James P., John Z. and Alexander Speer.

ASKS FOR HIS RESIGNATION

Frick Committee, It Is Said, Desires Alexander to Vacate Equitable's Presidency.

WILL HEAR KNOWLES' STORY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
NEW YORK, May 2.

Denied by James W. Alexander, but circulated with such persistency that much credence was placed in its apparent truthfulness in the financial district, the report was current today that the Frick investigating committee had determined a solution of the Equitable troubles could be found in the immediate resignation of Mr. Alexander as president of the society.

In connection with the report that Mr. Alexander's resignation would be demanded, it was said he had been in consultation with Mr. Frick and the latter's associate committeemen yesterday, and at that session Mr. Alexander had been strongly urged to resign, as the one way peace could be restored. So emphatically was the necessity for his designation explained, it was said, that it was tantamount to a demand.

"The Frick committee has never made any suggestion of any such nature to me, and I have no intention of resigning. The report has been manufactured for obvious reasons," declared Mr. Alexander.

In the meanwhile, the name of Postmaster General George B. Cortelyou as a successor to Mr. Alexander was again mentioned, and it was even said Mr. Cortelyou was a compromise possibility acceptable to all the members of the Frick committee, and that Cornelius N. Bliss, one of Mr. Alexander's stanchest supporters, was favorably impressed with Mr. Cortelyou.

United States Senator Knox, counsel to the investigating committee, spent the day in the company of Mr. Frick and the latter's associates, while abstracts from the society's records and vouchers were being examined.

Will Hear Mr. Knowles.

Among the witnesses to be examined by the Frick committee will be H. H. Knowles, former supervisor of agencies, who lost his place with the company by order of James W. Alexander, for his attacks on Gage E. Tarbell. Knowles will be asked to tell what he knows about Tarbell's alleged rebating while in the employ of the society as a general agent, and the examination will also involve the charges of Knowles that the second vice president has winked at the practice of rebating since he had been in charge of the agency department.

Much of the testimony which Knowles will probably be called upon to give was learned tonight from the former supervisor of agents. The specific instances to be inquired into are of recent occurrence, and one of these Mr. Knowles told as follows:

> I settled a tontine policy in 1902 for one of the best known merchants in this city. As soon as the tontine policy was closed up I wrote him for $500,000. When I tried to deliver the policy the merchant demanded a rebate of 20 per cent on the first year's premium. I refused, and returned the policy to the society. Later I was told that members of the firm to which this man belonged had communicated with Tarbell and asked that a policy be issued on the life of the merchant for business reasons.

Tarbell Urged a Rebate.

Tarbell said to me one day: "Harry, here's a chance for you to make a little money and at the same time get for me a letter of indorsement that I have wanted for some time. I want that letter the worst way."

I again wrote to the man, and when I went to place the policy I met with the same demand—that I deliver it on payment of only 10 per cent of the fixed premium. I was disgusted with the matter and turned the policy over to Archibald Haines, one of our most successful agents, to see what he could do with it. Haines threw up his hands when he saw who the man was.

"Why, Knowles," he said, "this man is so notorious as an applicant for rebates that it would disorganize my whole agency force if it became known that I had written him."

Haines threw the policy back on my hands and I then went to Arthur Herendon, another of our leading agents. Herendon tried for two weeks to place the policy, but finally returned it. All this happened last February.

"About the last of March there was a luncheon at the Lawyers' club, at which were present Tarbell, William Alexander, secretary of the society; Mr. Bolling, Superintendent of Agents Levy of New Orleans, Sweeney of West Virginia, Hoyt of Chicago and W. E. Taylor of the home office. During the luncheon Tarbell said: "Gentlemen, I have received a high compliment from a leading merchant"—naming the man we had all tried to insure—"and he has sent me a letter of indorsement. We have insured him for $250,000. That is the kind of agents 'Billy' Taylor gets in the metropolitan district."

I know Tarbell got his letter, because I have a copy of it.

Hyde's Makes False Pretense.

Frank H. Platt, who organized the John D. Crimmins policy holders' committee and lost control of it, and was mentioned as one of two whom the Alexander faction desired to make directors of the Equitable, said today:

> Nothing could be more disingenious and deceptive than the statements and representations contained in the amended petition of Mr. Hyde to intervene in the Lord suit. The statements in the petition constitute merely another attempt to deceive the policy holders into the belief that Mr. Hyde is willing to concede something substantial to them.
>
> More than a month ago Mr. Hyde agreed with the policy holders that he would have the board adopt a two-year mutualization plan, and at the same time would so reorganize the executive committee that during the two-year period the company would be under the control of persons favorable to the policy holders. When the directors met Mr. Hyde caused the board to adopt the two-year mutualization plan, but he had the board refuse to carry out the rest of the agreement. The plan was adopted with knowledge by Mr. Hyde that the Lord injunction suit would be commenced before the plan could be carried out. As soon as the Lord suit was begun Mr. Hyde intervened as a party, and while he pretended that he was still favoring the two-year plan his counsel was in court arguing that it was illegal.
>
> Mr. Hyde pretends in the amended petition that, as the owner of the majority of the stock, he is willing to have the two-year plan go into effect, but he nevertheless insists that it can be done only by a vote of three-fifths of the stock, which vote he well knows cannot be obtained. This subterfuge is characteristic and it ought to be understood by every policy holder.

Alexander Makes Reply.

President Alexander, in affidavits filed today in reply to the Hyde petition for permission to intervene in the Lord suits, says:

> The Hyde statements are wholly immaterial, and the only force or effect thereof is to drag into this litigation a real or imaginary controversy between myself as an officer of the society and Mr. Hyde as an officer of the society. I do not admit the truth of the statements contained in said communications of Mr. Hyde to the board, but on the contrary I assert that in many respects they are absolutely contrary to the truth, and, under advice of counsel of the society, I decline to enter into any detailed discussion with regard to the matter, except to say that, as far as it is charged or implied that I have been actuated by any motive in this matter other than the welfare of the society, such charge is absolutely untrue, and except further, that so far as I am charged with any violation of any duty as trustee under the trust deed annexed to the intervening petition, there is no basis or foundation for such charges.
> My duty to the society as its president is paramount to any theoretical or fanciful duty that I may be supposed to owe to Mr. James Hazen Hyde, since he has attained the age of 21 years.

Petitions were filed in the United States circuit court in this city today by three Philadelphia policy-holders of the Equitable for permission to intervene in the suit brought by J. Willcox Brown, asking that a receiver be appointed for the Equitable society and for an accounting to the society by the directors and officers. The men who ask the right to intervene are: Dr. Edward E. Montgomery, T. Ashby Blythe, and Howard B. Arrison.

Justice Bischoff in the supreme court today declined to grant the application of Herbert G. Tull, a Philadelphia policy-holder of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, for permission to examine officers of the society before trial of a suit begun by him. The officers he wished to reach are President James W. Alexander, First Vice President James H. Hyde, and Second Vice President Gage E. Tarbell.

WANT AN UNPREJUDICED PROBING OF EQUITABLE

Insurance Commissioners from Several States Will Meet in New York to Bring About Their Desire.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MADISON, WIS., May 2.—The advisability of demanding a fair and thorough examination of the business and affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society by an unprejudiced body will be considered at a meeting of the insurance commissioners of several states at the Hoffman house in New York next Tuesday. Insurance Commissioner Host of Wisconsin today received telegrams requesting such a conference from Commissioner Frank L. Cutting, Massachusetts; Henry R. Prewitt, Kentucky, and Ream E. Folk, Tennessee. The last named is a brother of Gov. Folk.

From sources outside the Wisconsin insurance department it is reported the commissioners who will meet at the Hoffman Thursday have something big up their sleeves respecting the Equitable, and will probably spring it. All of the commissioners who have been asked to take part in the conference are, it is understood, in favor of seeing the society given over wholly to the control of the policy-holders.

The Wisconsin supreme court today denied a motion for a rehearing of the case in which the Wisconsin commissioner attempted to compel the Equitable to distribute its surplus of $80,000,000 among its policy-holders.

HUNGARIAN ACTRESS SAYS SHE HAS NOT ELOPED

BUDAPEST, May 2.—(Special Cable.)—Ilka Palmay, the popular actress, whom it was reported a few days ago had fled to America with a young author, has sent an indignant denial of this rumor to the papers. She says she has never for a moment thought of eloping across the Atlantic, but is perfectly happy in Vienna. In the fall she will, however, start on a tour of America and her sweetheart will act as her impressario.

ters of violence, Mayor Dunne, early recognized that the day was a critical one of the strike. That the situation might not go utterly beyond the power of the police to control, and give excuse for the mobilizing of state militia or federal soldiers, the mayor authorized Chief of Police O'Neill to draw 900 policemen from the special reserve list and add them to the 1,100 already on strike duty.

Mayor Dunne also gave orders that his recent proclamation, calling on the people to keep away from the centers of violence be posted in thousands of conspicuous places throughout the city.

The 900 new men to be added to the police force tomorrow will be placed on State street alone. The large retail establishments have announced that they will make deliveries. There have been numerous complaints of the interference by the strikers with women shoppers and the authorities have determined to put an effectual stop to all such practices.

New Injunction Issued.

Judge C. C. Kohlsaat of the United States circuit court, at the request of the attorneys representing the seven express companies today, issued a temporary injunction restraining all persons from interfering with the wagons of the petitioners or the men employed upon them.

The fighting today in the streets was even more fierce and savage than that of yesterday. The strikers and their sympathizers attacked the non-union men at every opportunity, assailing them with bricks, stones, clubs, knives and any and every other offensive weapon upon which they could lay their hands.

The fighting occurred in the heart of the business section of the city, men being shot down within 200 feet of the retail store of Marshall Field & Co., clubbed nearly to death at the corner of the Auditorium hotel, in plain view of hundreds of ladies who were compelled to run from the mob to save their own lives. In many instances, men walking along the streets, who had no active connection whatever with the strike, were assailed by hoodlums, who beat them first and later accused them of being strike-breakers.

Preacher Is Beaten.

The Rev. W. K. Wheeler, pastor of the Ninth Presbyterian church, while passing Desplaines and Adams streets, on his way to the Pennsylvania station, was attacked by three men, who knocked him down and beat him unmercifully, until the timely arrival of the police saved him from further injury. Mr. Wheeler managed to hold one of his assailants until the police could arrest him.

William Miles, a negro waiter, while at work in a lunch room at Adams and Sangamon streets, half a mile away from any former scene of rioting during the strike, was also a victim of the strikers' fury, although he had had no connection whatever with the trouble. He was accused of being a strike-breaker, and was pounded on the head with a billy, knocked down and trampled on. Miles was removed to the hospital, where his injuries were pronounced severe.

As far as known but one man was killed during the day. The list of injured is much greater than it is possible to obtain. In many cases the non-union men swung their clubs with great effect, knocking men from their wagons headlong into the street; in other instances, when assailed by mobs, they fired point-blank into the crowd, and it is difficult to see how the members of the mob could escape many broken heads, or how all the bullets fired during the day should have gone wild.

One Man Is Killed.

The dead man is Charles Beard, struck on the forehead in the fight near the Auditorium hotel. He died of a fractured skull at a hospital where he had been taken.

A. S. Utley, floor manager for Montgomery Ward & Co., was attacked by sluggers on Oakenwald avenue. The men knocked him down and kicked him in a terrific manner about the head and face. He knocked one of them down with a billy, and the others ran. Thinking he had killed his assailant Utley went to call an ambulance, but when it arrived the man had either recovered and gone away, or had been carried off by his companions.

Although it was announced last night that the teams of the express companies and of the Employers' association would be handled by men armed with rifles, today nothing of the kind was attempted. Mayor Dunne and Chief of Police O'Neill made every effort to prevent the carrying of rifles and Superintendent Reid of the Teaming association informed them that he had not contemplated arming his men as stated.

Negroes in Riots.

Simultaneous with the shooting near the Auditorium this afternoon another riot was in progress at Michigan avenue and Lake street, a mile north on the same boulevard. A crowd of 300 negroes imported from St. Louis were being escorted from the railway depot to a lodging house. At Lake street and Michigan avenue a crowd of 3,000 persons attacked the negroes, many of whom were armed with stones, pieces of coal, blackjacks, revolvers and stout hickory canes.

When persons in the crowd began to throw stones, sticks and bottles the negroes charged and repeatedly made fierce use of the hickory. Each time, however, the crowd increased. Ink bottles, paper weights, water glasses and even penholders, were thrown into the struggling mass of whites and blacks by persons in office buildings. A dozen or more shots were fired and it was reported that several men had been shot. They were supposed to be union pickets.

A running fight between the negroes and the mob on Michigan avenue ensued, the negroes attempting to make their way to their lodging quarters on the north side of the Chicago river. The negroes massed together, kept their formation and kept onward until Rush street bridge was reached. On the bridge poured the negroes, followed by the mob. Carriages and pedestrians were caught in the swirl and menaced by the crowds. Among the vehicles was an open carriage occupied by H. H. Kohlsaat, who was compelled to sit in his carriage and witness the melee.

Frank Curry Is Injured.

The strike breakers fought on until the north side was reached. There they were met by police and taken to the Northwestern Storage Company's warehouse, where they were finally safely housed. During the riot on the bridge Frank Curry, a white man, who was leading the negroes, was struck on the head with a brick. Curry was made partly unconscious and was carried into a building nearby, where the wound was dressed.

Shooting was resorted to by negro non-union men today at Harrison street and Wabash avenue, where a large crowd gathered about the drivers and guards. Sticks, tiling, broken bottles and other missiles were thrown, many of the missiles striking the negroes. F. E. Carter, one of the colored guards, whipped out a revolver and shot at Henry Schultz, who was approaching Carter. The bullet struck Schultz in the left side. He ran south in Wabash avenue for half a block before he fell, weakened by the loss of blood.

While delivering coal today at The Fair, at Adams and Dearborn street, William H. Brown, a non-union colored teamster, was struck with a bucket of mortar and bricks. His right leg was broken. The bucket was thrown from the top of the Fair building, 12 stories high.

Women Get Caught in Row.

In the heart of the fashionable shopping district two trucks driven by non-union colored teamsters and guarded by 40 negroes, armed with stout canes, had a stormy time today. A number of women, who had been shopping in Marshall Field & Co.'s store, became mixed in the riot. The negroes drove the mob back and the women fled into Marshall Field's and other big retail establishments in the vicinity.

Police guarding wagons of Franklin Macgeagh & Co. discovered today that they had no legal right to protect vehicles which were under the supervision of the United States court. The wagons had been placarded with the United States court injunction and had been taken from the company's west side barn to its down town establishment. They were loaded when orders came from the city hall to withdraw the police protection unless the injunction placards came off.

The wagons were unloaded and taken back to the barn. In order to comply with the technicalities of the law, the injunction notices had to be removed within the barn enclosure, and after this was done the wagons were escorted by the police back to the wholesale houses, where they were loaded a second time and then escorted to the railway stations.

To Call on President.

President Charles Dold of the Chicago Federation of Labor today appointed two committees, one to call on President Roosevelt and the other on Gov. Deneen and ask the two executives not to order troops to Chicago without first making a personal canvas of the strike situation. Members of the state board of arbitration are in Chicago to conduct an investigation of the strike by order of Gov. Deneen.

The attitude of the packers, which has been involved in some doubt, is now declared to be opposed to the extension of the strike to their teamsters. The packing companies will pursue their practice of conveying meat to their own distributing stations by union teamsters and selling from these stations to the boycotted firms as to any other customer. The boycotted firms will be promptly served, provided the packing companies are not asked to make direct deliveries.

CLAIRVOYANTS FOUND EASY MONEY IN BELLEVUE

Two Gypsies Duped Almost the Entire Servant Population of the Borough.

The Bellevue police have sent out a warning to residents of that borough, and two gypsy women, who are charged with taking money away from a large number of homes are being sought.

The women claim to be clairvoyants and have been operating in Bellevue for more than a week. They have been dealing entirely with the domestics in the residences at which they have called, and their appearance has always been made at the back doors. Their game was to first display some pretty bits of lace to catch the eye of the unsuspecting girls.

In a casual way these women would then ask the girls if they would not like to have their fortunes told, and from the reports gathered by the police most of the servant population of Bellevue was just waiting for a chance to give its money away for a "phoney peep" into the future. Prices ranged from $2 to $5, the latter figure being named first and being reduced only when occasion demanded. Some of the girls, regretting the loss of their money and realizing that they had been duped, reported to those employing them, and in this way the police learned of it.

ESCAPES FROM OFFICER.

Harry Burns Rushes Out of Central Station Under Eyes of Police.

Harry Burns, aged 20, escaped from Central police station last Wednesday while being taken from Magistrate Moke's office to the cell department. Burns was wanted for larceny and was arrested at the Center avenue station house. He was brought in a patrol wagon to the Central station for a hearing.

Policeman Charles Forbes was taking the prisoner from the magistrate's office to the cell department when Burns broke from the officer's grasp and darted out into Cherry alley. He ran and soon disappeared. Director Moore said the escape of Burns should have been avoided. It is thought the man will be captured soon.

Presbyteries Seek an Editor.

F. K. Ringsmith of Cedar Rapids, Ia., has been asked by the Presbyterian presbyteries of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, to become editor of the Bohemian paper to be published by the two presbyteries in connection with their foreign mission work. Mr. Ringsmith has a printing plant equipped with foreign type and it is expected that the presbyteries will buy this. This is the first move in establishing a rival Presbyterian publishing house.

Whisky Bottle a Dangerous Missle.

During a drunken quarrel in Second avenue, Homestead, early yesterday morning, an empty quart whisky bottle was thrown through a window in the home of Paul Monark and broke against the head of a bed in which two small children were sleeping, fragments of glass being scattered all over them. John Herman, Frank Smith and Mike Meligro were placed under arrest and Burgess Ross fined them $5 and costs each.

M. & M. MEMBERS IN OIL REGION

Receive Warm Greetings at the Different Towns and Tionesta Is Good Customer.

BUSY PROGRAM FOR TODAY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM FRANK JENKS, Staff Correspondent.

WARREN, PA., May 2.—At least 35,000 persons were made acquainted today with the aims and objects of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Pittsburgh, and in many cases the personality of six-score of its members. The towns visited today, Franklin, Oil City, Tionesta, Tidioute and Warren, have at least 35,000 inhabitants, and a territory containing inhabitants to several times that number, is tributary to them.

The reception here, the last stop for the day, was most cordial. Owing to a false report that the train was late, the only official at the station was the burgess, Dr. W. S. Pierce. His cordial welcome more than atoned for the error, and a warm response was made by President E. J. Lloyd of the Merchants and Manufacturers. The party took street cars to the heart of the business section where the reception committee, composed of B. G. Gregory, chairman; A. A. Printz, C. E. Metzger, H. G. Stilwell, Charles H. Smith, G. E. Giddons, G. H. Mott, M. M. Dunham, J. E. Blair, P. E. Fehlman, Benjamin Greenland, A. L. Shellhamer, S. E. Walker and W. D. McLaren, warmly greeted the guests.

Visit Business Men.

The latter spent the time between 5 and 8:30 p. m., in visiting business men and viewing the many handsome buildings of the city, among which is the Warren high school, built seven years ago, at a cost of $90,000. The evening was spent at the headquarters of the Elks, where the visitors were entertained by the business men of Warren. One of the speakers was the Rev. Mr. Gongaware, who has accepted a call to the First Lutheran church of Pittsburgh, and he was naturally interested in the representatives of the city in which he hopes to make his residence for years to come. Another local speaker of more than usual ability was B. G. Gregory. The members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association explained the benefits to be derived from a closer business alliance with Pittsburgh, and their arguments appeared to be convincing. Robert B. Hapgood of Bradford, secretary of the State Editorial association, dropped in to greet the Pittsburghers, and made a few pleasant remarks.

The excursionists left Meadville this morning and reached Franklin at 10 o'clock. There was no official reception committee here and the tourists spent an hour visiting their business friends.

Roses for the Visitors.

The next stop was at Oil City. Here the train was boarded by messengers carrying large boxes of magnificent freshly-cut roses, the gift of the local business men. As soon as the trade tourists stepped on the platform they were greeted by this reception committee, appointed by the Oil City Business Men's exchange: Robert Moore, Harvey Fritz, W. H. Hirst, Jacob Simon, Charles L. Smith, William Flinger and Samuel McCuen.

Two very busy hours were spent in Oil City, and when the hustlers returned to the train they were ready for lunch. Tionesta was reached at 1:50 p. m. and three-quarters of an hour was spent here with good results, one Pittsburgh concern securing an order for coal that will repay many times the cost of the trip for its representative. The reception committee here was composed of Chairman Dr. J. C. Dunn, William Smearbaugh, I. J. Hopkins, A. B. Kelly, George Robinson, J. H. Wenke, J. C. Muse, I. Fulton and James B. Davis.

At Tidioute the train was met by Burgess George Downing, and 45 minutes were spent in interviewing the merchants. From here the train came to Warren.

Tomorrow will be a busy time for the Merchants and Manufacturers, as the trade extension excursion will visit Kane, Johnsonburg, Ridgway, St. Marys, Dubois and Punxsutawney, returning to Dubois to spend the night.

WEST PENN PASSENGERS HAVE A NARROW ESCAPE

Blairsville Accommodation in a Collision at Ross Station, but No Serious Damage Is Done.

Passengers on the Blairsville accommodation, leaving Allegheny on the West Penn railroad at 10:30 o'clock last night, narrowly escaped death at Ross station, when the accommodation ran into the rear end of a freight train. The freight train was backing on the west-bound track, and a switch which had been left open ran the rear car of the freight train over on to the east-bound track just as the passenger train arrived.

Three gondola cars filled with pipe were knocked from the track, but the passenger engine did not leave the rails. It shot 50 yards beyond the switch before Engineer J. E. Lambaugh brought it to a stop. Beyond the breaking of several windows, the passenger cars were not damaged. The third car, a baggage coach, was derailed.

Charles Stiz, an engineer, who was making the run with Lambaugh, was sitting on the fireman's seat. He was knocked to the floor of the cab unconscious and his right arm was painfully bruised and cut. He soon revived. The passengers were severely shaken up, but no one was injured. The track was cleared at 1:30 o'clock, the baggage car replaced and the accommodation train resumed its run.

SONG AND PIANO RECITAL BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE

Miss Mary I. Johnston, pianist, and Adrian E. Freni, baritone, gave a song and piano recital at the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music, in Dithridge street, last evening before an audience which filled every seat in the hall. Miss Johnston gave a performance of high musical worth and technical facility. Beveridge Webster supplied the orchestral parts on a second piano. Mr. Freni sang songs by Schubert, Ries, MacDowell and Chaminade.

New Hospital Club Organizes.

The Bellevue Hospital club was organized at the home of Mrs. Sophia Forter, in James street, Bellevue, yesterday, and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. S. Stephen Newburn; vice president, Mrs. L. M. Bulger; secretary, Mrs. Sophia Forter; treasurer, Mrs. William Martin. The club's prime object is to aid and work for the Suburban General hospital. There are about 25 charter members. An all-day sewing will be held next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Forter.

A Tired Stomach

Does not get much good for you out of what you eat, for it does not digest much—it is wasteful. It feels sore and lame and is easily distressed and often upset by food. The best treatment is a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla which is positively unequalled for all stomach troubles.

AMALGAMATED HAS DEPLETED PURSE

New Plans Are Being Devised to Secure Strike Funds—Convention Opens.

HITCH IN SCALE COMMITTEE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DETROIT, MICH., May 2.—The real work of the convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers began this morning when the committee on credentials, appointed early in the day, met with some contests of seats from sub-lodges which have not paid their dues to the association. The number is said to be exceptionally large this year. Until all these contests are settled, there will be little work accomplished by the convention as a whole, although in the meantime, there is much committee work being done.

The convention opened with a brief address of welcome by Mayor Codd, and as equally a brief reply by President Shaffer. Before that the credentials committee had been appointed as well as the announcement made of the members of the other committees. This afternoon the convention was not able to get as far as a permanent organization. One of the most surprising developments came when Secretary-Treasurer John Williams reported that the sum in the treasury had dropped from $125,000 last year to $75,000 this year, due to the enormous drain which the strikes of this year having placed on the resources of the association, despite the general assessments. Over $70,000 has been paid out in strike benefits at Youngstown, Girard and Greenville alone and to meet these conditions new assessment plans to increase the funds in the treasury are proposed. Nearly $10,000 a week is still being paid out. One plan suggested is to assess ½ per cent when from 100 to 500 men are on strike and up to 5 per cent for 5,000 men on all those who are working.

The wage committee, contrary to expectations did not complete its work this morning and the sessions were resumed this afternoon. There is said to be a serious disagreement over the puddling scale and the drafting of a special steel scale for finishing mills. The demand of the puddlers will be considered and made a higher base. All along the line there will be a demand for an increase in wages, and an effort will be made to re-establish the 1903-4 scale.

Despite the active campaign which is being made by the other candidates for the presidency of the association, President Shaffer has made no announcement of his candidacy. It is expected that in his report to the convention he will make a statement regarding his attitude toward the steel hoop strike, which he was charged with not pushing as hard as he should. It is believed he will bid for re-election.

Following are the names of the members of the committees selected:

Contested seats—William Gibson, chairman; William Young, Fred Wilians, John G. Hagan, E. B. Lawrence, R. Fitzgerald, James Cadman, Jerry F. Wright, Walter Larkin, W. F. Yohe, Emanuel Gallager, Joseph Grandidier, Edward W. Jones and Harry Griffith.

INDICTMENTS ASSURED IN BEEF TRUST CASES

Former Stenographer Declares She Expects to Testify at Trial of the Meet Packers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—One or more men in the beef industry will be indicted by the federal grand jury that is to investigate that business, according to a woman witness who left the grand jury room several days ago with an understanding that she would be recalled "for trial." She is Mrs. Mary E. Marcy of Kansas City, formerly a stenographer for the Armour company and later for the Swift concern. Mrs. Marcy declined to make known the nature of her disclosures before the grand jury, but said:

"I got hold of two things which will make the packers jump when they find out that the grand jury has them. I had to promise to keep still about what I told the grand jury, but I can tell them at the trial. They said I would have to come back and testify when they have the trials."

"Then your testimony will help cause indictments?" she was asked.

"I suppose so. That seemed to be what they expected," replied Mrs. Marcy.

The grand jury today resumed its investigation after an intermission of five days.

Refuses to Prosecute His Wife.

Mrs. Agastino Lomonoco, an Italian, who left Cincinnati a month ago with Pasquale Ventriglia and came to this city where she was arrested, was arraigned for a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Moke and discharged, as her husband refused to appear against her. When the woman deserted her husband and child, she is said to have taken $500 of her husband's money. The husband refused to prosecute, because the wife said she would not live with him again, no matter what course he pursued.

Two Alleged Burglars Caught.

NEW YORK, May 2.—After a hard fight, three policemen today arrested and charged with burglary a man who said he was William D. Davenport, an employe of the United States mint in San Francisco. Davenport, who wore fashionable clothes, was captured with another man in the hallway of a manufacturing building in Sixth avenue. The police charge they were trying to break into the building. Both men drew revolvers and threatened to shoot, but were knocked down before they could do so.

NEW PROCESS FOR CRUCIBLE STEEL

CLAIM MUCH IMPROVEMENT

With no ostentation of any kind, an industry has been established on the outskirts of Latrobe, the very principle of which seems to promise a revolution in the manufacture of crucible steel. For one month a plant with a capacity of 18 tons of tool steel daily, has been in regular operation there. Its product has been tested by the various scientific methods and by actual use in some of the largest industries using machine tools, etc., in Pittsburgh and other parts of Western Pennsylvania. The outcome of the tests is claimed to have been most satisfactory in every case and some large orders have been booked.

For the new process of making steel there is claimed economy of large proportions. Perhaps the greatest economy is in the uniformity of ingot as it is cast from the crucible—solid from end to end, entirely without the "pipe" which is the bugbear of the older methods, and capable, by the variations in the "mix," of being made comparatively soft or very hard, steel of 190 carbon having been produced. Another economy is claimed for the simplicity of the "mix."

The men who are behind the industry are men whose whole lives have been spent in the manufacture of tool steel, and who are well known in that branch of the steel business here.

Headed by Bole and Burns.

The company is called the Burns Uniform Steel & Metallic company. Its president is Daniel J. Bole, and its manager is James Burns. Mr. Bole, who is a common councilman from the Nineteenth ward of Pittsburgh, was for over eight years connected with the Cambria Steel company at Johnstown. For 16 years he was with the Park Bros. steel works, absorbed by the Crucible Steel company of America, and with the Crucible company at the old Howe-Brown works at Sixteenth street, now abandoned. Mr. Burns has been in the steel business for 40 years and for 35 years has been in the Pittsburgh district, having been connected with the Anderson-DuPuy and Verona Tool works for some years and with other prominent steel concerns here at other times.

The company's foundation is laid on the patents, secret processes and methods devised by Mr. Burns. The new process varies from the old, first in the materials which are used in the "mix," in the arrangements of the melting floor and in the secret "flux" which is used.

It is claimed that the difference in the results of the new methods from those obtained in the old process, are remarkable. Uniformity of the ingot from end to end, eliminating the great waste due to the variations in different parts of the same ingot made by the older process, is a large claim.

Company Formed Three Years Ago.

It is said that in a crucible of steel made by the older methods there always existed certain elements which could not be brought into entire uniformity. The heavier elements sank to the bottom of the crucible while the lighter ones rose to the top. When the crucible was drawn and the mold was filled the lighter elements were the first to be poured, while the heavier were poured last and were therefore on the top in the mold. The result was the sinking of the heavy top of the molten ingot part way through the mold, forming a hole like the hollow of a piece of pipe—sometimes an inch in diameter. This sinking was stopped only by the hardening of the metal as it cooled. In the new process the mixture in the crucible being thoroughly uniform throughout, there is no such action, and the top of the ingot is as solid as the bottom. It gives a uniform analysis throughout its length.

The company was chartered three years ago. The plant was under construction for more than a year. A 20-acre site was secured with a frontage on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, just east of Latrobe, and two switches have been run from the through tracks to the plant. Water, coal and coke, as well as natural gas, are had at low cost. The plant as erected contains a "mix" room, a boiler house, a melting floor, built along improved lines; heating furnaces and three large hammers, with two more to be added shortly. It has also the usual warehouse, scrap shed, etc. An investment of about $80,000 has been made in the plant alone.

The company is capitalized at $200,000, of which about $170,000 has been issued. A bond issue of $25,000 has also been authorized.

HOLD SHORT SESSION.

Pittsburgh Presbytery Adjourns Early After Acting Upon Business of a Routine Nature.

Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church held a short session in the Sixth church, Forbes and Murray street, yesterday, adjourning shortly after noon to attend the inauguration services of the Rev. Dr. David Gregg as president of the Western Theological seminary. The Rev. Dr. W. R. Farmer was moderator and the Rev. Dr. Charles S. McClelland stated clerk.

The congregation of the Coal Bluff church was cited to appear at the June meeting of presbytery to show cause why it should not be dissolved, services in the church having ceased.

Licentiate M. P. Spargrove was dismissed to the Iowa presbytery and the Rev. H. B. Hummell was released from the Park Avenue church at his request, owing to illness. The Rev. D. P. McQuarrie was accepted to the pulpits of the Apple Avenue and Lincoln Place churches and the call of the Rev. D. H. McKee to the McCandless Avenue church, at a salary of $1,100, was approved. The report of Treasurer William C. Lilley was read and approved.

SEVEN CASES OF SPOTTED FEVER AT MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL

Another "spotted fever" case was found yesterday. The patient's name is Margaret McGuire, and she was found ill in Sixth street. It is said she has been ill for several days. City Physician Booth had her sent to the Municipal hospital, where there are now seven persons under treatment for "spotted fever."

Marion Ivell as Carmen.

One of the prime favorites of the Savage English Grand Opera Company during its season here last year was Marion Ivell, the deep-throated contralto, who created such a favorable impression with her brilliant portrayal of the role of Carmen. Miss Ivell is the youngest prima donna contralto singing grand opera in English. Mr. Savage heard her in Paris three seasons ago, when raking Europe for singers for his season of grand opera in English at the Metropolitan opera house. Miss Ivell was completing her study under Sbriglia, the teacher of Pol Plancon, the DeReszkes and other famous artists.

Pure Food Commission to Get Busy.

Many suits are threatened against butter dealers who violate the oleomargarine law in this county, following the decision of the state supreme court that the oleomargarine act of 1901 is constitutional. Attorney Harry W. McIntosh, who represents the pure food commission in this county, yesterday said the commission is greatly pleased with the decision, as many cases depended on the outcome of the case brought to test the act.

Tweedell Held for Robbery.

John Tweedell was given a hearing at No. 6 police station yesterday on charges of robbing the salon of Patrick Dunn, at 364 Frankstown avenue, and the jewelry store of D. D. Ring, 142 Frankstown avenue, and held for trial at court by Magistrate Negley. Tweedell is alleged to have implicated Albert Redpath, aged 22, in the robberies. Redpath was arrested and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse.

MIDNIGHT MESSAGE TO BE FLASHED AROUND WORLD

Delegates Are Arriving at Washington for the International Railway Congress—George Westinghouse to Make an Address.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Five hundred delegates, most of them from foreign countries, arrived in Washington from Philadelphia tonight to take part in the international railway congress, which will be formally opened at the New Willard hotel next Thursday.

The event most interesting to the general public during this week will be the opening of the railway appliance exhibition which takes place on the Washington monument grounds at noon tomorrow. This exhibit is held in connection with the congress and will serve in illustrating advanced railroading in all countries.

G. A. Post, chairman of the exhibition, announced tonight that the preparations for the formal opening tomorrow had been completed. The exercises will be witnessed by a large gathering of invited guests, including members of the cabinet, the supreme court and officers of the district government. The program includes addresses by Secretary Taft, who will represent the president; Secretary Morton, Mr. Post, George Westinghouse and Stuyvesant Fish, chairman of the American section of the railway congress, and District Commissioner MacFarland.

One of the most important features of the exhibit will take place at midnight tomorrow, when, with the assistance of the officials of the naval observatory, a time signal will be flashed around the world and its progress will be watched on a gigantic map on the exhibition grounds. This map is 22x40 feet in size and was prepared in the hydrographic office of the navy department. It shows the entire world, the principal cities being marked by red electric lights. At 11:15 tomorrow night the wires on all telegraph lines throughout the world, in the line of communication, will be thrown into a circuit and an operator at the naval observatory will give the signal here at midnight. As the signal reaches each of the cities shown on the map the red lamp showing its location will burn. The signals will be sent in accordance with the system by which noon signals are sent throughout the United States, and it is expected that the circuit will be completed within a very short time after the first signal is sent here. The signal will travel all the way around the world and a return signal be given to this city. The foreign delegates to the international congress who will attend the exhibition will have the unique experience of seeing a signal flash from their native countries on a board thousands of miles away.

President Roosevelt will arrive in Washington before the congress adjourns and arrangements are now being made for an address by him on May 13. The president realizes the importance of this gathering in Washington and his desire to meet the practical railway men of the world before the congress adjourns was one of the reasons that induced him to change his plan and cut his hunting trip short.

POLICE LOOKING FOR A HAIR STEALING FIEND

Ethel Daud of Allegheny Had a Hair-raising Experience at a Circus Monday Night.

The Allegheny police yesterday endeavored to discover the identity of a man said to be an attache of Pawnee Bill's show, who cut the hair from the head of Ethel Doud, the 14-year-old daughter of Charles Doud of 1421 Laurel street, on Monday night. With some companions the Doud girl attended the show at Recreation park. The abundance of the girl's hair was a feature of her appearance that attracted attention everywhere. Dark brown and of fine texture, it hung in two heavy braids almost to her knees.

A man wearing blue trousers, with a white strap down the sides, and a khaki jacket, approached the girl and tried to persuade her to enter a tent. The girl refused and started away, having no wish to converse with the stranger. The latter followed her and with a pair of long scissors tried to cut the braids of hair close to the scalp. The girl struggled and, evidently fearing to attract attention, the man made such haste that he bungled and succeeded in getting less than half of the little girl's locks. He disappeared at once and Ethel went home and told of her experience. Supt. John Glenn was notified yesterday and started to look for the man. The girl was taken to the circus grounds, but could not identify anyone there, as the person who stole her hair.

Less than a week ago a girl in passing along a street in the hill district, this city, at night, was approached by a man who with a pair of scissors snipped off the long braid in which she wore a fine head of hair.

AUTOMOBILIST TO BE SUED TODAY BY CITY

Club Selects Member as Defendant in Test Case—Treasurer Refuses $3 Fee.

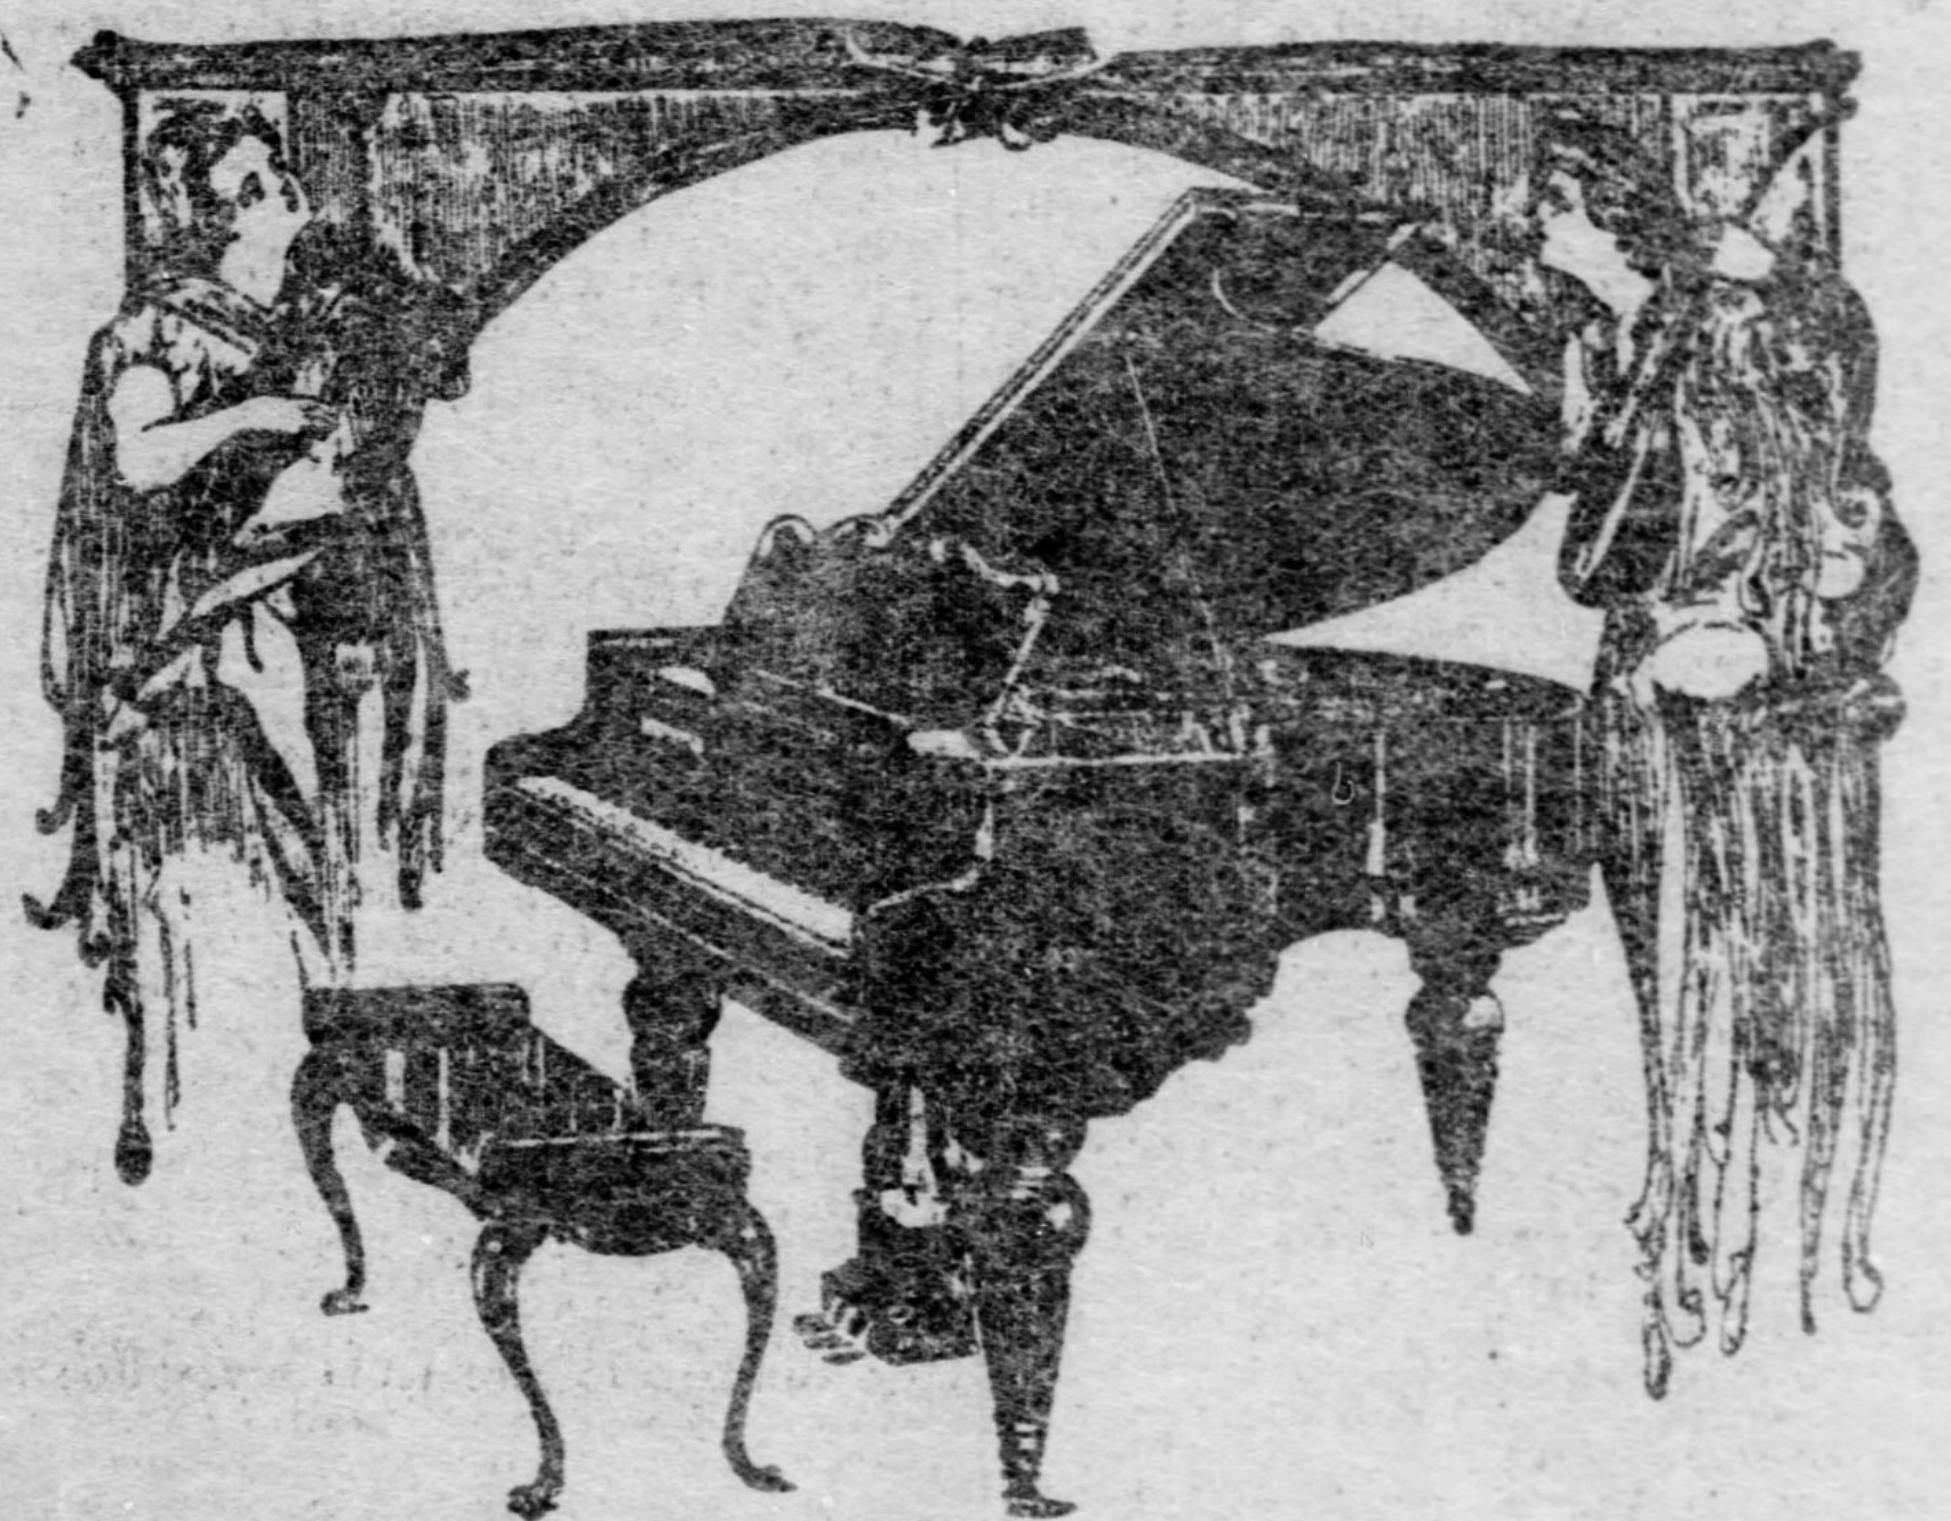
Information will be made this morning against Dr. J. A. Hawkins by Ordinance Officer Livingstone for refusal to pay the license imposed by a recently-passed ordinance by the city councils. By it a license fee of $6 for one-seated autos, and $10 for those of more than one seat is exacted. To this is added 50 cents on account of delinquency.

Dr. Hawkins is an official of the Automobile club and takes a deep interest in all matters pertaining to automobiling. He was selected by Attorney James Francis Burke, who represents the club, for the test case. Dr. Hawkins will be given an immediate hearing before Magistrate Moke, and if the decision is against him the case will be taken up to the higher courts.

Congressman Burke holds that the license fee of $3 imposed by act of the assembly, now in force, is all that can be exacted. He had a tender made yesterday to the city treasurer of this sum and it was refused, and the proceedings against Dr. Hawkins was then decided upon. City Solicitor Rodgers and his assistant, T. D. Carnahan, considered the legal aspect of the case till yesterday morning, and then reached the decision that the city license fee must be paid.

Al H. Wilson Coming.

Al. H. Wilson, the golden-voiced singer and German dialect comedian, is to be at the Duquesne theater all next week in his successful production, "The Watch on the Rhine." The story, while simple, is sufficiently engaging to answer the purpose of light entertainment, and to furnish Mr. Wilson the opportunity to voice some half a dozen or so of his songs, which are very popular.



The Chickering Quarter Grand.

So beautiful in its lines, so exquisite in its tones, is the Chickering Quarter Grand that it has been most aptly called "The Bride's Piano." The evolution of its production by Chickering & Sons revolutionized piano building.

The immediate and widespread popularity of the Chickering Quarter Grand started every manufacturer in the country to try to imitate it; and many pianos of "upright quality" are now sold in small grand cases. The most distinguished competitor has acknowledged complete failure.

The Chickering Quarter Grand stands absolutely alone. Price $650.

LAST OF SALARY RAISING BILLS

Finance Committee Grants Few Increases, but the Door Is Now Closed.

MOORE'S ORDINANCE HELD UP

The last of the salary increases to be granted under the present city administration, according to the decree of Director Bigelow, and indorsed by Mayor Hays, were approved yesterday afternoon by the finance committee of councils. The committee voted to recommend affirmatively ordinances raising the salaries of the elevator operators in the public safety building each from $50 to $60 a month, to put them on an equal footing with the city hall operators, and also approved an increase of $60 to $75 a month in the salary of the messenger in the general office of the department of public safety.

An ordinance creating the position of examining physician at $1,200 a year and resident clerk at Marshalsea, at a salary of $50 a month, both in the department of charities, was also recommended. This closes the door to all salary applicants until Greater Pittsburgh becomes a fact, when Director Bigelow anticipates there will be a general revision of salaries.

Among the applicants recently turned down were clerks in the mayor's office and employes in the department of public works. Director Bigelow said that if one favor was shown there would be a general rush on the part of the payroll to get more money.

Boiler Inspectors Without Power.

The assessors' clerks wanted higher salaries and the assessors themselves each wanted an increase of $500 a year. The increases granted yesterday by the finance committee were allowed because the applications have been long pending in councils and they are granted to correct inequalities.

The ordinance creating the positions of boiler inspector at $2,000 a year and assistant boiler inspector at $1,500, with an additional appropriation of $1,000 for expenses, was sidetracked yesterday, the finance committee holding it over until the next meeting to hear protests from the organization of stationary engineers. The ordinance is not what it implies. The boiler inspector and his assistant are not to inspect boilers, as commonly supposed, but are simply to issue licenses to engineers.

According to Director Moore, at whose instance the bill was introduced, the boiler inspectors will have no power to inspect boilers or to remove boilers under sidewalks, which are a source of great danger in many spots downtown, and have been the cause of complaints for years.

Knowles' Bills Approved.

The committee rescinded its action of the previous meeting and approved three bills presented by Morris Knowles, chief engineer of the bureau of filtration, Controller Larkin having refused the payment of these bills. One is for $250 to the Baker Office Furniture Company for office furniture, without advertising, and the other each amount to $108 for advertising for bids on the filtration contracts in the Engineering News and Engineering Record, without the authority of the city controller.

The finance committee also approved a resolution authorizing the payment of $5,197 to M. F. Howley for extra work in grading a road in Schenley park; an ordinance for the purchase of a lot to add to Highland park for $2,000, and transferring $3,500 from the McKinley park fund to the general park fund.

The committee of public works did not get a quorum. The committee on surveys approved ordinances changing the names of many streets in the Thirty-ninth ward, for the opening of Tilbury, Nicholson, Phillips and Hamilton avenues, the last named from Hale to Oakwood street.

USUAL LIBERAL DIVIDEND.

Monongahela Water Co. Finds Itself in a Most Prosperous Condition.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Monongahela Water Company was held yesterday, and the report of the board of managers showed that the company is in an exceedingly prosperous condition. The usual dividend of 8 per cent was declared.

Mark W. Watson, who has been president for many years, was re-elected, and the board of managers was re-elected as follows: B. F. Jones, Jr., Joseph G. Walter, John Moorhead, Jr., A. W. Mellon, John R. McGinley, James W. Scully, Albert Ernwein and J. D. Lyon. The manager's report showed that four miles of pipe was laid during the preceding 12 months, and the company now has a little less than 150 miles of pipe. The total number of services supplied to date is 15,000.

JUDGES' LETTER TO BE ANSWERED

Lazear & Orr Will File Brief to Show Legality of Tax Revision Act.

SAY IT IS A STATE OFFICE

The letter of Judge McClung to the county commissioners, asking for light on the subject of the constitutionality of the act recently passed by the legislature creating a board for the assessment and revision of taxes in counties of from 300,000 to 1,000,000 population, will not go unanswered. Attorneys T. C. Lazear, J. Bruce Orr and C. P. Orr are preparing a brief on the subject, and will present it to the judges in a few days.

Mr. Lazear, who is one of the best posted constitutional lawyers in the state, says the act is constitutional, and will unquestionably stand. His brief will reinforce the opinions of City Solicitor Rodgers, who passed upon the act before it was presented to the legislature, and who declared it constitutional; that of Attorney General Carson, who also declared it a valid act; that of Senator Woods, its sponsor, and that of Gov. Pennypacker, as good a lawyer as any in the state.

J. Bruce Orr, who is preparing the brief with the assistance of Mr. Lazear, says the new law is parallel with the act creating a county engineer and much similar to the acts creating county solicitors, county road supervisor and other county offices which are appointive and ministerial in their effect, rather than county offices. The office created under the act in controversy, these attorneys claim, is rather a state than a county office, and the courts cannot declare it unconstitutional without at the same time declaring a number of appointive offices in the county are being operated illegally, and are void for the same reasons as given in the argument that the act creating the board of tax revision is unconstitutional.

The act at the outset has incorporated in it a section declaring it to be a state office rather than a county office. If not a county office, and the duties being ministerial rather than official, the act is not unconstitutional.

The law firm is said to be acting solely in the interest of the legislation, and if it represents a client will not give his name. After filing the brief, if the court desires, Messrs. Lazear or Orr will argue the matter. They will probably be opposed by Attorney C. C. Dickey, who first raised the point that the act was unconstitutional and called the courts' attention to the same. Mr. Dickey is only interested as a property-holder and taxpayer. It is probable that, if the act is declared unconstitutional in the lower court, it will be appealed if the candidates are willing to stand the expense of an appeal, without having to pay fees.

The brief is said to be a voluminous one, and will cover the case thoroughly. No date has been fixed for a hearing, and probably will not be until Judge McClung is handed the brief.

TO WORK WITHOUT A SCALE.

Journeymen Carpenters Are Not Expected to Sign an Agreement.

The trouble between the master builders and the journeymen carpenters is a closed incident. It was agreed Monday night that the men shall be permitted to return to work pending a settlement. Yesterday it was decided the men should work without any agreement. The master builders was ordered by the Builders Exchange league to force the workmen to sign an agreement to expire December 31 and contain the "open shop" clause. The action of the master builders indicates the men have won the fight, which has been waged since the first of the year.

It is expected the master plumbers will agree to permit the journeymen plumbers to return to work without an agreement. The plumbers are making the same fight as did the carpenters, and as the carpenters won out, the plumbers expect the same result. When the plumbers reach a settlement all the building trades will be at peace with the employers until next January, when several scales expire.

Found Boys Well Armed.

John Mistaski, aged 14, of 3323 Melwood avenue, and Patrick Cavanaugh, aged 16, of Twenty-third street, were held for the juvenile court by Magistrate Kirby yesterday. The boys were arrested in Twenty-eighth street as suspicious persons. When searched each had a bunch of keys. Cavanaugh had two handy-billies and Mistaski a knife and several candles.

In managing many estates the Safe Deposit and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street, can do so with an economy not possible to individual trustees.

$10,000 Worth of Fine White Waists at Manufacturers' Prices.

We Bought Them at a Dissolution Sale.

Great good news of today. Our only regret is there are not half as many as we would like. Of course you must have the story, Do us the favor to follow:

A New York firm heretofore making our finest waists concluded to dissolve. In winding up the business their favorite customers were favored with an invitation to choose Waists in up-to-the-hour styles at practically their own prices. We took all we could lay our hands on, and they will be ready tomorrow at these prices:

$1.00 for Waists made to retail for $1.50 and $1.75.
$1.35 for Waists made to retail for $2.25 and $2.50.
$1.85 for Waists made to retail for $3.00.
$2.25 for Waists made to retail for $3.75.
$3.75 for Waists made to retail for $7.50.
$4.50 for Waists made to retail for $8.00 and $10.00.

While selecting these waists a member of the firm said to our representative: "We favor you because no other store in Pittsburgh could sell the quantity, neither could any store sell the same quality."

You can readily understand in a sale of such magnitude and under such conditions, there are but two or three of a pattern, but taking the innumerable patterns together there is a broad range from which to choose. All sizes.

The Materials— Chiffon lawn, French lawn, French batiste, French muslin, French organdie, pretty madras, dotted swiss and the intensely popular handkerchief linen.

The Trimmings— German Val. lace Point de Gene lace, Irish Point lace, Venise lace, English embroidery. All-Over embroidery, and blind embroidery.

Good Books For Next to Nothing Prices.

Continuation of the Sale of Bankrupt Stock.

Again today we will sell books for the smallest of prices, in some cases one-eighth of publishers' regular prices. On Friday evening last, when we announced the sale of the first, we told you how we had bought them—through a receiver's sale by means of which the stock of two great publishing houses, The Abbey Press of New York and the Lothrop Co. of Boston, were disposed of.

There is not only good fiction by late authors, but plenty of books of more solid character—many of them illustrated.

50c to $1.25 Books will be sold for 15c.
75c to $1.50 Books will be sold for 25c.
$1.25 to $1.50 Books will be sold for 35c.
$1.50 to $4.00 Books will be sold for 50c.

We mention a few from the hundreds of good authors represented—

Wednesday, May 3, 1905.

The city loses one of its leading citizens by the death of Charles E. Speer, president of the First National bank. Mr. Speer has been in ill health for some months, and last night the end came. A man of strong character and varied activity, his munificence in behalf of social and religious interests which appealed to him was as marked as his aversion to any public notice of his actions. He took a prominent part in the affairs of the First Presbyterian church, which owes much to his devotion to its interests.

A decision has been rendered by the supreme court sustaining the last state enactment regulating the sale of oleomargarine. The court holds the power of the state is ample to impose such restrictions. It is well this should be so. The present law simply prohibits the sale of oleo under any disguise and forbids artificial coloring. The white oleomargarine is more palatable and more wholesome than the colored articles, and will sell on its merits in ever increasing quantities as a cheap substitute for butter. There is no good reason why the manufacturers or dealers should struggle for any other conditions, though they may complain of the injustice of permitting butter makers to use coloring matter that adds nothing but expense to their product.

"Sam" Fessenden, who has had his eyes on the United States senatorship from Connecticut for many years, has declined to be a candidate to succeed the late Senator Platt. He was defeated by Morgan G. Bulkeley when Senator Hawley retired, so his opportunity seemed to have come when the senior senator died. He was a member of the legislature, prepared to work for his election among associates, so his decision to "quit" is all the more surprising. So far he has had the reputation for bulldog tenacity, which was illustrated by his famous message to the late J. H. Manley when the latter deserted Reed as a candidate for the presidency that "God hates a quitter." Fessenden's retirement, if adhered to, will probably elect Former Governor George P. McLean.

Admiral Dewey entertained 24 survivors of the battle of Manila bay on the seventh anniversary of that naval combat last Monday. In spite of the weakness of his foe Admiral Dewey demonstrated the effectiveness of a modern navy owned by a comparatively new power. In the few years that have elapsed since, another military power has demanded the attention of those who build navies, and Manila bay is almost obscured by the lessons the Japanese are teaching in the use of armament. But, like other historic battles, Manila bay will remain conspicuous for the exhibition of bravery in assaulting an enemy whose strength was only conjectured, and of the superiority of the men who were ready over those who had defective weapons and did not know how to use them.

Among the bills approved by Gov. Pennypacker yesterday is one providing for the establishment of a state constabulary. This is a measure which has long been championed by The Gazette, and was included by the governor among the recommendations of his last message. The bill had much opposition to encounter, but was finally passed in the closing hours of the session. It provides for a force of four platoons of 50 men each, which is not large enough for such a large state as Pennsylvania, but it is at least a good beginning and experience of the benefits of police protection in the country districts will lead to the gradual extension of the system. A well organized state police force would greatly reduce crime and disorder and lighten the present work of the courts by its preventive influence. Other important bills signed yesterday relate to child labor and institute reforms which have been earnestly advocated by the child labor committee and other humane organizations.

The Harmony Conferences.

While we should be glad to see faction warfare ended and all Republicans brought into the party organization yet the failure of the recent harmony conferences afford matter for congratulation rather than regret, for their success upon the terms demanded would have implied acquiescence in the betrayal of solemn pledges given to the people and the continuance of a corrupt system against which public sentiment has revolted. The Citizens movement was started to destroy ring rule and especially the jobbery in municipal franchises. It is well known that it was perverted from its purposes, and was made the means of perpetuating ring rule and of carrying on a jobbery in franchises exceeding in shameless rapacity anything ever known before. The new ring which got into power upon the back of the Citizens movement has been worse in the very respects which led to the uprising against the old ring. Harmony as the result of a bargain which would have condoned this treachery and given recognition to the organization which perpetrated it could not have been of public benefit.

The Republican party organization is now relieved from any complicity in those practices, and by the changes in the rules of the city committee which were offered it has assumed a broad representative character, which makes it a fitting instrument for carrying out the reforms desired by the people. The Republican primaries in county affairs have always been open to all Republicans. The action of the city committee in shutting out Republicans who took part in the Citizens movement was a mistake, which The Gazette condemned at the time. The changes which were proposed during the harmony conferences should be promptly made as a matter of right, irrespective of the attitude of the Citizens organization. The fact, for instance, that a Republican may have voted for Controller Larkin at the last election should be no bar to his participation in the Republican city primaries as well as in the county primaries.

The Orphans, who represent the section of the original Citizens movement which has remained true to its principles, should be made to feel at home in the Republican party organization. All citizens who desire reform should feel that the Republican party is at their service and will be responsive to their influence. It is their duty to exert that influence. The only practical means of securing reform is by party action, and the only party organization through which the existing system of ring rule can be overthrown is the Republican party.

Philadelphia's Gas War.

Philadelphia has not been so stirred up for many a day as it now is over the proposition to extend the lease of the city gas plant for 75 years for a consideration of $25,000,000. A huge mass meeting is to be held in the famous Academy of Music tonight and other meetings have been called. The big mass meeting is to be followed on Thursday by a demonstration without precedent in Philadelphia history. Whistles are to be blown and bells rung for an hour preceding the time set for councils to meet, and the beginning of the noise will be the signal for citizens to form ranks and march from all quarters to the city hall.

Councilmen must be stolid to defy such an exhibition of popular indignation. It is probable the pending ordinance will not pass, at least not at the meeting on Thursday. Postponement may give anger time to cool and sentiment opportunity to wear out. The opposition to the lease hinges upon the fact that no provision is made for reduction in the price of gas, the belief being prevalent that 75 cents a thousand cubic feet would return an ample profit to the operating company. The proffered payment of $25,000,000 for the lease weighs little against this consideration.

Pittsburghers who have been accustomed to look on Philadelphia as a sleepy town and those persons farther away who have accepted the Steffens dictum that it is "corrupt and contented" may be surprised by the vehemence of the Quaker City protest. Yet it is a fact that Philadelphia fights more vigorously at all times for what it deems its rights than almost any other city in the country. There is a fine contrast between the Quaker uprising against a 75-year lease at $25,000,000 and the apathy with which Pittsburgh watched its councils strike out the offered compensation from valuable franchise ordinances. The difference is worth pondering before throwing verbal stones at "the corrupt machine control" of Philadelphia—a phrase worn thin by constant repetition.

Good Crop Reports.

By way of contrast to the speculative markets the government crop report for April is of the most encouraging character. Winter wheat continues far above the average in condition, and the weather has been particularly favorable to oats. A portion of the cotton belt has been favored. Corn planting is delayed by low temperatures, but it is often the case that late planting of this great staple is followed by large yields. Frosts have caused damage in several sections, and the Pacific coast has been too cool for good growth, yet the average prospect is for a good crop year.

Some persons have an idea these matters are of interest to farmers and fruit growers only. In reality they vitally concern every citizen. The man in town who buys his provisions is really more affected by crop conditions than his cousin who tills the soil. It is a bad year, indeed, when the farmer does not have an abundance of food for himself and his family and some to sell. When he has little to sell it brings a high price and he realizes nearly as much as for the large surplus in the year of plenty. It is the man who buys that is hardest hit by the short crop.

Large crops are the basis of genuine prosperity. In the fat years there is plenty for all, and the lower prices for food leave something for the purchase of other things. Brisk trade in these "other things" makes the mill wheels turn. Distribution of large crops and the "other things" makes business for the transportation companies. Compared to the transactions in the wheat pit or about the stock posts the crops are infinitely more important, though there is usually a sympathetic connection between them. Crop dangers are by no means past, but while the reports continue favorable there is abundant reason for rejoicing.

Not an Enemy's Country.

Most cordial receptions have been accorded the Pittsburgh trade boomers on their tour through Western Pennsylvania. From New Castle to Meadville, on the first day out, the Merchants and Manufacturers' train was in a territory that has maintained close trade relations with Cleveland for many years. From Meadville to Warren the territory is within the "sphere of influence" of Buffalo, and the same is true of much of the territory to be covered beyond Warren. Yet everywhere the local business men extended the "glad hand" to the tourists, and the people of the towns made their coming the occasion for friendly demonstrations.

This large Pennsylvania territory has not sent its business to Cleveland or to Buffalo because it could get better terms in those places. The trade tides have not set north and west because the mercantile interests of Pennsylvania have been hostile to Pittsburgh. The custom of trading in New York and Ohio has grown up in that region simply because Cleveland and Buffalo took pains to make the Pennsylvania merchants understand they wanted their patronage. They have given cordial encouragement to every advance from the other side and have cultivated friendly relations.

Now that Pittsburgh has sent out this special train, as an evidence of their interest in the northern territory, it is met more than half way. Every Pennsylvanian, east or west, north or south, is proud of Pittsburgh. He may cherish the sentiment secretly in his heart, from motives of pride, but the sentiment is there. And when Pittsburgh avows an equal affection for him he is glad to show how he feels. No other Pittsburgh trade excursion will yield better returns than this one into the northern counties of Pennsylvania.

Traction Road Values.

The first of a series of conferences between Mayor Johnson of Cleveland and the president of the traction company was held Monday and no positive results were reached because the street railway magnate said that the mayor could not assure him of the support of the city council to any proposition that he made. Nevertheless the mayor made a distinct advance by presenting a definite estimate on the price of the lines, including the value of the rolling stock and the present value of the franchises, estimated on their annual earning power during the years they are to run. To this he added the value of the plant, which is now in running operation and managed by competent men. Even the critics of the administration admitted that the statement was business-like and estimated with a spirit of fairness, although they would not admit that it made sufficient allowance for the value of the road. But Johnson is an old street railroad owner and has had experience in preparing such estimates.

The Cleveland company owns 217 miles of track which, with the rolling stock, Mr. Johnson estimates to be worth about $12,000,000. From this he deducts the $9,000,000 in outstanding bonds. To the $3,000,000 balance he adds about $9,000,000, which he considers the present worth of the franchises, based on their earning power. Thus, for the stock amounting to $23,000,000 issued by the company, there is a value of about 50 per cent, plus what experts might decide the goodwill of a prospering concern to be worth. It is said that Mayor Dunne of Chicago considers the traction properties in that city to be worth one-third the value of their stock, so it will be seen that Mayor Johnson is the more conservative.

While the right to bear arms is guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, it will be well for Chicagoans and others to remember the right to use them is limited.

No attempt will be made to take the congressional committee up the Allegheny on a passenger boat for fear it might pass under the bridges without fouling.

Gen. Linevitch on Easter kissed each soldier in the line, yet the Russian has been charged with being a stolid, unemotional, undemonstrative creature.

When in May the poet warbles,
There is gladness in his rhyme;
He has reason to be joyous,
For it's apple-blossom time.

It has been found easier to change the printed invitations to the rivers and harbors committee than to alter the councilmanic arrangements.

When Gov. Pennypacker gets through the list the pamphlet laws of Pennsylvania will not make as large a volume as the legislature expected.

Citizens of Chicago have been officially warned by strike pickets to carry no parcels from the boycotted stores. Comment seems superfluous.

In the matter of the city and county superintendents of schools it has been unanimously decided that one good turn deserves another.

Once more the supreme court has declared restriction of the oleo trade according to the constitution and Hoyle.

James Knox Polk Hall will do as well as another for Democratic chairman during the feeble campaign this year.

While the legislators are resting from their labors the governor is hard at work cleaning up after them.

Mr. Bryan is waiting with what patience he may for an echo to his "back to the people" slogan.

Tom Watson plays no favorites when thumping Democrats.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Pretty Brooklyn school ma'ams say they're going to win in the fight over "equal pay for equal work," now being waged across the bridge. "We work as hard as the men. We have families to support, just like the men. Our work is equal to that of the men. Therefore, why shouldn't we receive as much money as the men?" is the way they put their case. One of the features of the fight is a contest over the presidency of the Teachers' association between Miss Louise Goessling and R. L. Cottrell. With Miss Goessling, whom all the women feel is just the woman for the place, at its head, the association, composed of 1,500 members, of whom 1,450 are women, will then work for the plan of placing salaries on a common basis when the same hours of labor and the same ability are demanded. Miss Goessling reluctantly talked over the situation at her school in Brooklyn today.

"We feel," she said, "that the solution of our particular problem here in Brooklyn will help other women in solving the same question in other professions. There is not a woman in this or any other profession that has not run against the salary question. The last thing that we would advocate is an equalization of salaries where equal ability is lacking. But the laborer is worthy of his hire, and so long as women do the same work, are exempt from no rule or duties, and while most of them have fathers, mothers, sisters or brothers dependent upon them, the money equivalent should be the same."

Trained Nurse Who Is Busy.

One trained nurse in New York at least there is who doesn't have to go to Manchuria to see active service on the firing line, and she is Miss Bessie Khronstamm, employed by Thompson & Dundy at their own expense to sew up broken bones, not to mention reviving fainting chorus girls at the big hippodrome. In her neat white uniform with the insignia of the Red Cross on her arm, Miss Khronstamm sits in a little office, just off the stage, through every performance waiting for patients. She doesn't have to wait long, either, sometimes, for a hurry call to come in, and grabbing her surgical kit, off she goes, never knowing what is in store for her. "Do the chorus girls suffer most from broken heads or broken hearts?" Miss Khronstamm was asked, and the nurse laughingly retorted that she didn't think that "they had hearts to break."

Better Than Bargain Counter Ruse.

Blue trading stamps never called out such a crowd of femininity as thronged the auction rooms of Floyd Grant, Broadway and Forty-seventh street, today when scores of dress suit cases, besides some 200 other pieces of baggage held for debt and storage at the Grand Union hotel, were sold to the highest bidder. It was better than playing the races, for with trunks going at 50, 75 cents and $1, a woman was getting the worth of her money in any event, and then there was the chance of finding a solid silver tea service, a diamond necklace or some other similar trifle inside. To be sure, it was a 100 to 1 shot, but the women took the chance every time, and the things they drew were sometimes shocking to the buyer.

Modjeska Benefit Big Success.

Ten thousand dollars was received at the box office at the Modjeska benefit at the Metropolitan opera house before the opening this afternoon. Crowds of fashionably-gowned women stormed the box office, and owing to the fact that there was an insufficient detail of police in charge, scenes of great confusion followed. Prominent actresses swelled the fund by selling candy and flowers and a lunch counter erected on the grand tier floor in Thirty-ninth street side, which was opened from 1 to 3 o'clock, did a land office business. Each of the various committees—flowers, candy, program and luncheon—cleared anywhere from $200 to $1,000 during the performance.

Old Mayflower Stuck in Mud.

After three days of continued anxiety it was discovered early today that the yacht Mayflower, which successfully defended the America's cup in 1886, is aground in the "Horseshoe" off Sandy Hook, and that all the members of the party on board are safe. The fact that the party did not take with them provisions for more than one day was the cause for a great deal of concern. The yacht left its mooring in South Brooklyn on Sunday afternoon for a sail down the bay and no tidings were heard of it until today, when Mrs. E. B. Malley, the mother of Miss Edna Bertin, one of the party, received a message that the boat was grounded and that all the members of the party were safe. A tug was sent to the rescue.

Dangers of the City Streets.

Swaying from side to side a runaway team of horses attached to a heavy truck dashed from the Brooklyn end of the new Williamsburg bridge early today and along Metropolitan avenue, scattering pedestrians right and left. Several children were knocked down and injured, and two or three other horses, frightened by the frenzied dash of the team, took their bits between their teeth and ran away also. At Metropolitan and Driggs avenues, 10 blocks from the bridge, the team took to the sidewalk and, striking a fire hydrant, broke it completely off at the base, causing the water to spout in the air. The horses were finally caught.

Sleep Walker Falls to Death.

While walking in his sleep, it is supposed, Irving Fuller fell early today from the window of his room on the fourth floor to the bottom of an areaway 50 feet below, and was killed. A friend lodging on the same floor went into his room, found him gone and his clothes in the room. Knowing that he sometimes walked in his sleep, Fuller's friend looked out of the window and saw the man's body, clad in pajamas, huddled at the bottom of the areaway.

Paderewski Must Take Long Rest.

Ignace Paderewski, the pianist, arrived here from Boston today, and, accompanied by his doctor, went to the Hotel Manhattan. Dr. Francis E. Fronczak issued the following statement: "In answer to many queries regarding Mr. Paderewski's condition I will say that he is improving, although quite nervous and in need of rest after the fatiguing journey from Boston. Mr. Paderewski must take rest for some time."

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

No, it wasn't Lorenzo Dow who wrote "Patent Sermons," but Elbridge G. Paige under the name of "Dow, Jr."

In spite of haste to make this correction, a reader away down the river at Sistersville called the turn before our apology could be printed.

In this fast age you can't afford to make mistakes. If you do some fellow is bound to pick you up.

Not long ago a man of the world was complaining that there were no places where a Pittsburgher can go and have a hot old time without being recognized by some one who had known him at home, gone to school with him or played in the same ball club.

About the safest place is right here at home, and not too far away from your place of residence. The reason of this is that your near neighbors usually know less about you than those who are used to seeing you in the street or in your place of business.

When you go to a neighboring town you are a stranger, and strangers always attract more or less attention and are the subject of comment, if not of suspicion.

But it is very provoking, all the same, to have some one butt in just when you are having a good time on the quiet, as you suppose, call you by name and ask about your wife and the babies.

* * *

It was kind in friend Samuel Dee of Sistersville to butt in and tell us about "Dow, Jr.," for it is not generally known that Paige was the author's name, and that he died a few years ago in a rather low resort in San Francisco, and in want.

He could write other good things besides patent sermons, but having written these the people wouldn't take his other stuff.

This is the common fate of the humorist. At this very time Mark Twain is feeling very sore because the public will not take him seriously. And why should they, when for years and years he wouldn't take the people seriously?

Mark is deeply interested in science, and particularly in psychology and the like. Being keenly sensitive he is curious to know the causes of phenomena which no fellow has ever told us all about. And he would like to write about these things, but the public won't have it.

You know yourself that when you sit down to read an article by Mark Twain you expect to have a good laugh, or at least to be amused. Naturally, therefore, if it turns out to be a serio-scientific paper, or a disquisition on the occult, or an attempted demonstration of the unknowable, you feel more or less vexed, and thereafter shun Mark's pieces.

And that is just why he feels sore. He is fully aware of the fact that he knows a lot more than those who criticise him unfavorably.

His cleverest book, "Puddin'-Head Wilson," was written around himself, which makes it all the more interesting.

There have ever been "puddin' heads," and there ever will be, for real wisdom is not always promptly recognized by the public.

Among the more famous "puddin' heads" were Socrates, Aristotle and Copernicus, the ancients, and we might mention Isaac Newton, Watts and B. Franklin, of later times. These were all called "puddin' heads" by those who thought themselves wise, just as the people mentioned in Mark's book called Dave Wilson "puddin' head," because they were not capable of understanding him.

When you read "Puddin'-Head Wilson" you will readily see that Mark has written about himself. And how he does score ignoramuses who think they know it all, or nearly all, and yet are not capable of appreciating real wisdom.

And, as you may have noticed, real "puddin' heads" are forever applying that term to those who know more than they do.

There is some good stuff in those patent sermons by "Dow, Jr.," but only the fewest of those who read them ever recognized it, or ever dreamed that he was really caricaturing those who made great pretentions.

Possibly if you were to read these old sermons now you might see the various points they contained.

It was the humor in Mr. Paige's early work that wrecked him. Had he first established himself as a serious writer he might have accomplished more.

John Russle Lowell first became known through the "Bigelow Papers," but he lived it down and died a famous man of letters. He was an exception to the rule.

* * *

Do you mind Sut Luvgood's stump speeches and funny pieces? He was a comical fellow, Sut was. His work was after the "Peck's Bad Boy" style, only more rural, or pastoral, if you please.

"Dad and the Hornets' Nest" was one of his most popular speeches, and it was, perhaps, the most popular piece for recitation in school and school exhibitions ever written.

Along before the war a boy wasn't thought to be much of a fellow if he couldn't knock off a Dow sermon, a Luvgood stump speech, or sing a version of "Jordan am a Hard Road to Travel."

But that was before the war, so that some of you may never have heard any of these gems; but if you will ask your older folks they will tell you how they nearly laughed themselves to death when some favorite school house comedian did some of these stunts.

And it is barely possible that the younger fry may not be interested in this reminiscent sort of stuff, but the older set will find a lot of pleasure in the recollections it revives.

Anyway, the older set, even if it isn't in every way up-to-date, is entitled to some consideration. In fact those who constitute it are worthy of great credit for rearing the fine brood of youngsters that are now promenading up and down the boardwalk, that broad way of life with light places and dark, and an occasional lime-light glow in which the wayfarer may pose for a short hour.

* * *

There was a 'way-back funny fellow known as "Philander Doestick." He hailed from the west, St. Louis, perhaps, but his stuff went everywhere. He was particularly famous along the rivers, being a sort of river editor at times, or at least had something to do with steamboats and river news. Anyway, he was a regular cracker-jack, besides being the whole thing in the field of fun.

But if you were to get hold of one of his books you might find it rather dull, if not positively stupid, not through any fault of the work, but of the times. His humor does not fit these times, therefore you can't feel it.

Even so great a humorist as Artemus Ward is fast passing out of date, if indeed, he hasn't passed.

Not long since a gentleman who was once an ardent admirer of the great Artemus came across one of his books, one that had furnished him many a hearty laugh. He brushed the dust of several years from its cover and sat himself down for a regular, old-fashioned good time.

After reading a couple of the pieces he closed the book tenderly and made a comfortable place for it in the library, where it might not be disturbed during his life time—he laid it away never to open it again.

Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" and "Huckleberry Finn" are also passing out, yet they will go rather slowly because their humor will fit a greater variety of times than that of Doestick, Nasby or even Artemus Ward.

Anyway, it is a pleasure to recall these old favorites, if only to pay tribute to their memory.

IT IS TO SMILE.

"Is your husband very confidential with you?"

"Very! He tells me everything he suspects I've found out about him."—Life.

"What becomes of the messenger boys when they get too big for the service?"

"Why do you ask?"

"Well, they get so slow and lazy and sleepy that by the time they grow up I should think they'd be fitted for anything."

"They aren't. I think they must become policemen."—Cleveland Leader.

THE NEW BALTIMORE.

By HENRY J. FORD.

BALTIMORE, May 2.—The new charter of the city of Baltimore was of immense value to her in the emergency presented by the great fire of February, 1904. The people had confidence that the city would get full value for all expenditures and any municipal utilities incidentally created would furnish a source of revenue. Under the new charter no franchise can be granted until the board of estimates advertised it and obtains the largest possible offer of compensation. The board of estimates also frames the tax budget and while the city council may reduce items it has no authority to increase appropriations or to insert items not recommended by the board of estimates. The board is composed of the mayor and four other officials, all elected at large, and thus representative of the whole community, so it is quite properly given power to shape the general policy of the municipal government.

Meeting the Emergency.

Formerly when municipal policy was a sort of by-product of ward representation in the city councils Baltimore had the same evils to contend with which cities that still adhere to that system are familiar and the attitude of taxpayers was that of distrust of municipal authority and opposition to all schemes of expenditure. But under the new system they had seen floating debts become a thing of the past, annual balances take the place of annual deficits and a rapid reduction in the net public debt. Therefore when the great fire swept away the principal business section of the city they were ready to entertain favorably plans of improvement in connection with the rebuilding of the city. An area of 140 acres, containing 73 city blocks and 1,343 buildings had been burned over. As soon as the extent of the losses had been realized plans of street widening and regrading were formed.

Remodeling the Business Section.

The fire took place February 7-8, lasting 36 hours. A citizens' emergency committee, appointed by the mayor, organized February 13. Upon the recommendation of this committee the legislature passed an act authorizing the creation of the burnt district commission. It was appointed March 11, 1904, and consisted of four persons, with the mayor as member ex-officio. This commission was given extensive power of making improvements, with authority to acquire private property either by purchases or condemnation. On May 17, 1904, a bond issue of $6,000,000 was voted by the people for dock improvements to be carried out by this commission. This commission has widened 12 streets and are constructing a system of modern docks and piers, with wide, adjoining thoroughfares in place of the narrow streets of former days, and this section of the city is being transformed at a cost of about $8,500,000. No doubt is entertained but that the increased revenues will make the investment a richly productive one for the city.

Almost at the outset of the work of the commission an event occurred which in the old days would have produced a period of political confusion and municipal stagnation. Mayor McLane died in May and was succeeded by the president of the second branch, E. Clay Timanus. This was a change of party control, as Mr. Timanus is a Republican. But it did not have any damaging effect. Having been a member of the board of estimates Mr. Timanus was familiar with the routine and administrative plans went on without a check.

Progress of Rebuilding.

During the 14 months which have elapsed since the fire the burned district has been largely rebuilt. There are many vacant lots, but they are hidden from view by the buildings around them and building operations are going on with an activity which gives promise that the whole district will be rebuilt before the close of the year. The buildings are of all sorts and there have been severe criticisms in insurance journals upon some of the character of some, but there can be no doubt that in general the new buildings are a great improvement upon those swept away. Many of the new buildings are fireproof structures, while others are old-fashioned warehouses with plank floors resting upon wooden joists, but that style of construction was the general rule before. Baltimore has arisen from its ashes a greater city than before in every way.

Additional Bond Issues.

At the municipal election today for city councilmen three more bond issues were submitted to the people, as follows: Annex improvements, $2,000,000; park extension, $1,000,000, and new sewerage system, $10,000,000. An active campaign has been carried on by citizens' committees and meetings have been held in all parts of the city at which the loans were explained and advocated as sound business propositions. The $2,000,000 loan is for improvements in a recently erected annexed section now rural in its character. It was held that by timely expenditure of money improvements will be accelerated and the city revenues enhanced. The park loan is for the purpose of providing additional little parks throughout the city. In addition to 15 large parks ranging in size from 10 to 671 acres, Baltimore has 29 little parks scattered through the city, ranging in size from a fraction of an acre to seven acres. More of these are wanted and there is no opposition to the loan of $1,000,000 for this purpose, as the interests will be carried and the bonds redeemed from the receipts of the city from the passenger railways, which pay 9 per cent of their gross receipts for their privileges and the proceeds, now over $300,000 a year, are dedicated to the support of the public parks.

The Line of Battle.

The battle of the campaign has been waged over the sewerage loan of $10,000,000. Many owners of small houses have been unable to see where they will be benefited. To the argument that the expense of cleaning out cesspools will amount to much more than the additional taxes they have replied that tenants in the poorer class of buildings will be continually choking up drains with rubbish and that plumbers' bills will be a source of expense much greater than that of periodical emptying of cesspools. There are numerous buildings in Baltimore, which bring but small rental and the large colored population is also a factor in the problem that constantly came up in discussion. The strongest argument was really the sanitary one. The lack of sewers and continual impregnation of the soil by the thousands of cesspools is certainly a serious menace to the city, as all underground flow of water is inevitably polluted.

A Comparison With Greater Pittsburgh.

By the census of 1900 Baltimore exceeded Pittsburgh and Allegheny combined in population by over 50,000. The tax rate has been high. In 1898, the year the new charter was adopted, it was $24 27 per $1,000. In 1903 it had declined to $20.375, but fire expenditures have put it up again and it is now $21 15. The rate includes school taxes and is upon an assessment of about 75 per cent of cash value, while Pittsburgh is upon a full valuation. The total bonded debt is about $40,000,000, but the sinking fund has been growing rapidly of late years and the net debt on January 1, 1904, was a little over $21,000,000, as against a net debt for Pittsburgh, May 1, 1904, of a little over $13,220,083, and $5,394,069. The two cities have a net debt of about $1,500,000 less than Baltimore.

The Cooper Union Lectures.

More people attended the Cooper Union lectures in New York this than last season, notwithstanding the fact that the number of centers was reduced by 10, because of a reduced appropriation. It is estimated that 1,155,000 attended. Last year the number was 1,134,005. The number of centers this year was 123 and the number of lectures 4,650, 15 less than last year. The average attendance at each lecture was 250. These figures are in striking contrast to those of the first season, when 186 lectures were given in six centers. The total attendance was 22,149, and the average attendance at each lecture 113.

PEONAGE SLAVES.

History of Practice in United States.

"When the states of this Union ratified the 13th amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery," said a prominent official in the department of justice to the Washington Star, "it was commonly supposed that involuntary servitude, under any name, could no longer endure in this country. It is true that the majority of the people accepted this as an accomplished fact, which they had religiously observed, but it hardly could be hoped that an evil so deeply rooted could be effaced entirely by this act of the states. That there would be some who would not so readily yield to this constitutional mandate, was, according to the experience of mankind, inevitable. As a result, a form of involuntary servitude, commonly called the peonage system, has grown up in some portions of the country. This form of slavery is not a creation of recent years. It was in vogue in New Mexico at the time the United States acquired that territory in 1846, where it had been practiced under various names since the Spanish conquest. Its essential elements consist in a debt due from the peon to his master, and the right of the master to make the peon work out the debt by compulsion and force. Most of the Indians in that territory were found in this condition of servitude, although the practice was not confined to any particular class or color of persons. So great became the evil in that territory that congress, on March 2, 1867, enacted a law (commonly called the peonage statute), prohibiting the practice of this system anywhere within the jurisdiction of the United States. However, notwithstanding the 13th amendment and this law directed specifically against peonage, there is practiced today, in some of the states, this form of involuntary servitude. In many cases the hardships suffered by those thus held to service against their will are sad in the extreme. Once in the custody of his master, the peon is forced to obey his will and to serve him until he has worked out the debt. As generally the labor of the peon is not considered by the master as of much value, he is held for long periods to work out a trifling debt.

+ \+ \+

Differs Little from Slavery.

"Aside from the fact that the peon is not sold in the markets by his master, his condition differs little from that of slavery itself. Indeed, it has been observed that peonage is truly a milder name for a harsher form of involuntary servitude, for the slave generally had the comforts of domestic life and the care and protection of his master, while the peon, in most cases performing a temporary service, can seldom hope to have any of these, as the only interest the master has in him is the securing of the largest amount of work possible for the debt alleged to be owing to him. A most pitiable case of peonage has come to light recently in South Carolina in which the peons were white men (Italians). These men had been engaged in New York to perform services for pay in South Carolina and transportation given them to the latter state. When they arrived in South Carolina and they discovered they were to work in a phosphate mine they refused to do so, but the master informed them that they could not abandon their work, as they owed for their transportation and must work out their debt. Guards were stationed over them and in the face of weapons they were compelled to work out this alleged debt. And but for the fact that one of these men escaped and made known the terrible condition of his comrades they might now be held in that service. This is only one of the cases which have come recently to the surface, but it is sufficient to show the abject condition to which the peons are generally reduced.

+ \+ \+

Competition With Free Labor.

"But there is another and more dangerous result to be feared as a consequence of the practice of this system than the individual harm which may be suffered by those who are held to such service, and that is its effect on free labor. Experience has shown that free labor is at a discount when confronted with any form of a slave system. That free labor cannot compete with the peonage system any more than it can with the Chinese coolie system is not open to dispute. That a free people would not let go unwhipped of justice those who thus seek to violate the universal rule of freedom which they have established who would doubt? Wherever such violations come to light, the punishment that the law supplies is now being used to wipe out the evil and to protect free labor against the fatal results of its practice. The efforts which the national government is thus making to eradicate the evil through the courts and the determined stand which the attorney general has taken to push the prosecution of those who violate these laws, in view of the recent decision of the supreme court in the case of Clayatt against the United States, must prove productive of wholesome results. This case was argued by Mr. Moody in person, in December last.

+ \+ \+

The Recent Clayatt Case.

"Clayatt was convicted in the United States court for Northern Georgia of the crime of having returned three negroes to a condition of peonage in violation of section 5526 of the revised statutes of the United States and sentenced to confinement at hard labor for a period of four years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. He took an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit, which court certified to the supreme court for its instruction the questions of law presented by the arguments, where the case, as before stated, was presented to the court by the attorney general personally. The opinion of the court in this case is of great moment. With the possible exception of one or two cases, no case decided by that court within recent years involved graver considerations than were presented by the questions certified by the court below. And although the court remanded the case for further proceedings because, in its opinion, there was not sufficient evidence to show that the maltreated negroes had been in a condition of peonage prior to the time that they were alleged to have been returned thereto (and therefore the charge of returning them could not be sustained), yet the great principles for which the attorney general so ably contended have been upheld.

Importance of Decision.

"The interpretation, scope and effect of the 13th amendment, as well as the constitutionality of the laws passed by congress in pursuance of that amendment, for the first time were drawn directly before the court for judicial construction. Specifically, the court decided that section 5526 (under which the indictment in this case was drawn), which in substance makes it an offense for any person to hold, arrest or return or aid in holding, arresting and returning any person to a condition of peonage, is a constitutional law; that its constitutionality rests on the ground that peonage—the enforcing of voluntary or involuntary service or labor of any person as peon in liquidation of any debt or obligation—is involuntary servitude within the meaning of the 13th amendment, is prohibited by it and is punished by the statute named. The importance of this decision is more clearly understood when we take into consideration the cases now pending in the southern courts. The highest court of the land having declared that the laws against holding persons in a condition of peonage or involuntary servitude are constitutional and valid, and operate directly upon individuals, it is not difficult to perceive that the greatest obstacle, heretofore in the way of convictions is now removed."

Hooks and Eyes.

On the basis of the population of the United States being 80,000,000, this country uses more than 3,000,000,000 of lace eyes and hooks a year. Every man, woman and child will wear out an average of two pairs of shoes in 12 months. The majority of people [illegible] feet and there are 20 eyes and hooks in each shoe. Use your arithmetic and see what the total is. It foots up to [illegible] more than 3,000,000,000.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

HERRICK CROWD SLIGHTS FORAKER

Senator Has Not Even an Admission Ticket to Ohio State Convention.

HE HAS BEEN THERE BEFORE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.

By an "oversight" Senator J. B. Foraker has not been invited to attend the Ohio Republican state convention. He is not a delegate or an alternate, nor has he even an admission ticket. It is a tradition, old as party organization in Ohio, that distinguished members of the party be notified of its conventions and invited to attend by the state central committee. But this year it has been overlooked. Last year the same "oversight" occurred, but that fact did not deter Senator Foraker from attending the convention. He went to Columbus and was undoubtedly somewhat surprised to find no brass bands there to welcome him. Admission to the convention hall was by badge or ticket, but Foraker had neither. When the convention opened Foraker went to the hall and "butted in."

"I expected the doorkeepers or the police to refuse me admission," he said, recently in speaking of his experience. "Fortunately they let me in. Then it was a puzzle to know whether I belonged to the public gallery or not. I knew that people had been kind enough to give me a seat on the platform in other conventions, so I went up there on the chance of finding a vacant place. As luck would have it there was one about seven rows back from the stage, so I didn't have to stand up."

No speech by Senator Foraker was on the program. But the delegates, who had seen him enter, vociferously demanded remarks, and in that way he secured a voice in the convention.

But Senator Foraker had his revenge at the opening of the campaign at Warren, on the first of last October. Gov. Herrick was there, and it was suggested to Senator Foraker that it would be well, in view of the opposition developing to the renomination of the governor, if he would publicly indorse him for a second term. But Foraker declined to place himself on record. When this answer was reported to the governor, Mr. Herrick asked why. Senator Foraker told him. He said that he had been irritated because he had to break into the convention "on his face." He was sore over the neglect to send him an engraved invitation, or give him a sergeant-at-arms' badge. Well, the meeting was held, and Foraker did not indorse Herrick. Instead he came back to Washington and from here started a movement to sidetrack the governor and prevent his renomination. But in spite of this tremendous handicap, Mr. Herrick swept all opposition before him, and will go before the convention as the only candidate for the nomination.

It is not likely that Senator Foraker will kick up much of a row this year over the neglect to formally invite him to the convention. He is at present nursing a presidential boom and, therefore, he is likely to overlook some mole hills that would appear mountains under other circumstances. When asked if he would attend the convention this year, he said:

"I don't know officially that there is to be one. The newspapers say there is one, but newspapers are frequently mistaken, you know."

But Mr. Foraker will be on hand, and he will have his presidential boom in his suit case.

MINISTERS ARE AGAINST FUNERALS ON SUNDAY

New Castle Association Passes Resolutions, Which Will Be Read to Their Congregations.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, May 2.—The New Castle Ministerial association, composed of all the pastors of this city and many throughout the county, has begun a campaign against Sunday funerals. The association has adopted the following regulations:

"Whereas, the holding of funerals upon the Lord's day seems to be a growing custom, and,

"Whereas, It is a custom fraught with much evil, in that it desecrates the Sabbath, causing unnecessary confusion and a disturbance of the peace by a procession of horses and carriages, and

"Whereas, It deprives a considerable number of men, such as undertakers, drivers, liverymen, sextons and others of their lawful rest day, and,

"Whereas, It compels helpless dumb animals to work on the Sabbath day, and

"Whereas, A funeral service more or less unfits ministers for the most efficient discharge of his duties on Sabbath evening, and,

"Whereas, Such funerals are almost never necessary on the Lord's day, being often held on such day merely as a convenience, therefore, be it

"Resolved, By this Ministerial association of the city of New Castle, that we believe the holding of funerals on Sunday is a custom contrary to the gospel, and that we will discourage, so far as possible, our own church people from holding such funerals on the Lord's day and that we beg the general public not to request or expect us to transgress what our consciences teach are wrong in such cases. To this end be it further

"Resolved, That we will read these resolutions to our public congregations, so that they may be generally known."

DRAWS PLANS FOR WORLD'S CONGRESS

Representative Bartholdt Will Have Support of 25 Members of Congress at The Hague.

FAVORS COURT JURISDICTON

NEW YORK, May 2.—Early last September the Hon. Richard Bartholdt gave out the fact he proposed to stand at the approaching session of the interparliamentary union for giving The Hague court jurisdiction and for creating a congress of nations to supply the principles of law which The Hague court will be charged with applying to particular controversies as they arise.

Mr. Bartholdt made his word good. He has fomulated a basis on which the congress of nations can be constituted and today sailed for Europe to propose the discussion of this basis at the coming session of the interparliamentary union, in order that the power of that union may be back of the plan in detail as well as in principle by the time the nations assemble at The Hague.

Since September, 1904, 200 members of congress have rallied around Mr. Bartholdt and 25 of these will be with him in their places in the interparliamentary union when it convenes in August or September. When this union met in Vienna in 1903 Mr. Bartholdt was the only American parliamentarian who belonged to it.

The basis of representation proposed by Mr. Bartholdt is as follows:

Each nation to have the right to withdraw at any time from the congress.

While remaining in the congress each nation to have the right to arm itself according to its own judgment.

The territorial and political integrity of each nation represented in the congress to be respected by all nations represented.

Deliberations of the congress to be confined to matters which directly affects intercourse between nations, and its resolutions limited to the declaration of general rules or principles for the conduct of such intercourse, and these resolutions to be recognized as law by the nations, unless they are vetoed by an agreed number of national parliaments.

War to remain a lawful mode of action in any dispute except as the several nations agree to refer controversies to arbitration by special or general treaties of arbitration.

Commerce between any one member and all the members and between all the members and the markets outside, to be on equal terms; but a barrier can be raised against any nation equal to its own tariff wall.

Each nation to choose and maintain its own representatives in the international congress, and to have the power of recalling them at any time. The term of office to be eight years unless otherwise fixed by each nation for its own representative.

Each nation to have two representatives in the senate, and representation in the house proportionate to its international commerce.

Each member to have one vote.

Majority to rule in all matters, and concurrence of both houses necessary.

The armed forces of all nations represented to be at the service of the congress for enforcement of any decree rendered by The Hague court, according to treaties of arbitration.

FORMER CASHIER TELLS WHY HIS BANK FAILED

S. S. Shilling Says the Columbia (O.) Institution Had Made Bad Investments.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LISBON, O., May 2.—At a meeting of the creditors of the defunct Shilling & Co.'s bank of Columbiana, held at the office of Charles D. Dickinson, referee in bankruptcy for this district, in Leetonia yesterday, ex-Cashier S. S. Shilling testified how the institution came to have liabilities of about $115,000 and no assets.

Mr. Shilling was questioned by Judges W. G. Wells and J. G. Moore of this city, representing the creditors and the trustees respectively. Losses to the amount of $20,000 were ascribed to bad debts, while the remainder of the liabilities was accounted for by the alleged fact of his having paid interest on deposits in excess of what he received on their investment. He said the business was started in 1884 with only $4,000. The only property he owns is the Columbiana Handle works, a manufacturing concern.

His sister, Mrs. Caroline Deemer, who was his partner in the business, knew nothing about its affairs, he said, and she was not questioned. Mr. Shilling said his business was profitable until the failure of J. Esterly & Co.'s bank in Columbiana in 1896, when depositors, becoming frightened, commenced to withdraw their deposits, and he dated the decline of the institution from that time.

DIDN'T INJURE HARGIS.

State Brings Curtis Jett and Tom White from Penitentiary to Testify in the Cockrell Case.

LEXINGTON, KY., May 2.—Curtis Jett and Tom White, who are under life sentence for the murder of Cockrell, were brought from the state prison today under guard and taken direct to the witness room at the court house. They were brought here at the instance of the commonwealth to testify in the Hargis case.

When Jett was put on the stand he was warned to tell nothing that would incriminate himself. He refused to answer many question under this admonition, and simply told of his relations with Hargis, but said nothing that would injure Hargis in the present case.

BIG RAILROADS ARE COMPETITORS

Relations of P. R. R. and B. & O. Are Outlined Before Senate Committee.

FREIGHT RATES DISCUSSED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Hugh L. Bond of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad continued his statement before the senate committee on interstate commerce today. He argued that the present law was adequate for all purposes, but declared it was unfortunate that the act was weighted down with penalties. Discriminations, as well as rebates between persons, were now prevented. While Mr. Bond was discussing the power of the interstate commerce commission, Senator Cullom asked:

"Could we not give the commission power to say when a rate is unreasonable? That is all there is in the case."

"That is all there is in it, but it has gone much further than that," replied Mr. Bond.

"It seems to me," remarked Senator Clapp, "if there is only one question here we ought to get down to it."

"Let us have no flim-flam here," continued Mr. Bond. He said the commission ought not to be compelled to devote so much time to hearings, but should bring suits when it appears that unreasonable rates were being charged. He believed that a law could be framed which would enjoin any rate the court should name as unreasonable.

Roads Are in Competition.

Senator Newlands said that the Pennsylvania group included the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western railroads, and asked what was the relation of these roads to each other.

"Active competition," replied Mr. Bond. He admitted that the Pennsylvania owned a large amount of stock in the Baltimore & Ohio, but not a majority.

Asked as to what caused the consolidation of railroads Mr. Bond answered: "The anti-trust act."

He explained that there was no method of preventing weaker lines from cutting rates. The weaker lines were taken in so as to prevent demoralization of rates.

Robert Mather, chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company, and general counsel of the Rock Island and St. Louis & San Francisco railroads, was next heard. He said in part:

Rates are not unreasonable and rebates are or can be prevented under existing laws. Government regulation of common carriers seeks to accomplish two purposes. First, the establishment and maintenance of reasonable rates, and second, the prohibition of discriminations. In the present discussion two propositions may be considered as settled, first, that the railway rates in the United States are not in themselves unreasonable; and, second, that discriminations which result from secret rate-making and rebate-giving and other like devices have been done away with under the existing law. The first proposition is demonstrated by the decrease in the rate a ton or mile for freight, transportation in the United States from 1.99 cents in 1870 to .763 in 1903, and by the fact that existing rates in this country are one-third the rates charged in England and France, and one-half the rates of Germany, and by the prevalent prosperity of American commerce under the present basis of rates.

Secret Rebates Have Ceased.

The evils of secret rebates were ended by the passage of the Elkins act in 1903 and the concededly general acquiesence of the carriers in its requirements. The only evil demanding additional legislation is preference between localities, and the question under consideration then resolves itself into this:

It is necessary and desirable that the interstate commerce commission should be given the rate-making power in order that preferences between localities shall cease. The proposed legislation is not necessary for there seems to be nothing in the commercial or financial situation of the country which demands such a radical departure from a plan of rate-making which has been long established, and under which our commerce has grown to its present stupendous proportions. That there is a public clamor for giving the rate making power to the commission cannot be denied, but that it is a misled clamor is plainly apparent. The evil which is in the public mind and which the public generally believes is to be cured by the proposed legislation is the evil of rebates and discrimination between shippers. This was the keynote of the president's message.

If it were clearly comprehended that these practices are all prohibited by the original act to regulate commerce and that all can be prevented under the Elkins act, public clamor would be at a loss to put its finger upon any specific evils to be remedied by new legislation and would agree with the statement of the interstate commerce commission itself that the existing system of laws applicable to the wrong-doing is complete and simple. No amendment of the statute therefore is necessary.

If the Esch-Townsend bill, or anything like it, becomes law, the entire power to make all rates is confided to the commission and withdrawn from the railways. This is a result which there is no evidence that the people desire and which the president himself does not want. The making of rates is a matter no one traffic manager can determine the issue for himself. It is not only the rate that he can afford to give to the shipper on his own rails that he must consider, but the rates that other railways can and do give to the competitors of his shipper. It is a result which no one mind and no one set of circumstances does or can control.

A commision of limited number would be unable intelligently to make rates which the railways make, for in this country there are 523 traffic officers engaged in the business of rate making, not to mention rate clerks and officers of small lines, and no seven men will ever be able to satisfy the clamoring contentions of the many localities.

Another point which must be considered is that the proposed legislation sets a precedent for the regulation by congress of all transactions in interstate commerce, including all contracts for the purchase and sale of commodities moving from state to state. Interstate commerce, the supreme court holds, does not consist alone of transportation but includes buying and selling.

SUBMITS MANY COMPLAINTS AGAINST THE RAILROADS

Interstate Commerce Commission Makes a Report to the Senate Committee.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—In response to a resolution of inquiry adopted by the senate January 10 last, concerning the number of complaints against common carriers filed with and disposed of by the interstate commerce commission since its organization, the commission today submitted to the senate committee on interstate commerce a voluminous reply. The information furnished is brought down to March 1, 1905, and includes formal complaints since the organization of the commission, informal complaints since February 1, 1900, and cases which have been taken to the courts to enforce orders of the commission.

Informal complaints filed prior to January 1, 1900, are not included in the report, as before that date such complaints usually were received in the form of letters which have been filed away as correspondence and not as complaints. The informal complaints include allegations of over-charges, misrouting, discrimination in furnishing cars and damage to or loss of freight in transit. These complaints sometimes developed into formal proceedings and in 522 cases complaining shippers were advised that formal proceedings were necessary to further action.

The number of formal complaints filed with the commission from April 5, 1887, the date of its organization, to March 1, 1905, is 770; the number brought to final hearing and determined by the commission or otherwise concluded, 400; cases settled or discontinued, 206; indefinitely postponed, 74; cases heard, but not decided, 20; partially heard, 27; not heard, 43.

The commission has rendered 312 formal decisions, 24 memorandum decisions, 13 decisions on application for rehearing and five decisions for relief under the long and short haul provision of the statute.

Since January 1, 1900, 2,296 informal complaints have been filed and 2,171 disposed of by the commission. The number of cases heard and determined by the commission and taken to the courts to enforce the commission's orders, is 45. In eight cases the ruling of the commission was sustained; in 29 cases the courts declined to enforce the commission's orders; four have been discontinued and four now are pending in circuit courts. In 23 cases the courts held, directly or by implication, that the statute did not give the commission authority to make the orders sought to be enforced; in other words, that the things done which constituted the grievance could not be prevented under the present law.

Storthing Sanctions $10,000,000 Loan. Swedish Parliament Approves the Crown Prince's Proposals.

CHRISTIANA, May 2.—The storthing today sanctioned the state loan of $10,000,000 unanimously recommended by the finance committee yesterday, thus insuring a military reserve fund, in the event of it becoming necessary for Norway to provide for her own defense. There were only four dissenting votes.

STOCKHOLM, May 2.—The first chamber of the Swedish parliament today unanimously approved the recommendation of the special committees of both chambers to send a joint communication to the government expressing entire approval and assent to the proposals of Crown Prince Regent Gustave of April 6, for the settlement of the consular dispute with Norway. The second chamber, after a lengthy debate, also adopted the recommendation of the special committees.

POLICE DOCKET MISSING.

The docket was missed several weeks ago, and a still hunt was made for it by the police without success. It is believed the docket was taken to destroy the record of a case in which a well known citizen figured.

HAYS REFUSES TO SERVE AS ORATOR

Solicitor Rodgers Will Act as Mayor's Proxy at City's Banquet.

RAILROAD TRIP IS MADE UP

Mayor Hays emphatically refused yesterday afternoon to accept the appointment of a special council committee to deliver the address of welcome at the banquet to be tendered the rivers and harbors committee of congress at the Hotel Schenley next Tuesday night. The special committee of councils on entertainment, which voted on Monday night to accord Mayor Hays that honor, yesterday called upon the executive at his office in the city hall.

The mayor listened to the request of the committee that he welcome the distinguished visitors of the city, and then declared it would be impossible for him to do so. In the absence of Chairman Wainwright, Councilman Brand acted as spokesman of the party. The mayor said that he would designate City Solicitor Rodgers as his proxy. The committee argued with the mayor that it was his duty to represent the city on the occasion, but the mayor refused to budge from his position.

The committee will hold a meeting tonight to complete the program for the banquet and to consider the details of the railroad and boat excursions. The sub-committee on itinerary had a talk with Robert Pitcairn yesterday morning and arranged for the railroad trip on Monday.

The Pennsylvania railroad will take the congressional party to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's works at Charlerol in the morning, and return to the Westinghouse plant, at East Pittsburgh, in time for luncheon, which the Westinghouse company has requested the privilege of furnishing. In the afternoon the Carnegie steel plant at Homestead will be visited.

The sub-committee on banquet decided finally yesterday that there shall be four set speeches at the banquet, besides the address of welcome. Congressman Burton, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, will speak on a subject relating to the work of the committee, but will carefully avoid touching upon local interests involved in the improvement of the Ohio. Congressman Dalzell will speak on the importance of the Pittsburgh district as a tonnage producer. Col. John L. Vance will make an address for the Ohio Valley Improvement association, and Congressman Burke will tell "What Greater Pittsburgh Wants."

GILLESPIE PUSHING WORK.

Big Steam Shovels Begin Excavations for Filter Beds and Force Will Be Increased.

One big steam shovel is already at work excavating for the 46 filter beds at Aspinwall and another will be on the field next week. In addition there are about 350 laborers at work hauling away dirt in wheelbarrows and wagons, and building embankments. These men are being housed in temporary buildings which will be their homes until the completion of the filter plant, two years hence.

In a couple of months it is estimated there will be 2,000 men at work. The construction of houses for them is going on. T. A. Gillespie, head of the firm which has taken the $6,000,000 contract, has begun and is pushing operations with a zeal that indicates he will finish the work within the time of the contract. The contract provides that excavation shall start not later than May 1, 1905, and the plant shall be finished by September 1, 1907.

DRAWS ANOTHER'S BALANCE.

Hebrew Peddler, Having but $25 in Bank, Takes Out $579.

With but $25 in the Washington National bank, Abraham Segall, a Hebrew lamp shade peddler, is said to have drawn $579 out of the bank, drawing upon the balance of another depositor of similar name. Segall was given a hearing yesterday, before Anderman Anderson, and held to court on the charges of larceny and false pretense, preferred by S. C. Armstrong, cashier of the bank.

Lawrence Smith, assistant bookkeeper, testified that when Segall asked for the amount of his balance in the bank, he gave Segall the balance of another depositor by mistake. Segall gave $1,000 bail.

BIGELOW TRIED KEEPING BOOKS IN HIS HEAD

Man Who Handled Millions for Others, Had Absolutely No System for His Affairs.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, WIS., May 2.—That the downfall of Frank G. Bigelow, the defaulting president of the First National bank of Milwaukee, was due to Bigelow's unwarranted belief that he possessed great business ability, was the statement made here by a friend of Bigelow's today. Bigelow, said this friend, denies emphatically losing the money in a wheat deal.

"If you were to ask him how the money was spent he would be unable to tell you," said Bigelow's friend. His affairs are in a remarkable tangle. He kept no books and for odds and ends of all sorts he had his mind, only, as their depositories. There was an absolute lack of system about anything he did so far as his own affairs are concerned.

"There was no plan such as a 'crook' might devise, no careful turning of every account toward a comomn point or purpose is to be discovered. An instance cited by a Milwaukee man who was interested with Bigelow in mining operations shows Bigelow's laxity of method and shows the remarkable confidence he placed in himself.

"Dividends were due on the property, and when the Milwaukee man inquired of Bigelow for the dividend he was turned upon in a brusque way which astonished him, since they had long been interested in one thing and another together. However, after a moment Mr. Bigelow reached into his pocket and drew forth a check for the amount of the dividend, two years old, and crumpled into a wad."

Will Refund Hawaiian Loan.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—A. L. C. Atkinson, secretary of the territory of Hawaii, arrived here today on the steamer Coptic. He will proceed at once to Washington and New York to take up the matter of refunding the Hawaiian loan, under the provisions of an act just passed by the legislature. It is proposed to refund about $70,000.

WOULD KICK AND SCREAM

Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema—Could Not Hold Her. Tore Face and Arms Almost to Pieces—Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES SAVED HER LIFE."

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good; in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table, for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humor left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and I should advise any one suffering as she did, to give Cuticura a fair trial. Mrs. G. A. Conrad, Lisbon N. H., Feb. 7, 1898."

FIVE YEARS LATER
Mrs. Conrad Writes

"It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent. It is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since. I have advised a lot of friends to use Cuticura in all diseases of the skin."

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent, and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c, Soap, 25c. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props. Send for "Cuticura Skin Book."

NEW PRESIDENT IS INAUGURATED

Dr. David Gregg Is Inducted as Head of Western Theological Seminary.

BANQUET IN CONCLUSION

Over 500 people sat down last evening at the Hotel Schenley for the sixteenth annual banquet of the Presbyterian Union of Pittsburgh and Allegheny which had as its special feature the conclusion of the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of the Rev. Dr. David Gregg as president of the Western Theological seminary.

Beginning at 7 o'clock in the evening and continuing for nearly two hours, a reception was held in the library of the hotel where Dr. and Mrs. Gregg and the distinguished guests of the evening met the diners.

The dining hall was profusely decorated with American beauty roses and the gathering was so large that the dinner was well in progress before all the guests could be seated.

President S. A. Hunter, Ph. D., LL. D., of the union, presided, and introduced the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton, president of the Princeton Theological seminary, as the first speaker, to respond to the toast "Greetings from Princeton." Dr. Patton spoke in a humorous vein and referred continually to Dr. Gregg's inaugural discourse delivered in the afternoon on "The Ministry That Is Worth While." He said in part:

Address by Dr. Patton.

The most cordial relations have existed between Allegheny seminary and Princeton. So cordial that we take one another's professors occasionally. A president is a good thing for a theological seminary to have. A theological seminary is a good place to be president of. I congratulate Dr. Gregg in being chosen president of the Western seminary and congratulate the seminary in getting him.

Allegheny and Princeton have been good neighbors. We represent the same type of theology, although Allegheny is a little more conservative. (Much laughter.) We, of course, are more progressive. I understand Pittsburgh has more millions of dollars to the square inch than any other place on earth. I have visited Pittsburgh repeatedly to "get in touch" with this wealth. I have left enough behind me on these visits for Dr. Gregg. I know something about the wealth of Pittsburgh which I should like to tell Dr. Gregg. It has an attribute of extreme cohesiveness. The millionaires here believe thoroughly that they are the stewards of the Lord's wealth, that the money they have is only loaned them, but Dr. Gregg should not be led to believe that it is a call loan. They are not eager to believe that a seminary president is the official collector.

Plea for Conservatism.

Ministers today, as Dr. Gregg has said, must be masters of all subjects. One that knows nothing but theology is a bad clergyman. One that knows nothing of theology is worse. It is a serious question whether or not it is worth while being a minister nowadays. They are drawing the line at 60 and 40, and now one easily becomes not eligible at 30. Is it worth while to have ministers? This is another serious question.

Dr. Patton concluded by making a strong plea for conservatism as against the growth of the radical. Other addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. George B. Stewart, president of Auburn (N. Y.) Theological seminary, and the Rev. Dr. William McKibben, president of Lane Theological seminary of Cincinnati.

President Samuel Harbison, of the board of trustees of the seminary, read a report showing the needs for rebuilding the seminary and meeting greater expenses. He reviewed the history of the institution and stated that the present endowment fund was $700,000; buildings are worth $100,000 and the ground $150,000. What is needed is an endowment of $100,000 for the president's chair which is being supported for four years by private contribution. An endowment of $150,000 is needed for the contingent fund and $500,000 for new buildings, making the total needs, $750,000.

Inauguration Impressive.

Dr. Gregg followed with an address in which he thanked those present for their enthusiastic reception and declared that he henceforth was "a man of one idea"—the prosperity of the Allegheny seminary. He made a strong plea for support, morally and financially, and urged mothers to encourage their sons to enter the ministry. He made an exceptionally strong plea for financial aid and concluded by saying: "There are men right here who could give the seminary $10,000 and $25,000 and do their souls' good, and if they don't believe me they better try it."

The inauguration ceremonies in the First Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, yesterday afternoon, were most impressive. The audience was a representative one, and tested the seating capacity of the new church. The officiating clergymen, who occupied seats in the pulpit, lent dignity to the occasion by their vestments and robes.

The president of the board of directors of the seminary, the Rev. Dr. D. S. Kennedy, presided; the Rev. Dr. Isaac Ketler offered the invocation, which was followed by the reading of the Scriptures by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay. The induction into office of the president-elect, the Rev. Dr. Gregg, was then performed by the subscription and declaration during which President Kennedy of the board of directors handed Dr. Gregg the keys of the seminary.

The inaugural prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. O. A. Hills and the charge to the president was made by the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat. Following the singing of hymns by the congregation, Dr. Gregg delivered his inaugural discourse, taking for his theme "A Ministry Worth the While."

Dr. Gregg Calls for Aid.

During his discourse Dr. Gregg dwelt upon the importance of the right type of men entering the ministry, and held that if they could not be found that seminaries would do better to cease to exist. He then described the character that should be found in the ministry. Referring to the needs of the seminary, he said:

"I left a position, second to none, to come here because I felt it was a call from God. I call upon the people of this great and prosperous city for financial help. The seminary needs a new fund of $500,000. It also needs a post-graduate course. I offer myself as one of 100 to meet the needs. I have conceived six ways to raise that half million: Let one of your millionaires give it; let two divide the honor; let five give $100,000 each; let 10 give $50,000 each or let 50 give $10,000 a piece. The last plan is for a committee of 100 to start out and raise the money."

Among those present were members of Pittsburgh presbytery which attended in a body and Presbyterian clergymen from all sections of Western Pennsylvania. Among distinguished visitors were the Rev. Dr. Abner A. Rockwell, the oldest graduate of the Western Theological seminary, now 87 years of age, and who graduated precisely 60 years ago; the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton, president of Princeton Theological seminary; the Rev. Dr. William McKibbin, president of Lane Theological seminary; the Rev. Dr. George B. Stewart, president of Auburn Theological seminary; the Rev. Dr. William Henry Black, president of the Cumberland Theological seminary at Lebanon, Tenn.; Judge James A. Beaver, the Rev. Dr. William A. Gaston of Cleveland, the Rev. Dr. Laidlaw McGuire and the Rev. Dr. John Knox McClurkin.

Alumni Holds Meeting.

After the inauguration the Alumni association of the seminary held a meeting in the lecture room. The session decided by a unanimous vote to amend the constitution, changing the time for holding the sessions of the alumni from triennial to annual.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year: The Rev. Dr. C. C. Hays, Johnstown, Pa., president; Dr. J. M. McJunken, Oakdale, Pa., vice president; Dr. J. T. Gibson, secretary. The election of a historian was referred to the executive committee. Committees were appointed as follows:

Executive committee—Prof. James B. Kelso of Allegheny, Dr. Frank Fisher of Claysville, Pa.; the Rev. Herbert Heslip, Pittsburgh; Dr. W. S. Fulton, Pittsburgh; and the Rev. Charles McCrea, Allegheny.

Theological committee—Dr. J. M. Barrett, Markelton, Pa.; Dr. J. A. Kelso, Allegheny, and Dr. O. A. Hill, Wooster, O.

MINISTERS TALK ON CO-OPERATION

Church Club Members Hear Interesting Addresses at Annual Banquet.

PROBLEMS FOR CHRISTIANS

The Church club of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church held its annual meeting and the last banquet for the year, last night in the Union club, Frick building. The banquet was more largely attended by members and friends than any banquet given by the club in the past and was most successful. Addresses by six ministers of as many different denominations were eloquent and listened to with the greatest attention. The presence of interdenominational speakers at the banquets has given the club unique standing in this section.

C. E. E. Childers, president of the organization, presided as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. He thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him by re-electing him president and spoke of the purposes and objects which the club is endeavoring to attain. The subject selected by the committee of the club for discussion at last night's banquet was "Co-Operation of Christian People in the Solution of the Present Day Problems."

The Rev. Dr. William A. Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, opened the discussion in a manner which allowed every speaker after him to talk on the subject from his own viewpoint. Because men have different ways and ideas of doing things this should not prevent co-operation, he said. Four problems which must be solved are indifference, inconsistency, irresponsibility and inactivity.

This Age Is Too Strenuous.

The Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith, editor of the Christian Advocate of the Methodist Episcopal church, spoke on the necessity of co-operation among the churches in order to keep alive spiritual life in this strenuous age, which he declares has already become too strenuous. Intemperance, marriage and divorce, and commercialism were among the problems which he declared must be solved, as they become a peril through the neglect of spiritual matters and the love of gold. Dr. Smith declared things in which the churches agree are a thousand fold greater than those in which they differ.

Local, national and state government and how to eliminate graft while keeping man conscious of God, were the problems which the Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, East End, held were among the most serious which the churches confront. He also strongly advocated the need of Sabbath observance, and rapped the wealthy men by declaring one of the problems of the day is how to get money for missions without taking it from men who have too much.

President J. D. Moffat of Washington and Jefferson college spoke of the difficulties of co-operation, and declared that Christian regeneration will go on in spite of all.

President Childers, on introducing the Rt. Rev. F. L. Tobin, vicar general of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church, paid a tribute to the priest and said he wished to congratulate him and Pittsburgh on the honor which Pope Pius X. conferred recently when he raised Mgr. Tobin to the office of prothonotary apostolic.

Mgr. Tobin Touches on Wage Rate.

Mgr. Tobin said that from the opportunity given by the club for interdenominational discussion comes concerted action by the churches. He thanked the club for its efforts and then discussed the problem of the daily wage rate paid for unskilled labor.

The Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Episcopal church, spoke of the changed conditions in this section which permits interdenominational meetings. Bishop Whitehead pronounced the benediction at the close of the banquet.

The annual meeting was held at 6 p. m. at which officers and trustees for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: C. E. E. Childers, president; Herbert Dupuy, first vice president; Robert Garland, second vice president; Frank R. Fortune, secretary; William L. Linhart, assistant secretary; Charles S. Shoemaker, treasurer; R. C. Cornelius, historian. The trustees elected are W. R. Woodford, George H. Danner and John Lathwood.

Mr. Childers, Mr. Fortune, Mr. Lenhart, A. B. Holmes and E. Z. Smith will go to Cleveland as delegates of the local club to the national convention of the church clubs, to be opened in that city tomorrow.

RAZOR AND ACID END TWO LIVES

Ten Sudden Deaths in County in One Day Reported to Coroner.

INSANE MAN TAKES POISON

Two men died by their own hands in Allegheny county yesterday. George A. Gartz, aged 55, of Ambridge, ended his life by cutting his throat with a razor in the Ramsey hotel, 110 Diamond street, this city, and Valentine Leech, aged 53, died at Hays station from carbolic acid poison taken a week ago. Gartz was despondent by reason of ill health, and Leech was insane at the time he drank the poison.

Gartz was a foreman. He had been ill for the last year and was operated on several times at the St. Johns' hospital, Allegheny. On Saturday he came to the city with his son William. The men parted late that night. Gartz went to the hotel and yesterday at noon he was found dead.

Leech boarded with his brother. On April 26 he went out for a walk. He bought some carbolic acid and drank it. He walked home. He was without a hat and his brother asked him why he was bareheaded. Leech replied, "I lost my hat and I drank carbolic acid. I think I was crazy." Physicians attended Leech. He died yesterday lamenting his action, having regained his reason.

George Heberline, aged 82, of Tally Cavey, was killed by a train on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad at Elfinwild station yesterday.

George Lawaite, aged 45, of 3005 Mary street, South Side, died at the South Side hospital yesterday afternoon from injuries received an hour before by the falling of a scaffold while at work at the St. Michael's school.

Gertrude Hoffman, aged 5, of Wellington and Sterling avenues, died at her home yesterday from burns received while playing about a bonfire.

Patrick Sullivan, aged 32, of Chester place, McKeesport, was killed yesterday while at work in the National tube works by a ball of iron on a crane falling on him. He was badly burned and crushed.

James Frankel, aged 40, yesterday died at the Passavant hospital from injuries received by falling down the steps at 19 Logan street, Sunday. It is alleged that Harriett Grant pushed the negro as he was leaving the house, and in his fall his head struck the edge of the steps, causing a cerebral hemorrhage. The woman is in jail awaiting the result of the inquest in the case.

John J. Hughes, aged 38, was killed in the yards of the Homestead steel works yesterday by being run over by an engine on the Union railroad. He lived at 543 Tammany alley, Homestead, and is survived by his widow and six children.

The coroner was notified last night that J. S. Knapp, aged 45, and married, had died at 10 p. m. at his home in Pitcairn, presumably of heart disease.

Alexander Sutinies of Scott Haven died at Mercy hospital at 12:30 yesterday afternoon from injuries received in a coal mine at his home on April 4. He was 46 years old.

Many Women Play Whist for Prizes.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—Three hundred and twenty persons participated in the opening day's play of the eighth annual congress of the women's whist league. The contest is being held in Horticultural hall and many beautiful prizes are being offered to the winners of team and individual contests. Top score for the Washington trophy was made by the Hamilton club of St. Louis, with a record of 12 matches. Manheim club, Philadelphia, was second, with 11 matches won.

INDIA DESPISES MISSIONARIES

Prof. Kanskaw of Bombay, Says They Rob His Country of Independence.

CONDEMNS OUR CHRISTIANITY

"Lord Curzon is the most cruel ruler in the world. I am bitterly opposed to Christian missionaries. They rob the people of their independence, and teach us to follow the customs of a nation whose morality and honesty are not equal to our own."

The above assertion was made last night by Prof. N. Kanskaw of Bombay, India. He arrived in Pittsburgh last night on a tour of the United States, making a special study of sociology, political economy and other phases of government. Upon his return to India he intends writing a series of books of the data secured.

He intends interviewing prominent men throughout the United States, and also to visit several institutions of learning. Today he will meet Rabbi J. Leonard Levy. He arrived in the United States two months ago, and expects to return to Bombay in three months. He further said:

"It costs $350 for transportation between the United States and India. The missionaries sent from this country to India remain in our country five years; then they return. Thus for five years' missionary work it costs $700 for transportation alone. Then the cost of living is above the average and, with the salaries paid the missionaries, the expense of Christianizing India is enormous. They accomplish comparatively little. They cannot convert an Indian of sound mind to believe in Christianity, nor can they improve our morality. The people of America are more immoral, drink more intoxicants and commit more robberies than those of any European country. Since being in this country I have read of several banks being robbed. You cannot find such condition in our country.

"The Christian religion is all right, but few of your people adhere to it, and the missionaries, instead of teaching Christianity, live a life of luxury.

"I am greatly opposed to imperialism. The mode of government of the United States is commendable, but the people should be more honest and truthful. It was missionaries that induced England to usurp the rights of Indians, and we are suffering from their tyranny. They tax our people exorbitantly.

"I am heartily in favor of the international peace congress. I shall give it all the support I can. The move should have been started many years ago, and then we would have one of our own people to govern us instead of Lord Curzon."

Lord Curzon is husband to a daughter of Mr. Leiter of Chicago. She is recovering from a serious illness, during which the Leiter family was called to her bedside in London. Prof. Kanskaw has visited all European countries, securing information, which he publishes and circulates throughout India. Four years ago he visited Switzerland, Russia, Asia and France. He purposes visiting the Philippines next year.

EDUCATORS GET SALARY RAISES

County Supt. Hamilton and City Supts. Andrews and Morrow Receive Increases.

FORMER NAMES A DEPUTY

School superintendents were elected yesterday in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the county. The present incumbents, Samuel Andrews, John Morrow and Samuel Hamilton were unanimously selected to succeed themselves.

Superintendent Hamilton of the county schools was given an increase in salary from $5,000 to $8,500 a year. Out of this he must pay an assistant. He has selected Charles E. Dickey of the Avalon schools as his deputy. Superintendent Andrews of the Pittsburgh schools had his salary raised from $5,000 to $6,000 and there are no strings to it. Superintendent Morrow's salary was raised from $3,000 to $4,000.

The triennial election of the county superintendent was held at the North school, Duquesne way and Eighth street. Only about 150 out of the 750 school directors of the boroughs and townships were present.

Attorney S. R. McClure of North Braddock was elected chairman, and E. K. Haynes, G. A. Speer, J. A. McMillan and Truman S. Morgan were chosen secretaries. The chairman said that the United States commissioner of education ranked Pennsylvania as a state among the southern commonwealths, but Allegheny county as a county ranged educationally at the top in both state and nation.

Hamilton Names His Deputy.

Upon the call for nominations, A. M. Hamilton of Avalon nominated Samuel Hamilton, who has held the office for 19 years. Attorney C. E. Theobald of Millvale seconded the nomination commending the administration of Dr. Hamilton. No other nominations were made and Superintendent Hamilton received all the votes cast.

William Boate of McKees Rocks moved that the salary of the superintendent for the ensuing three years be fixed at $8,500 a year, with the understanding that he employ a capable assistant out of this amount. Dr. C. M. Campbell of Oakmont seconded this motion. A delegate moved an amendment fixing the annual salary at $12,000 with three assistants. The amendment was defeated and the original motion unanimously adopted.

The motion fixing the salary was the surprise of the day, as only a few knew what was contemplated. Before a vote was taken Superintendent Hamilton was called upon for a statement and said that with the utmost industry he was only able to visit about 900 of the 1,500 schools. He was very candid with the convention and said the actual expense of visitation of the schools was from $700 to $1,000 annually. He promised that with the proposed salary of $8,500 he would employ Principal Charles E. Dickey of the Avalon schools, whom he pronounced a thoroughly capable man, as his assistant.

He added, however, that with this assistance it would be difficult to reach all the schools of the county which are increasing at the rate of about 100 a year.

Prof. Dickey, in accepting the position of assistant county superintendent, the first created in the state, promised to give his whole time and best endeavor to the duties of the position.

Mr. Dickey was graduated from the state Normal school at California, has been principal at Avalon for 12 years, is prominent in the Allegheny Round Table and the Schoolmasters' club, and is considered a very capable man. His present salary is $180 a month for nine months of the year.

Superintendent Hamilton showed that the action of the directors was justified by the fact that in the central part of the state there are 12 counties with 1,300 schools employing 12 superintendents with an aggregate salary of $15,000, while Allegheny county has 1,500 schools with one superintendent at $5,000. He thought that three years hence this county will assistant superintendents.

Andrews Gets More Salary.

The Pittsburgh school directors met in the rooms of the central board of education. The gathering was called to order by President D. L. Gillespie and S. C. Jamison was made permanent chairman. After the salary of the superintendent had been increased from $5,000 to $6,000 per annum, Samuel Andrews was re-elected. Mr. Andrews entertained the directors at dinner at Hotel Duquesne.

Allegheny school directors last night re-elected Supt. John Morrow and voted him an increase in salary of $1,000 a year. This places Supt. Morrow's salary at $4,000, which is paid from the state appropriation.

The board of controllers went into session immediately after the election of Mr. Morrow. The most important business taken up being the report of the grades and text books committee on the proposed changes in the high school course. Nothing can be done with the report until it has been held over one month. The principal features are in changing the commercial course from two years to four, adding a four-years course in industrial training for both boys and girls.

Wants Page Torn Out.

The reading of a letter from the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution addressed to Controller Lattimer commending the board in upholding the dignity of George Washington in the eyes of the school children, again brought up the subject of Washington's education. Controller Lattimer again insisted that the objectionable page in the school reader, which states that "Washington was at the age of 11 left to the care of an excellent but unlettered mother and grew up without learning," should be torn out, and aroused considerable debate. It brought to light the fact that many of the controllers had been reading histories and biographies of the "father of his country." This research led some to believe that perhaps the statement in the book was not wrong. A motion to appoint a committee to settle the vexed question was followed by a motion to lay on the table, which prevailed by a vote of 28 to 20. Controller Lattimer declared he would fight till he had the leaf removed or new books to take the place of the objectionable one.

It was decided to appoint a committee of five with power to act to make a settlement with Architect F. J. Osterling.

More Salary Increases.

J. B. Richey was last night re-elected superintendent of the McKeesport public schools by a unanimous vote, and his salary was increased from $2,100 to $2,700. Following the election Dr. Richey gave a banquet at Clark's restaurant for present and former members of the school board.

Prof. J. M. North, the present superintendent of the Homestead public schools, was re-elected for three years by the school board last night, and his salary was raised from $2,000 to $2,400 a year. Arrangements are being made for the founders' day exercises, May 16, at the Schwab manual training school. Supt. Schaefer of the state public schools, Congressman J. Francis Burke and Gov. Samuel Pennypacker have been practically secured to make addresses.

Grant Norris was re-elected superintendent of the Braddock borough schools last night, at a meeting of the school board. He went to Braddock two years ago from Wilmerding, succeeding George Lamb.

Hay Fever Unknown.

Certain it is, and many years of careful experience are back of the statement, that hay fever and kindred annoying and troublesome summer affections, distressing to so many thousands all over the country, recurring regularly as July and August, are absolutely unknown in the "Highlands of Ontario." Thousands of people go to Muskoka, Georgian Bay or the Lake of the Bays every year for nothing else but to avoid hay fever, and find perfect immunity from the ailment, and many by going there regularly for a period of a few years are said to be permanently cured.

Hay fever booklet can be had free for the asking, by applying to W. Robinson, T. P. A., 506 Park Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

RE-ELECTED TEACHER IN A PITTSBURGH HOSPITAL

Clarion School Official Bitten by Dog. Serious Charges at Warren—Superintendents Elected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLARION, May 2.—Prof. L. T. Himes was re-elected county superintendent, today on the first ballot, having 21 majority over his oponent, Prof. Hecter. Prof. Himes is now at Mercy hospital, in Pittsburgh, undergoing treatment for hydrophobia, having been bitten by a dog last Wednesday.

WARREN—O. J. Gunning was elected county superintendent of schools by one majority, but may face a contest. Directors Owen and Armitage filed affidavits that George Mealy offered them $5 to vote for Gunning. The friends of O. J. Holmes, who was defeated, also declare that liquor was used to influence votes.

NEW CASTLE—Prof. Thomas C. Kimes, for several years principal of the Central school here, was elected city superintendent of schools to succeed Prof. J. W. Canon, who withdrew.

WILLIAMSPORT—Prof. G. B. Milnor was elected county superintendent.

NEW BRIGHTON—Supt. William D. Brightwell, of the borough schools, was re-elected unanimously. The salary was fixed at $1,650.

SHARON—Prof. S. H. Hadley was re-elected superintendent of the Sharon public schools for three years at a salary of $1,800, an increase of $200.

BEAVER—Andrew Lester was elected county superintendent of schools at a salary of $1,800.

CLEARFIELD—W. E. Tobias was elected county superintendent of schools.

SOMERSET—The school directors re-elected County Superintendent Seibert and raised his salary to $2,000.

ALTOONA—The Altoona school board elected Homer J. Wightman of North Plainfield, N. Y., city superintendent at a salary of $2,400. He succeeds D. S. Keith, who has been city superintendent for 30 years.

GREENSBURG—Robert H. Shaw, superintendent of the Irwin schools, was elected county superintendent. Thomas March still will have charge of the borough schools.

BROOKVILLE—County Superintendent Teitrick was re-elected.

FRANKLIN—Prof. Dallas W. Armstrong will remain county superintendent of schools.

WASHINGTON—Frank R. Hall was elected to his fourth term as superintendent of the county schools at a salary of $2,000.

FRANKLIN—Prof. C. E. Lord is the new superintendent of schools.

UNIONTOWN—Clement Gregg Llewellyn of Brownsville was elected superintendent of the schools of Fayette county on the third ballot at the convention of school directors. The Republicans had a majority of more than 20 in the convention, but were divided among the five candidates, while Llewellyn, who is a Democrat, received most of the Democratic strength and enough Republican votes to land him. He succeeds John S. Carroll of Dunbar.

WAYNESBURG—John E. Stewart was re-elected county school superintendent.

HOLLIDAYSBURG—Prof. T. S. Davis of Altoona was re-elected county superintendent of schools. His salary was fixed at $1,800.

MERCER—J. S. Fruit was not a candidate for county school superintendent, and F. F. Foltz of Wheatland was chosen.

KITTANNING—M. A. Milliron is the new county superintendent of schools.

NEW CASTLE—County Superintendent of Schools Robert G. Allen was re-elected.

MEADVILLE—Prof. John D. Goodwin remains county superintendent of schools.

EBENSBURG—The school directors of Cambria county unanimously re-elected Herman T. Jones as county superintendent and made his salary $2,000.

ERIE—The school directors re-elected Samuel B. Boyle superintendent by an unanimous vote, and increased his salary from $1,770 to $2,000. The city directors re-elected Henry C. Missimer.

BELLEFONTE—The school directors of Centre county elected D. O. Etters of Bellefonte, county superintendent.

OIL CITY—Prof. C. A. Babcock was re-elected superintendent of the city schools for three years. The courts were appealed to regarding the legality of the action of the school board, which ousted a member, said to be opposed to Babcock. Judge Criswell rendered a decision sustaining the Babcock faction.

LANCASTER—M. J. Brecht was re-elected superintendent of the public schools of Lancaster county for the eighth time.

TOWANDA—County School Superintendent H. S. Putnam was elected for the fourth consecutive term.

TUNKHANNOCK—The Wyoming county school directors elected Frank H. Jarvis county superintendent for the fourth term. An increase of $100 in salary was made.

BUTLER—Prof. R. S. Penfield, principal of the public schools of Chicora, was elected county superintendent of schools. John A. Gibson was re-elected superintendent of the borough schools at a salary of $2,500, an increase of $500.

AID TO FRENCH PLANS.

Cable Is Completed from Tangier to Cadiz—German Mission Leaves for Fez.

TANGIER, MOROCCO, May 2.—The French cable connecting Cadiz with Tangier, provided for by the Franco-Spanish convention, has been completed. The cable belongs to the French government and constitutes it is considered here another step toward the consolidation of French interests in Morocco.

Count von Tattenbach-Ashold, head of the German mission to arrange a special commercial treaty between Germany and Morocco, left here for Fez, today. Most of the members of the diplomatic corps and the principal native authorities gathered at the German legation to bid the count farewell, and a large crowd of Moors outside the building hailed him as the "Defender of Morocco."

BODY FOUND THREE DAYS AFTER DEATH

ALTOONA, PA., May 2.—(Special.)—The item printed Saturday last about Elizabeth McCaffrey's dead body being found in her home, conveyed the impression that the woman was unmarried. Instead she was the wife of Joseph Grindle, but had not been living with her husband for the past few years. Mrs. Grindle died suddenly while alone, and instead of her body being mutilated by rats, as reported, its condition was that of a corpse undiscovered for three days. Relatives at once took charge of the remains, and the funeral services were held in St. Mark's church at 3:30 p. m., Saturday. Sunday morning Bishop McGarvey preached a service for the deceased.

Eight-Mill Levy for Braddock.

At a special meeting of Braddock council yesterday the tax levy for the fiscal year was fixed at 8 mills, the same as during the last three years. The estimated expenditures are about $183,000. Steps were also taken for the construction of a wharf at the foot of Eighth street on the Monongahela river.

Camp Site Pleases General Miller.

Gen. Charles M. Miller of Franklin, commanding the state division, N. G. P., passed through the city last night for Washington. He said he was much pleased that Erie has been selected for the Second brigade encampment.

ENGLAND NEEDS OUR IMMIGRATION

Premier Balfour So Declares in Advocating Aliens' Measure.

COMMONS ADVANCES BILL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, May 2.—The house of commons reassembled today after the Easter recess. The debate on the aliens bill was commenced by Sir Charles Dilke (advanced Radical), who opposed the measure, contending that it was unnecessary. He was prepared to show, he said, that the aliens in this country had decreased in numbers during the last two years, while in his view the provisions of the bill dealing with the right of asylum of political and religious refugees was illusory.

Charles P. Trevelyan (Liberal) in seconding Sir Charles Dilke's motion providing for the rejection of the aliens bill, refered to the 'universal sympathy with the oppressed, misgoverned Russian people who are flying from their country to escape conscription for the universally detested war in Manchuria.

These, he said, would be excluded from this country or find greater difficulty in reaching America if the bill was passed.

Refers to American Law.

William E. Evans-Gordon (Conservative), defending the bill, said those who were opposed to the measure claimed that the similar American law was ineffective, but the ineffectiveness of the American law must be measured not so much by its effects at the ports of arrival but at the ports of origin. The American exclusion law operated at ports where the American government had no jurisdiction. The numbers of aliens rejected on their arrival in America were nothing when compared with the numbers who were refused by the shipping companies.

Home Secretary Akers-Douglass said the bill only aimed to exclude undesirable aliens. He described the excellent deterrent effect of the American exclusion law on this class of immigrants and disclaimed any anti-Semitic tendency on the part of the British government. One reason why he desired to see the question settled was that he believed that if the existing state of affairs continued, there would be a chance for anti-Semitic agitation in ignorant quarters.

Joseph Chamberlain supported the bill as being a measure tending to keep out cheap labor. He said the bill was merely a step towards greater things. The principal reason for its introduction and support by the ministerialists was because it was an effort to protect workingmen against the labor of foreigners.

Hopes for Protective Duties.

It would be but a small step between the bill for keeping out this class of labor and the bill which, Mr. Chamberlain said, he hoped to see introduced shortly, to prevent the goods these people made from coming into competition with those made in Great Britain. There was no logic in sayinf these people might remain at home and produce goods which Great Britain admitted free of duty.

Premier Balfour pointed out the moderation of the bill which, he maintained, did not interfere with the right of asylum, as it was understood by the forefathers and expressly provided that poverty alone should not exclude aliens. He said the question of alien immigration was wholly distinct from the Jewish question as it appeared on the continent. He agreed that the United States had shown a remarkable power of absorbing men of different nationalities and turning them all by a process of national alchemy into American citizens, but the absorbing power had limits. There were two modern conditions calling for modern remedies: First, facility of transport, and second, the fact that foreign countries, and notably the United States, realize that unrestricted immigration might become a great national evil.

America Gets Best Class.

It must be observed, the premier continued, how foreign legislation, and especially that of the United States, has reacted upon Great Britain. Many aliens en route to the United States, who were not provided with through tickets, have remained here, and many of those who reached the United States unfit have returned to this country. Great Britain had become a sort of sieve which let through the fit to America but retained the unfit. Unless something is done, Great Britain must remain a sieve in which only the useless dregs are left.

Sir Charles Dilke's amendment was rejected, 211 to 59, and the bill was seconded without division.

WOMAN WINS SCIENCE PRIZE.

She Is Dr. Nettie M. Stevens of Bryn Mawr, Now in Naples, Who Holds a Carnegie Assistantship.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—Announcement was made today that the $1,000 prize offered for the best laboratory research and investigation has been awarded to Nettie M. Maria Stevens, Ph. D., of Bryn Mawr college, by the Association for maintaining the American woman's table at the zoological station at Naples, and for promoting scientific research by women.

Dr. Stevens is an associate in experimental morphology at Bryn Mawr college, and the holder of a Carnegie assistantship.

Runs Away from Confirmation.

William Faller, aged 15, of Third street, Rankin, ran off yesterday after confiding to a companion that he was not good enough to be confirmed in church. He was a member of a class which is to be confirmed in St. Brendan's Roman Catholic church in the near future. The boy took with him his entire outfit of confirmation clothes. His father, John Faller, has been in Mercy hospital with a broken leg for three weeks.

His Shop Robbed While Ill.

Frank Kurtz, a McKeesport plumber, whose place of business is in Blackberry alley, yesterday entered his shop for the first time after a month's illness, and found that all his fixtures had been removed by thieves. The McKeesport police were notified of an attempted robbery at the home of Henry Lehman of Hopkins alley and John Jerthy of Versailles avenue. Kurtz' loss is several hundred dollars.

Pittsburgh Lawyer Goes to Chicago.

Willis F. McCook left last night for Chicago, where he will plead a case before the state supreme court. He refused to give the nature of the case, but intimated it would be several days before it would be settled.

WAITE PLEADS GUILTY TO SHOOTING ATKINSON

Waives Hearing on Charge of Murdering Skidmore—He Declares He Shot in Self-Defense.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, May 2.—Rosewell Waite, who last August killed Policeman Frank Skidmore and wounded Officer John Atkinson, gave an interview today concerning the shooting, in which he denies the sworn statement of Policeman Atkinson. Waite alleges that both policemen used their clubs before he opened fire. They had been sent to Waite's home in response to a message from Waite's mother that her son had been abusing her. When the officers arrived Mrs. Waite was not at home, but Rosewell was waiting with a loaded revolver.

Atkinson says Waite fired at him and Skidmore at once, but Waite says he shot only after both policemen had emptied their revolvers without wounding him. Waite expects to secure his freedom on the grounds of self-defense. Today he retained Attorneys B. A. Winternitz and J. Norman Martin to defend him. Waite was arraigned before Mayor Hainer just before noon today and faced a charge of murder for killing Policeman Skidmore and a charge of felonious assault with attempt to kill and murder Policeman Atkinson. When the murder charge was read to him, Waite said: "I can't plead guilty to that. I don't know whether I shot that man or not." He entered a plea of guilty to the charge of felonious shooting. He was remanded to jail without bail.

STREET GRADES CHANGED BY ELEVATED TRACKS

The surveys committee of Allegheny councils last night considered ordinances providing for the change of grades at North avenue and Washington avenue, made necessary by the elevation of the Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne railroad tracks through the city. Director McIlvain was at the meeting and said that the adoption of his proposed plan to construct a viaduct at Washington avenue will save the city $300,000 and cause little damage to property. The ordinances were ordered printed for councils.

CHILD LABOR BILL BECOMES A LAW

Gov. Pennypacker Signs Delaney Act and the Mine Workers Measure.

CREATE STATE CONSTABULARY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, May 2.

The hopes of the Pennsylvania child labor committee, the Mothers' congress and kindred organizations which have been working to abolish child labor in the factories and workshops of this state are about to be realized. Gov. Pennypacker today signed the Delaney bill having this for its purpose, and also the Garner bill, indorsed by the United Mine Workers, prohibiting the employment of children under 14 years of age around the outside of anthracite coal mines and under 16 years of age in the inside workings of such mines.

The governor also signed bills creating a state constabulary; increasing the salary of the warden of the Allegheny county jail from $3,000 to $5,000 a year and the jail physician from $1,800 to $2,400, and authorizing the attorney general to employ attorneys to represent the commonwealth in criminal proceedings in the quarter sessions courts, if requested to do so by the judge of the district having jurisdiction.

Another bill signed authorizes employes of cities owning and operating water works to enter upon private lands through which may pass any stream or streams of water supplying such cities for the purpose of patrolling the drainage area and making investigations or inquiries pertaining to their sanitary condition.

More Rigid Inspection.

The Delaney bill raises the age limit at which children may be employed in factories from 13 to 14 years, makes 60 hours a maximum week's work, authorizes school authorities to issue employment certificates, provides that one hour shall be allowed for the noonday meal and directs that in every room where children under 16 years are employed a list of their names, with their ages, be posted. The bill provides a more rigid inspection of factories by the state factory department. It increases the salary of the chief from $3,000 to $5,000 a year and provides for increased salaries for other attaches of the department. The new law, which goes into effect immediately, Factory Inspector Delaney says, will be rigidly enforced as soon as its provisions are generally understood by manufacturers and others.

The Garner bill compels the securing of a certificate by all persons under 21 years of age before they can be employed either inside or outside the mines. The purpose in this is that the United Mine Workers may know the age positively of all such persons, and that no person under 21 years shall work around the mines unless he has the educational qualifications called for by the new law. These educational qualifications, in the case of those who can furnish a birth cetrificate, require that they shall be able to read, write and spell simple sentences in the English language. In the case of those who cannot furnish these birth certificates, the law requires that they shall also have a certificate from their last teacher, showing that they have studied as far as fractions in arithmetic. The penalty against the operators does not become effective until October 15, 1905.

May Abolish Coal and Iron Police.

The state constabulary bill was suggested by the governor in his last biennial message to the legislature, and was resurrected and passed by the house in the closing hours of the session, after it had been sent to the law and order committee by its opponents with the expectation that it would be allowed to die there. While the new law does not abolish the coal and iron police system in the state the governor believes that it will eventually accomplish this.

The bill provides for a state superintendent of police, who shall have under him four platoons of 50 men each. Each platoon is to be officered by a captain, lieutenant and five sergeants. They will have the same powers and prerogatives as conferred upon the Philadelphia police force, and shall do duty in any part of the state where their services are needed. The act carries an appropriation of $425,000. It originally provided that the state police shall, "as far as possible, take the place of the police now appointed at the request of the various corporations." This provision was stricken out by the senate and was inserted by the house.

Public Buildings Bill Vetoed.

"The effect of this bill, if it became a law, would be to authorize the board of public grounds and buildings to engage the services of 131 employes," says Gov. Pennypacker in vetoing the Scott bill reorganizing the department of public buildings and grounds. "The amount of their salaries and compensation, together with the increases of salaries and compensation to persons now employed, would amount to $216,960 for the ensuing two years.

"There is no doubt that when the new capitol is completed and furnished there will be necessary a considerable increase in the force of employes, and there will be needed for the heat and power plant and for other purposes some new classes of employes. But the capitol is not likely to be completed for another year, and until the next session of the assembly the board of public grounds and buildings will be able, with their present force and with the appropriations ordinarily made to them, to take care of the grounds and buildings."

CANAL WILL NOT AFFECT TRANS-CONTINENTAL ROADS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(Special.)—James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway, had a conference with Secretary Taft today and expressed his views on the relation of the Panama canal, when completed, to the business of transcontinental railroads. He told Mr. Taft that his road carried more tons per train-mile than any other in the country, and that the transportation by way of Panama could not be put on a basis which would injure the business of transcontinental systems.

ST. LOUIS CELEBRATES BIRTH OF SCHILLER

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—In celebration of the centennial anniversary of the birth of the German poet, Schiller, the bells in the German churches and Jewish synagogues were rung today and services were held. A floral bell was placed on the Schiller monument in St. Louis park by the women of the various German churches of the city. Ceremonies will continue throughout the week.

PASSED BILL OVER M'CLELLAN'S VETO

ALBANY, N. Y., May 2.—The senate today repassed, over the veto of Mayor McClellan, the bills transferring from the New York city board of aldermen to the board of estimate and apportionment the power to grant public franchises in that city. The board of estimate and apportionment consists of the mayor, comptroller, the presidents of the five boroughs and the president of the board of aldermen.

NAN PATTERSON IS FACING HER FATE

After Scathing Arraignment by Her Prosecutor, The Case Goes to Jury Today.

ACTRESS STILL OPTIMISTIC

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The fate of Nan Patterson, in her third trial for the murder of "Caesar" Young, will be in the hands of the jury early tomorrow. Assistant District Attorney Rand completed the closing argument for the prosecution shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon, and the court adjourned for the day. Recorder Goff announced he would charge the jury upon the opening of court tomorrow.

At the close of the argument today, after Prosecutor Rand had arraigned her in the most scathing terms, had asserted that her silence in this trial was a confession of guilt, had declared that her sister had lied on the stand and that her counsel had based his plea for her life on a foundation of fabrications, Nan Patterson said she still felt confident the jury would bring in an early verdict of acquittal.

"Mr. Rand is a fine orator," she declared, "but I know those 12 men will not electrocute a girl on oratory."

Mr. Rand consumed practically the entire day. He devoted a large part of his speech to a defense of himself and his methods in the present trial. He declared the charges made against him by Abraham Levy, attorney for the defendant, were unjust and misleading. He denied that he had been guilty of suppressing evidence that might have helped the Patterson girl. Said he:

Calls It a Rotten Cause.

"I take no offense at what the counsel on the other side in the exigencies of a lost and rotten cause was compelled to say. He accused me of every crime on the calendar and put me on trial at this bar for high crimes committed as a public officer. He told you that I thirsted for blood and had hounded Mrs. Smith. You observed my examination of Mrs. Smith. Did I ask her an impolite question? Did I not treat her throughout as a lady?

"Since when has Levy the right to tell me to be a gentleman? He swore to me to bring the blush to Mrs. Young's honest face to answer his questions. Have I tried to drag this defendant through the mire and covering her with stench, asked you to convict? Have I not treated her with the utmost consideration?

"I want and must have your confidence. If I could sway the judgment of men and paint the fair face of truth with a sweet cosmetic you would not listen to a word from me. If I could do these things there would be but one place for me, and that would be at this woman's side, a fit object of contempt."

Turning to the table where Nan Patterson sat, and pointing to her, Mr. Rand continued:

A Scathing Arraignment.

"And now as to the morning of the tragedy. Young has been described as being in a happy mood, and what were the reflections passing through the defendant's mind as beside him she rode in a cab downtown. In her drug-racked brain did she not hear the words, 'Nan, you've lost, you've lost; Caesar's going back to his real love, to his only love, to his wife; to the woman that saves his money and adorns his home. Back to the woman he has cherished.' Then the murder in her heart flamed into action, and she shot and killed. A little crack, a puff of smoke and a dead man lay prostrate on this woman's lap. And the wages of sin were paid.

"This woman, through all this rehearsal of her degradation and portrayal of vice and crime in which the name of Young has been mentioned at least 100 times a day, has not moved an eyelash with emotion. She is capable of composure enough to pretend that what she says is true. This woman, who was false to her husband, false to her lover, and false to her oath; how can anyone have effrontery to ask you to believe her tale?

"Her only statement has been that this man so loved her that rather than be separated from her a short time, he shot himself. A silly story. I wish that she had not been nailed in a lie which they did not dare attempt to support.

"Gentlemen, take counsel, not of your wishes, but of your solemn duty, and be not misled by the defense, whose silence is a confession of guilt. Be loyal to the truth, the same yesterday, today, tomorrow—eternal as the kingdom of God."

ASKS BANK TO SETTLE FOR CASHING CHECKS

Defaulting Bookkeeper's Acts Leads to Suit to Recover Funds Paid.

Attorney Frank C. Agnew, representing Tibby Bros., glass manufacturers of Sharpsburg, has filed a summons in a suit against the Farmers and Mechanics bank of Sharpsburg to recover several thousand dollars, said to have been given Paul E. Griffith, a defaulting bookkeeper of the plaintiff company, by R. M. Coyle, cashier of the bank, on checks indorsed with a rubber stamp. Tibby Bros. state that they have no account at the bank, and that the cashier had no right to cash the firm's checks when presented by its bookkeeper, without first consulting a member of the firm. The original amount was over $7,000, but it is said the bank repaid a portion of this to the glass firm and then refused to pay the balance.

Griffith, the bookkeeper, is now in jail, awaiting trial on a charge of embezzling funds belonging to Tibby Bros. He left Pittsburgh shortly after the glass firm became suspicious that everything in his department was not right. When the defalcation was discovered it was learned the bank had been cashing checks for Griffith for a period covering nearly two years, although Tibby Bros. had no account in the Sharpsburg institution, doing its banking business in Pittsburgh. The firm alleges that the bank should have at least called up the office by telephone and asked if the bookkeeper was authorized to ask for such accommodations at a bank with which the firm did not do business.

The checks had only an ordinary rubber stamp indorsement stamped on the back, and did not contain the written name of any member of the firm, it is claimed. Tibby Bros. say several checks, varying in amounts, were cashed every month.

After information was made against Griffith he was located in Portland, Oregon, and brought back to Pittsburgh by Detective Philip Demmel. He has been unable to secure bail, and will probably remain in jail until his trial.

BROOM MAKERS ADVANCE PRICES 25 CENTS A DOZEN

Over 75 Per Cent of the Output Is Turned Out by the Penal Institutions.

At a meeting of the Broom Manufacturers and Dealers association of Pennsylvania, held yesterday in the office of Robert Dickey & Co., 127 Water street, it was decided to advance the price of brooms 25 cents per dozen. The increase was necessitated by reason of the general advance of broom corn.

It is said that over 75 per cent of the brooms sold in Pittsburgh are prison made. The penal institutions are permitted to work five per cent of the inmates at broom making. While the brooms are made by machinery, yet the machines are all operated by hand, the law preventing the use of steam power. A large number of brooms are made at the Western penitentiary. Those made in the Moundsville (W. Va.) penitentiary are brought to Pittsburgh.

George Reichter was elected treasurer, and Ralph P. Young, secretary yesterday. The association has for its membership all the manufacturers and important dealers in Western Pennsylvania.

WANTS HUSBAND TO GET PENALTY

Mrs. Burns of Pittsburgh Tells Story of Desertion in the New York Court.

MAKES CHARGE OF BIGAMY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 2.

After searching 20 years for her missing husband who, she says, deserted her in Ballintemple, Ireland, Mrs. Mary Burns of Pittsburgh found him late last night at 305 East Eighty-fourth street, and had him arrested on charges of bigamy and desertion. When Burns was arraigned in the Harlem police court today by Detectives Jackson and Doolady, his first wife was not quite ready with her case, and Magistrate Breen, after an examination, held him in $2,500 bail for a further hearing tomorrow. Burns did not seem to be greatly disturbed at his predicament.

"I suppose you know what you are likely to get for this," said one of the detectives to him.

"Oh, I suppose I'll get a year, and then I'll go back to Venezuela and be rid of both of them."

It appeared from what Burns told the magistrate that since he deserted his first wife in County Cavan, in 1883, he has been a world rover, having been all over the three Americas. He kept track of Susie McHugh, a girl who left Ballintemple when he did, and four years ago he came to New York and married her. He admitted in court that he had married her legally, and that this could be proved by inquiry of the clergy of St. Boniface Catholic church, at 882 Second avenue, where the ceremony was performed.

Mrs. Burns said that on the day her husband left her he went with her brother, a drover, to sell some cattle at a fair. She says that with the money he got from the cattle he left Ireland. Two years ago, leaving her son in charge of her 20-acre farm, she came to America and went to live with friends in Pittsburgh. There she learned a short time ago that her husband was in New York.

"What do you want me to do with your husband?" asked Magistrate Breen of the woman.

She seemed uncertain, but finally said, "I want him punished as the law says." Then she began to cry. But she persisted in her complaint of desertion and bigamy.

The husband, Charles Burns, who is 41 years old and a street paver, admits the marriage, but says that it is now outlawed. Detective Sergeants Jackson and Doolady of the central office, who arrested Burns, say that he first told them that a woman with whom they found him was his second wife, but later he declared that he was not married to her.

The first Mrs. Burns told the detectives that she and Burns lived together only 18 months after their marriage and that they had one son, Edward, now 20 years old, and living in Ballintemple, Ireland, on the family's homestead, which is Mrs. Burns' property. She showed a marriage certificate, dated May 17, 1883, showing that she and Burns were married by the Rev. Terence Brady. Mrs. Burns said that the woman with whom she found her husband last night is Susie McHugh, who as a girl lived on the next farm to the Burns farm, when they set up housekeeping together in Ballintemple.

WALES CASE WILL BE HEARD IN WILKESBARRE

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 2.—An order was filed in the county clerk's office here today appointing Henry T. Beach of this city a commission to hear the evidence of Louis F. Hammerling of Wilkesbarre, in the suit of A. D. Wales of this city against President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, to recover $150,000 for settling the coal strike. The evidence will be taken at Wilkesbarre on or before August 1.

KIDNAPED A WIFE AND SENT HUSBAND FOR RANSOM

DES MOINES, IA., May 2.—August Leuth must serve 10 years for one of the most remarkable crimes in the annals of Iowa. He was convicted of kidnaping a wealthy farmer and his wife and secreting the woman in an abandoned school house near Tipton, while he sent the farmer back to the bank after a ransom of $50,000. The woman escaped and her husband returned with a sheriff's posse.

MODJESKA'S BENEFIT NETTED HER $10,000

NEW YORK, May 2.—Prominent actors and actresses in this city joined today in a testimonial benefit to Mme. IF A 2-CENT STAMP WILL SAVE YOU HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS AND YEARS OF SUFFERING AND ANNOYANCE, wouldn't it be a pretty good investment? If you are a sufferer from Catarrh or Deafness, send a 2 cent stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O., and they will mail you a sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, which has been proven by thousands to be a positive cure for all forms of Catarrh and its kindred affliction—deafness. Easily applied—gives instant relief, and you'll thank us for the advice. For sale by druggists. If not, a full sized jar will be sent prepaid on receipt of 50c. But send for the sample first. That'll prove the claims of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm.

"The sample box of your Catarrh Balm cured my headache. I am not subject to headache, but I got the grip, which caused headache, and the tablets which my doctor gave me afforded only temporary relief. My sister, who is living with me, also wrote for a sample and has not had such relief as it gave for years; she has been deaf for 25 years, and the Balm is also helping her hearing."
Mrs. Eliza J. Blyers, Rochester, Ill.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do For YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly" begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

I was out of health and run down generally; had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow felt that that they might be, and I began taking Swamp-Root. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root, and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system. It has cured me, making me stronger and better in every way and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers.
Gratefully yours,
Mrs. A. L. Walker, 331 East Linden St., Atlanta, Ga.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

How to Find Out

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

(Swamp-Root is pleasant to take.)

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—So successfully did Midshipman Thielman train his terrific cross-fire on Clarke's roaming Pirates at League park today that the valiant band, after one of the most stubborn resistances ever put up at the local grounds, were forced to haul down their smoky emblem in the ninth inning and surrender to the clever young Cardinal gunner. The score was St. Louis 3, Pittsburgh 1.

Only once did the return fire of the Pirates hit the run column, while the Cardinal batteries belched forth in the seventh inning for two doubles an dtwo singles, tearing three great holes in the visitors' defense and forcing the enemy to quit for the first time in a week. Early in the afternoon Capt. Clarke, with his crew, minus the Clymer, who has been indefinitely suspended by President Pulliam pending an investigation of the encounter the day previous, reconnoitered the Cardinal position, glanced at his percentage of victories and figured that another gain with a loss by McGraw would just about land him at the top of the heap for his return Friday to meet Kelley's Reds.

Gunner Robertaille, a slight lad of 122 pounds and not more than five feet four, was elected by the Pirate captain to pilot the bunch safely through the Cardinal opposition, as he had done with other opponents each time he has had a chance this season.

There was just enough batting in the game to make it exciting, both teams driving the sphere to the fielders for a total of 16 put-outs. The spectacular catches of Dunleavy in the fourth inning when he ran almost into center field for a fearful drive from Leach's bat and captured the ball with his right hand outstretched, robbing Tommy of an easy triple, and "Spike" Shannon's race to the left field bleachers after Howard's powerful drive into the sky, brought the small crowd to its feet.

The pirates wanted a run badly in the third inning when the bases suddenly became filled and Beaumont, a terror to box men over the circuit, struck out and Hans Wagner walloped one down to Brain. Capt. Dave, who has been playing a clever game for the last two days, fumbled the ball and Carisch scored. The bases were still full when Dave a moment later captured Clancy's drive and put it on Hans at second. It was a narrow escape for Thielman and he extracted himself very nicely.

Again in the seventh inning Howard was on third and Capt. Clarke on second. A hush fell on the faithful as the game's grand slugger and fielder walked to bat. A hit meant two runs. Thielman opened first from the side of the box and Hans struck out. The score:

Sixth race, 6 furlongs—Flyback, 95, Baird, 13 to 5 and 9 to 10, won; Oxford, 102, Hildebrand, 18 to 5 and 6 to 5, second; Toscan, 117, Odom, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:12 2-5. Drene Lindsay and Teacress also ran.

JIM SHULTZ WINS GAME, GIVING A SHUTOUT

McKeesport yesterday at Steel Works park beat the Jones & Laughlin team 9 to 0. Jim Shultz was too strong for the visitors and was found for only six hits. Herman Soffel made a strong bid for a homer in the sixth when he sent a screamer to deep right. He was nipped at the plate by a hair. Soffel come within an ace of getting a cartload of prizes offered for the first homer. Score:

GREATEST STATE SHOOT IN HISTORY

230 Experts Face the Traps at Brunots Island—Leading Shooters Here.

A. H. KING SHOOTS SECOND

The greatest trap shooting tournament in the history of that branch of sport, outside of the Grand American handicap, which is the banner event of this country, is the state shoot, which is now on at Brunots island under the auspices of the Herron Hill Gun club, and of which Elmer Shaner is manager. This shoot opened yesterday morning and the record shows that during the day 230 shooters faced the traps.

The event is the fifteenth annual shoot of the Pennsylvania State sportsmen's association and for which the Herron Hill club has made the most elaborate preparations. It is conceded by all shooters that the arrangements for the tourney are the most complete they have ever known. Manager Shaner, who has charge of all the Grand American handicaps, has had the experience and knows just what is wanted to make a tournament a success and that is just what he has down on the island. This includes the handling of the targets and everything else that is necessary in such affairs for the comfort and convenience of the shooters as well as the outside public.

Among the shooters to face the traps yesterday were many of the leading experts of the country, about the only ones of national reputation missing being Fred Gilbert and Bill Crosby and the reason they did not come was because of prior engagements. Of course the local shooters are in the majority and they were all out yesterday, in fact there were some in attendance who have not taken an active interest in the sport for many years, and among that number was Dr. Cundall of Washington, Pa., who was one of the very best in his day.

Among the visiting experts is Tom Marshall, former mayor of Keithsburg, Ill., who was the winner of the two Grand American handicaps and who was also captain of the All-American team which visited Europe a few years ago and swept everything before it. The ex-mayor voiced the sentiment of all the shooters when he said yesterday: "This is by far the greatest state shoot in the history of the sport. There is nothing that has been left undone to make it a success and also for the comfort of the shooters. But then it could not be anything but the greatest when Elmer Shaner is at its head for he is a wonder sure enough."

The best records for the day were turned in by C. A. Young of Springfield, O., who missed but six birds, and A. H. King of this city was a close second with but seven misses. The work shown by nearly all the local shooters was of the highest order and if kept up will land the honors here. Today's program calls for seven events, six events, four at 15 targets and two at 20 targets. There will also be five state trophy events shot off. The scores made yesterday follow:

A POLITICIAN WHO IS A PUGILIST

One of the Most Prominent Men of the City Indulges in the Manly Sport.

STRIKES A HARD BLOW.

Sensational Bout Between the Pittsburgher and a Professional.

One of the most prominent politicians of the city is fast earning renown as a prize fighter. He has refrained from fighting in public, but a sensational bout he had the other night with a professional is being much talked about among sporting men.

This glove contest has aroused almost as much discussion in fact as the sensational sale of spring clothing now in progress at the Liberty Clothing Company's store. Just now you can buy a first rate topcoat, correctly tailored and right up to style, tan covert, for only $6.50.

A lot of topcoats, made for the swell dressers, elegant new styles, silk lined throughout, perfectly tailored. These topcoats come in the ever popular coverts and would cost you $25 to $30 to have made. Our price only $12.50.

Smart, elegantly tailored sample suits, all the new spring styles and usually sell at a pretty stiff price at other retail stores. These suits come in thibets, worsteds, cheviots, vicunas and the gunmetal gray worsteds and cassimeres that are the real thing this season. These suits are really worth $15 and $20. Our prices $10 and $12.

First class spring business suits for men in the ever popular thibets, very swell, single and double-breasted styles, good workmanship, $7.50.

Fine new spring suits for young men, the best ever sold for the money. They come in all the new materials, shades and styles. The tailoring is strictly perfect in every detail. Only $6.50, $10 and $12.

Men's spring suits in fancy Scotch cheviots, plaids and stripes, elegant new styles. These suits are quite swagger. The tailoring is perfect. Only $7.50.

Men's blue serge suits, single and double-breasted; most serviceable and always becoming; first-class workmanship; our price only $7.50.

Fine new line of spring raincoats, very swagger style, correctly tailored and serviceable. Special prices $6.50, $8 and $10.

A fine line of men's white and fancy vests, all sizes from 32 to 46. See window display. Our price only $1.50.

Our regular $3 and $4 Scotch cheviot pants, strictly all-wool, newest styles, we are selling at the unheard-of prices of $1.39 and $2. You will buy several pairs of them when you see them.

Our Liberty $2 Hat is the equal of any $3 hat in the market. Comes in all the new shades, both soft and stiff.

The Liberty Shoe for men is the finest in the world. All sizes and shapes, at $2.50, $3 and $3.50.

Pittsburgh Public Schools Are Already Teaching Pupils to Be Kind to Animals.

CHANGE CHILDISH INSTINCT

The new act adopted by the legislature, providing for the imparting of instruction bearing on the humane treatment of animals, in the primary departments of the public schools, does not need to be put into operation in the Pittsburgh schools, for already the pupils are given more than a half hour's teaching each week on why they ought to treat animals kindly. It is declared that so much time is incidentally spent in treating of humanity toward dumb beasts and birds that the pupils grow up indoctrinated with kind-hearted principles.

The new statute is known as Act 41 of the general assembly. It enacts "that a system of humane education, which shall include kind treatment of birds and animals, shall be included in the branches of study now required by law to be taught in the common schools, such instruction to be given to all pupils, up to and including the fourth grade of the public schools of the commonwealth, and to consist of not more than a half-hour each week, during the whole term of the school." The law enacts that no experiment upon any living creature, to demonstrate in physiology, shall be permitted in any public school of the state.

Zoology Abounds With Kindness.

It was learned yesterday from Miss Jennie Ralston, principal of the normal department of the Pittsburgh high schools, that the girls who are to teach in the Pittsburgh public schools get plenty of knowledge of humane treatment of birds and animals in their lessons on zoology. They have no special half-hour, it is true, when kindness to animals is taught specifically, but there is not a lecture on zoology, one of the pupils said, in which they are not told that they ought to treat insects, birds and animals with deference, respect and love. In the subject song-birds—they are instructed that a bird that can sing and won't sing must not be made to sing, as taught by the old adage, but must be induced to warble by kind and loving treatment. In the subject cats, the budding teachers are taught that they must not punish the cat for eating the song-bird, for nature has given the song-bird liquid notes, so that the cat may hear that its dinner is ready for it, nature having put it up to the bird to sing and look out for the cat at the same time.

When the girls thus trained go into the schools to teach they will begin to put the humane principles they have learned into the minds of the pupils, that they may find that the instinct to kick the dog, stroke the cat's fur the wrong way, turn the rat loose to beat it to death with a broom, whip the horse, twist the cow's tail, throw bricks at the goat and build a straw fire under a balky horse, has been totally eradicated, and in its place there has been substituted the principle of great love for birds and animals. For it is understood that the teachers in the public schools, instructing about animals more than a half-hour each week, incidentally teach the children to be good to dumb brutes.

Lessons on Kindness to Brutes.

In fact, the primary school books have lessons on kindness to animals, so that it will not be considered necessary to devote a half-hour each week to the subject of humanity, nor is it considered advisable to teach that ethical principle as if it were a lesson to be conned by rote and then forgotten as soon as the pupil leaves the school.

Indeed, so general has the subject of kindness to animals been taught in the public schools of Allegheny county that old coal miners are said to have been complaining of the delay created by the boys employed to drive the mules in the mines. The boys have learned not to follow the old plan of throwing a lump of coal at the head of a stubborn mule, accompanying the missile with a curse; instead, they are familiar with the principle of coaxing the mule and kindly urging it to move along. The miners complain of this. And it is said that the mules, if they could talk, would register a protest. It is in violation of all traditions of the treatment accorded the mules for generations back. The sight of half a dozen mine boys thus arguing with their mules in a mine passage, completely blockading it, is not edifying. No wonder the miners complain.

Mad Dog Alarms Lawrenceville.

A bull terrier, apparently mad, and exhausted from running from a crowd of children who were chasing it, took refuge under the porch of William Morris' house at 2518 Mulberry alley, about 6 o'clock last night, and was there shot by a policeman. As the dog rushed through the streets with foam dripping from his mouth, pedestrians gave way, and much relief was felt when it was known that the animal was dead.

Money for a New Organ.

The Church club of the Episcopal Church of the Atonement, at Carnegie, will give a concert in the Carnegie music hall in that place tomorrow evening. The program will be furnished by the people from the Curry Conservatory of Music under the direction of Simeon Bissell. The proceeds will be used toward the payment of the new pipe organ which was recently placed in the church by the club.

ZANESVILLE WINS GAME EASILY AT HOMESTEAD

Homestead hit hard enough yesterday, but the poor work of the infielders coupled with the ability of the Zanesville players to wallop the ball resulted in another victory of the Ohioans, 10 to 4. Zanesville took kindly to Nolan's and Jim Hollis' curves. The score:

ANALYSIS SHOWS NOTABLE GAINS

Philadelphia Co., With But Small Capital Increase, Obtained Great Earnings Growth.

SPECIAL REPORT IS ISSUED

Copies of a close analysis of the statement of the Philadelphia Company, made at the annual meeting on Monday, were issued yesterday. The analysis is remarkable in its results. In the resume of the statement, which is made by Haskins & Sells, certified public accountants of New York, it is stated:

It is apparent from the foregoing figures that the physical property of the Philadelphia Company has not only been fully maintained during the last year out of the charges made against its income account, but also that it has been vastly improved. With an increase of only 1.69 per cent in the amount charged to those capital accounts which are representative of its physical operations, there has been an increase of 58.53 per cent in the miles of pipe lines which it owns, an increase of 66.67 per cent in the number of its pumping stations, an increase of 35.85 per cent in the number of its producing oil wells, an increase of 63.74 per cent in the number of its producing gas wells, and furthermore, there has been a greater increase in the operating efficiency of the plant than that represented by the increase in the miles of pipe line, the number of pumping stations, and the productive oil and gas wells, as is indicated by the fact that while these properties have increased 58.53 per cent, 66.67 per cent, 35.85 per cent and 63.74 per cent, respectively, the gross earnings of the company have increased 168.73 per cent; that is to say, that at the end of the last year, each mile of pipe line was, on the average, earning over one and two-thirds times as much as each mile was earning on March 31, 1899; that each pumping station was pumping one and one-quarter times as much gas on the average as was being pumped by each pumping station on March 31, 1899; that each oil well was yielding one and one-quarter times as much revenue to the company as each oil well which the company owned on March 31, 1899, was yielding, and that each gas well was yielding over one and two-thirds times as much revenue to the company as each gas well owned on March 31, 1899, was yielding.

In leading up to this resume the accountants point out the fact that the company charged to the property and plant account on March 31, 1905, $11,020,601.22, but that this figure includes $1,350,000 for the Brunots Island power station and $136,094.67 for the Maude mine. Both of these, the report says, should be considered in the nature of an investment rather than as a part of the company's property and plant. The elimination of these two investments reduces the property and plant charge to $9,534,506.55. The amount charged to this account six years before was but $158,210.84 less, and that amount represents the net increase for six years in the capital expenditures of the Philadelphia Company for the purpose of carrying on its physical operations; that is, producing, selling and delivering natural gas and oil.

POLICE TEAMS WILL PLAY.

There Will Be a Street Parade, Band Concert, and a Big Fuss at the Park.

The ball game to be played today at Exposition park between the police nines, the Reds and the Blues, will be preceded by a street parade of all the players in uniforms and as many of the city officials as can be induced to take part in it. Twenty carriages have been secured for the occasion and a short street parade will take place before the game, starting at the public safety building at 1 o'clock. A brass band of 40 pieces has been engaged to head the parade, the chief marshal of which will be former Superintendent of Police Solomon Coulson. At the park the band will give a concert of selections of Pittsburgh composers.

The game will start at 3 o'clock, at which hour Walter Black, chief clerk to Mayor Hays, who is to be the umpire, will receive the ball from the mayor and will open the hostilities. The mayor and many other city officials have promised to attend and it is likely a half-holiday will be declared because of the occasion.

The sale of tickets has been large, and if only the weather is good it is expected there will be 10,000 people present.

Al Wagner in a Bad Way.

A letter received from Al Wagner, brother of Hans Wagner, who began the season this year with the Montreal team of the Eastern league, states that Wagner is unable to play in Buffalo on account of two bones which were broken in his leg last fall while playing with the Providence team. Wagner's leg gave out after playing a week at second base with Montreal, and upon consulting a specialist in Buffalo, it was found that two bones were fractured. He is staying at the Cheltenham hotel in Buffalo and receives daily treatment, under which he is improving.

SOCIETY

THE spring social season will be an unusually short one this year, Easter having come so late. Already many prominent families of Pittsburgh and Allegheny are preparing to close their town homes and open those where they will spend the hot months. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darlington expect to leave their Irwin avenue home on May 15. The early part of the summer Mr. and Mrs. Darlington and their son, Harry Darlington, Jr., will spend at "Seven Oaks," Mamaroneck. The latter part of July they will open their Watch Hill home intending to spend August there, and will later return to Mamaroneck. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Stoddard, who are now in New Haven, will spend the greater part of the hot season with them. Mrs. Louis W. Dalzell of Ridge avenue, has taken apartments at the Ocean House, Watch Hill, for the summer, and Mr. and Mrs. John Moorhead, Jr., are talking of going to the same resort. Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Rhodes will have a cottage in Watch Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Park Painter will be other members of the local colony.

Entertaining for Mrs. Dalzell.

Covers will be laid for 12 at the luncheon which Mrs. Charles Alexander Rook of Ellsworth avenue will give this afternoon. Mrs. John Dalzell will be the guest of honor. The other guests will include Mrs. Emmett Queen, Mrs. Francis T. F. Lovejoy, Mrs. Richard M. Jennings, Mrs. Sarah Henry of Bradford; Mrs. Mortimer C. Miller, Mrs. David McCargo, Mrs. George Heard, Mrs. Alexander W. Rook, Mrs. Helen Rook Carroll and Mrs. William Flinn. Mrs. Dalzell will be guest of honor at several informal affairs during her visit here. Mrs. Richard Morley Jennings gave a delightful little card party yesterday afternoon at her home in Fifth avenue. Six tables, with six-hand euchre as the game, were called into play, and prizes were awarded Mrs. William Wolfe, Mrs. William Blackstock Rodgers and Mrs. W. Linford Smith. White and yellow was the color scheme, carried out in marguerites. Miss Bingaman of Westminster place, Shadyside, will be hostess at an informal little tea for Mrs. Dalzell tomorrow afternoon.

Indian Princess in Pittsburgh.

At the Church Home fair tomorrow there will be several new features in connection with the tea room, which is in charge of the Altar society of Trinity church. Mrs. Carroll H. Fitzhugh is president of the society; Miss Willa Forsyth, secretary, and Mrs. Edward Hanna Small, treasurer. They will be in charge of the tea room and will be assisted by several other members of the society. A real Indian princess of the Cherokee tribe has been engaged to tell fortunes. An English flower stand will also be in evidence and the tea table, a beautiful old mahogany board, which was a part of the John J. Schoenberger estate, will be made still more beautiful with Mrs. Small's handsome silver service and with white lilacs.

Bridal Couple Arrive Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Harbison arrived in Allegheny last evening, having concluded their wedding trip in the east. Mrs. Samuel P. Harbison of Brighton road, Allegheny, will give a large reception this afternoon for her new daughter-in-law, who was formerly Miss Helen Harris of Toronto, Can. Her mother, Mrs. Elmore Harris of Toronto, is expected in the city this morning to receive with the hostess and her guest of honor at the reception. Mrs. Harbison is also entertaining as her house guests Miss Virginia Sherrard and Miss May Sherrard of Chambersburg.

Dance at Oakmont Boat Club.

Miss Margaret V. Tiers, whose wedding to William Hepburn Tinsman will take place on June 21, was the guest of honor at the dance given at the Oakmont Boat club by Miss Emma Johnston last evening. Seventy guests were present, among them Miss Florence Rodgers of Crafton, Miss Edith Stockton and Miss Mary Gilson and Miss Bertha Patterson from this city. The club house was prettily decorated with spring flowers, apple blossoms prevailing.

Arrangements for Euchre Complete.

All arrangements are complete for the euchre to be given this evening in Conservatory hall, Dithridge street, for the benefit of the Pittsburgh Home for Babies. Four-hand euchre will be the game, and preparations have been made to have 75 tables in use. Thirty prizes have been donated, among them being two theater boxes. The officers of the home are Mrs. Mary H. Pickering, president; Mrs. A. M. Wilson and Mrs. J. H. Perley, vice presidents; Mrs. J. E. Wehrli, treasurer, and Mrs. H. Finkelpearl, secretary.

Dinner for Senior Class.

Miss Jane Clarke, a member of the faculty of the Pennsylvania College for Women, gave a dinner last evening, at the college, in honor of the senior class. The day was also the birthday of Miss Elizabeth Pew. The members of the class are Miss Elizabeth Pew, Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Florence Van Wagoner, Miss Helen Moore and Miss Frances Fitzgibbon. Other guests present included Dr. S. A. Martin, president, and Miss Eastman, dean, of the college, and Miss Harriet Pew. The table was handsomely decorated with American beauty roses, the class flower.

Rigdon-Smith.

Very quietly the wedding of Miss Mabelle Rigdon and Robert W. Smith, Jr., took place last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret J. Rigdon, in Howe street, East End. The Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock. There were no attendants. The bride was simply gowned in white organdie, over white silk, with trimmings of valenciennes lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. After the wedding supper the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip and will return to be at home in Ivy street, East End, after June 1.

Returned from Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goehring, who were married early last month, have returned from their wedding trip and are now at home at the Hotel Schenley. They announced days at home after June 1 at the Kenmawr, but instead have gone to the Schenley where they were married. Mrs. Goehring will be remembered as Miss Henrietta Goehring, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Goehring of Wilkinsburg.

Announces a Wilkinsburg Wedding.

Cards were issued yesterday announcing the forthcoming wedding of Miss Gerthaw M. Crider, daughter of Daniel H. Crider of Wilkinsburg, and Ward Riggs of Mt. Washington. The ceremony will take place Tuesday, June 1, at the bride's home in South avenue, Wilkinsburg.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Moran announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Emily Gertrude Moran, and Charles A. Lyons, which took place on April 27. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons will be at home to their friends after June 1, in Woodward avenue, West Park.

The wedding of Miss Anna Burke and Leo Egler took place yesterday morning in St. James' Roman Catholic church, Sewickley. The Rev. Father F. F. O'Shea officiated, and the couple was attended by Miss Burke, the bride's sister, and Anthony Egler, a brother of the groom. The ushers were George and Anthony Hegnar. Following the ceremony, friends were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Egler at their new home in Henry avenue.

Members of the Young Women's Mission circle of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church are arranging for an entertainment to be given in the church on Tuesday evening, May 16.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Annual Social Day of Woman's Club.

One of the most delightful social meetings of the Woman's club of Pittsburgh was conducted yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James S. McKelvey in McKee place, Oakland. Formerly it was the club's custom to hold a rose fete, but for the last three years this has been abandoned because of the uncertainty of the weather, and a social gathering indoors substituted. Mrs. McKelvey, assisted by the president of the club, Mrs. Robert D. Coard, received. An informal program was presented and the gathering was social in character. The house was prettily decorated with clusters of yellow daisies, these being the predominating flowers, while violets, garden flowers and ferns appeared in different rooms.

The special features of the afternoon were the travel talks given by several members and their visitors. The president, Mrs. Smith, told of some winter days in Florida; Mrs. John D. Hamilton of Coraopolis, who spent several weeks in Porto Rico during the past winter, told of her impressions of life in the island and the condition of the women there; Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg gave a bright account of incidents connected with the meeting of the National Congress of Women, recently held in Washington, D. C., and which was attended by women of several nationalities. Miss McKnight, the president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke of women's clubs in different parts of the United States, among which the Pittsburgh clubs stand high.

The presidents of several of the other women's clubs in Pittsburgh were guests of the Woman's club yesterday, among them being Mrs. James R. Kibler, president of the New Era club; Mrs. William Macrum of the Travelers; Mrs. John Cowley of the Tourists; Miss Julia Harding of the Twentieth Century club, and Madame Raymond Gros of the l'Apres midi Francaise. After the program was over the women had a group picture taken. Tea was then served, members of the social committee acting as aids. The committee includes Miss Caroline Blumberg, Mrs. Anthony W. Smith, Jr., Mrs. James S. Dinwiddie, Mrs. Abbot S. Cook, Miss Anna Gerwig, Mrs. Florence E. Lea, Mrs. Harry Lineweaver, Mrs. G. L. W. Price, Mrs. Harrington L. Butler, Mrs. Frank Whitesell, Mrs. John D. Hamilton, Mrs. Louis F. Newman, Mrs. Francis H. Brown, Mrs. A. W. Bean and Mrs. Edward H. Straub.

Home for Incurables Donation Day.

The annual donation and reception day at the Protestant Home for Incurables, Butler and Fifty-fifth streets, will be Thursday, May 18, when the managers will receive from 2 o'clock until 6. Arrangements were made at a meeting of the board yesterday. Miss Malinda Pressly, president of the board, was present for the first time in over two years. Her return after a long confinement in her home as a result of an accident, was the occasion for an enthusiastic welcome on the part of the managers and the residents in the home.

Plans for the new home for men are not yet completed, but work is being pressed forward and in a few weeks the managers hope to be able to fully decide upon them. They now have $37,000 for the new building, which is expected to cost about $[illegible],000, and to accommodate 20 men. During the past six months an endowment of $20,000 has been received, $10,000 of which was announced yesterday morning. All donations received on donation day, which are not specified for some particular object, will be devoted to the endowment fund which is needed for the institution in order to cover the expense of maintaining it when the new building is erected.

The managers include Miss Christine Arbuckle, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Miss Mary Aiken, Mrs. Maria D. Book, Mrs. Robert Donnell Book, Mrs. Paschall Carr, Miss Catherine Creighton, Miss Margaret E. McCandless, Mrs. James H. McCutcheon, Mrs. A. Clark Dravo, Mrs. J. J. Donnell, Mrs. H. D. W. English, Miss Martha A. Howard, Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Jr., Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. John H. McKelvey, Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis, Mrs. Mary C. Long, Miss Malinda Pressly, Miss Mary W. Pusey, Miss Anna D. Robinson, Mrs. Norman M. Smith, Mrs. George K. Stevenson, Miss Eleanor J. Stevenson, Miss Bessie J. Stephenson, Miss Eleanor Sawyer, Mrs. G. M. T. Taylor, Miss Alice W. Tindle, Mrs. John Woodwell and Miss Eva W. Wallace.

Approve Next Year's Program.

The report of the program committee, composed of Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis, Mrs. Orlando Metcalf and Mrs. Harry W. Armstrong, was presented yesterday at the meeting of the Woman's club of Oakmont, and accepted. The club next year will take up Holland for study. The president, Mrs. Thomas P. Henderson, was absent and Miss Wade, the vice president, presided. Mrs. Charles B. Price was leader. Nineteenth century writers in Italy were discussed, Mrs. W. E. Bair speaking of Manzoni, Mrs. Charles Batley of Leopardi, Miss Wade of Edmondo de Amicis, Mrs. J. M. Witherspoon of Carducci, Mrs. Clarence P. Tiers of Arthur Graf, and Mrs. Alexander Thomas of Grabiela d'Annunzio.

The next meeting of the club will be the annual meeting with reports and the election of officers. The nominating committee presented a ticket yesterday.

Reminiscences of Athens.

Mrs. Howard Morton gave a very delightful talk yesterday afternoon before the members of the Colonial club in telling of her impressions of the city of Athens. Mrs. Morton spent a couple of years abroad, and much of the time she traveled in Italy and Greece. Her talk yesterday was full of reminiscences of Athens and of its ruins of a wonderful classic period of architecture and sculpture. Mrs. G. B. Kellogg, a member of the club, has enjoyed the program of the past year so much that she will sail in June for Europe, expecting to commence her travels on the continent at Naples, and journeying northward. She will be gone over two months.

Mrs. Kellogg presided at the meeting which was held yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. Edwin R. Sullivan. There was a very large attendance of members and the program was conducted under the direction of Mrs. William Pennock. It was a Hawthorne day and the roll call was responded to by the women with quotations from Hawthorne's writings. The club has decided to continue the study of Italy and Greece another year, it having proved so attractive during the past season.

Working for a Vacation Home.

Very clever and amusing is the little comedy to be enacted by the members of the Girls Friendly society of St. Mary's chapel, Oakland this evening in the gymnasium of the Alinde school, Fifth avenue and Clyde street. The play is the "Jack Trust," by Grace Sinistone Furniss, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the fund for a Vacation house.

The cast is as follows: Lord Jack Townley, "The Trust," who thinks himself irresistable, John O. Simpkiss; Jennie Patie, who quite agrees with him, Miss Winifred Ritscher; Clorinda de Courcey, a humorist in petticoats, Miss Lillian Ulrich; Eula Otis, a relic of "befo' de wah," Miss Elizabeth Bissell; Old Mrs. Boothby, whose actions speak louder than words, Miss Anna Davis; Maria, Miss Bessie Hively. Soloist, Mrs. William Collins.

Send Children to the Country.

The managers of the Home for the Friendless are arranging to send the children of that institution to the country soon. The older children will go to the home at Alpsville, while the babies will be taken to the home in Ebensburg. The family in the home is much smaller this spring than usual. The number at this time of the year is usually 150, while there are now only about 80 children and 16 old women in the institution.

Guest Day at Ben Avon Club.

The Woman's club of Ben Avon met yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. C. Knox in Brighton road, Ben Avon. It was guest day and the honor guest was Dr. Ella Goff of Allegheny, who spoke interestingly of her travels last summer in Switzerland. She had many photographs which she had taken. Miss Elva Sargent sang several songs.

Mrs. Rauh Credit Men's Guest.

Mrs. Enoch Rauh will be the guest of honor at the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Association of Credit Men, to be held this evening, at 6 o'clock, at the Union club. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner, and it is expected that some matters of important public interest will be discussed.

ASTHMA

Consumption—Bronchitis—Catarrh

Pure, light and unvarying atmospheric conditions are not sufficiently powerful to convert to an absolutely healthy state tissues which are filled with billions of gnawing bacilli, that multiply as fast as lightning flashes.

When nature or climate alone is relied on, the death of the bacilli cannot occur until the parts assailed commence to heal and thus render themselves unappetizing to the ravenous army of poisonous bacteria. But where the oily vapors of the great Vento-Medic Treatment are, by inhalation, taken into the air tubes of the lungs, a very different condition results. These vapors are germicides. Instead of first restoring the affected parts they destroy the bacilli as soon as they come in contact with them, and by so annihilating these constitution-wrecking legions, leave no opportunity for further decay. Then when the germs have been destroyed the oils remove from the system the remaining decay, completely heal the sore spots, prevent the intrusion of other bacilli, and build up the tissues into their original strong and healthy condition.

Testimony of Patients

Among the great number of patients who have been cured by the Vento-Medic Treatment we refer you to Mr. Thomas Hanlon, 8 Industry street, Third ward, Pittsburgh, who suffered twelve years from Bronchitis and Asthma; to Mr. Jacob Schmidt, Monongahela City, Pa., whose lungs became so affected that he was on the verge of giving up his work in the coal mines; to Mr. Harry E. Merritt, 512 Woodward avenue, McKees Rocks, Pa., who was troubled with a very difficult form of Asthma; to Mr. O. C. Lessig, 209 Cherry street, Allegheny, Pa., whose severe spells of coughing pulled him down in flesh and strength and compelled him to quit work; to Mrs. Mary Walsh, 1624 Windsor street, Allegheny, Pa., who for eighteen years suffered so much from Asthma that finally she was unable to sleep lying down, and in order to get any rest at night she had to sit up in a chair; to Mrs. Mattie Kiebach, 711 Madison avenue, Allegheny, Pa., who was afflicted with Tuberculosis of both lungs and did not believe that a cure was possible.

Write for Information. If you are unable to call at the office of the Institute in person, we can treat you by correspondence. We have special apparatus, together with our vapor-producing oils and medicines, for this purpose.

AMERICA NOW HAS A NEW PROBLEM

Japanese Coolies Entering and Labor Officials Will Appeal to the Courts.

HAWAII'S SUPPLY RESTRICTED

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The government may soon be called upon to face the question of the exclusion of the Japanese. The arrival at Seattle of the steamer Olympia with 610 Japanese coolies from the Hawaiian sugar plantations aboard, and the news that thousands more of these laborers are to follow has aroused the workingmen of the west to the danger of this competition, and already they have brought the question before the officers of the American federation here, who are expected and probably will make a fight against the importation by wholesale of Japanese labor.

It was at first thought that the terms of the Chinese exclusion act might be strained to include the other Asiatics, but this idea has been abandoned, because, in the first place, the United States government shows no disposition to so strain the act, and it is held that even if the disposition was there, the power is lacking. The labor men now propose to base their protest on a violation of the contract labor law, and it is understood here that the western labor unions have decided to make the Olympia's passengers the subject of a test case by going into court and asking for an order to prevent them from landing. No one in Washington is watching the situation more closely than Mr. Takahira, the Japanese ambassador. He has taken no action and will take none unless there is some action by either the courts or the government, which may be regarded as a discrimination against the Japanese. State department officers are also keeping a watchful eye on Seattle, recognizing that the question may give rise to some of the most bothersome questions which have faced the state department in a long time, both with China and Japan.

HONOLULU, April 26.—(Via San Francisco, May 2.)—Gov. Carter has appointed a board of immigration commissioners, as provided for by an act of the present legislature, to undertake a solution of the labor problem here. The act is a result of suggestions made by United States Commissioner-General Sargent, who is said to have expressed the opinion that Hawaii could get white labor if the proper steps were taken. The governor's appointees are A. L. C. Atkinson, secretary of the territory, president; J. J. Garden, J. P. Cook, J. H. Craig and E. D. Tenny.

The new law is an effort to provide a means of procuring a reliable labor supply for the plantations. The shutting off of the Chinese and reduction in arrivals of Japanese and others as well as the departure of Japanese have made the labor supply question one to which the planters have given considerable attention.

The new order of the Japanese government regarding immigration of Japanese here from their native land is said by the Hawaii Shinpo, a local Japanese daily, to be to the effect that only 100 men may come at a time, and that they must all be accompanied by their wives.

ROENTGEN IS TOO SHY TO SPEAK TO PHYSICIANS

Discoverer of X-Ray Declines to Attend Affair Being Held in His Honor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, May 2.—Prof. Roentgen is too shy to attend the international conference, called to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the discovery of the Roentgen ray and to explain the latest applications and developments.

The congress opened here April 29, and the professor promised to be present, but in spite of this, and although his name was on the program, he said he simply could not attend the sessions, as it would be impossible for him to face the crowd which had gathered to glorify his work. Consequently, the professor telegraphed his acknowledgements from Wuerzburg, Bavaria.

Dr. Charles Lester Leonard of Philadelphia, president of the American Roentgen society, regards the transactions of the congress as being of high value to the profession, because the results attained by many eminent experimenters have been gathered together and made available for the physicians of the world.

BLOW AT TIP NUISANCE.

Wisconsin's Governor Signs an Anti-Graft Measure Making Custom a Felony in That State.

MADISON, WIS., May 2.—The Stout anti-graft bill is now a law, the governor having affixed his signature to it today.

It provides that whoever corruptly gives or offers any agent, servant or employe any gift or gratuity whatever, with intention to influence his actions in relation to his employer's business, or any employe who requests or accepts such a gift, shall be liable to a fine of from $10 to $500, or by such fine and imprisonment for one year. It is claimed this law, if enforced, will put a stop to giving tips to porters, bootblacks or waiters.

NEW BRIGHTON GROCERS HERE

They Attend the Pure Food Show at Old City Hall.

A delegation of 25 grocers, representing the New Brighton Retail Grocers' association, attended the Pure Food show at Old City Hall last night.

The cooking lecture this afternoon will be given by Miss C. I. Trimble, directress of the department of domestic science of the Central Y. W. C. A., and will be one of the most interesting of the series thus far. Miss Trimble will demonstrate macaroni and cheese, creamed salmon in croustades of bread and in shredded wheat biscuit.

Tonight will be "Butchers' Night" at the show. The Retail Butchers' association will be present in a body, and will be the guests of the Grocers' association. Prof. John Todd of the Todd-Frey orchestra, has arranged a splendid program for the evening. Thursday night will be "Grocers' night."

NEW PRINCIPAL ELECTED.

Prof. R. M. Sherrard was elected principal of the Hiland school, Nineteenth ward, last night, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Prof. James P. Stevens, six weeks ago. There were 48 applications for the position, and Prof. Sherrard was chosen after several ballots had been cast.

Prof. Sherrard will take charge of the school the first of September. He is now principal of the Eleventh ward schools, Allegheny, which position he has held for six years. He was graduated from Washington-Jefferson college in the class of 1891. He taught in the Chambersburg academy and then four years at the State Normal school in Indiana.

SEVENTY-NINE DEAD OWING TO RIOTS

Probably 200 Wounded at Warsaw—Woman Killed While Praying in Church.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1905, by New York Herald Co.)

WARSAW, May 2.—Today the streets of Warsaw are filled with funeral processions. It is asserted that 70 people were killed at the corner of Jerusalem and Iron streets and four in the Praga district. Probably 200 people were wounded. Four people were killed at Lodz. All day crowds of highly incensed people have been crushing around the morgue in this city, which is in the main street. I have just paid a visit there. After fighting my way through a maddened crowd I forced a passage through an unwilling posse of soldiers, distracted to the verge of violence by the aggressive attitude of the mob.

I passed through a jealously guarded door and found myself in a courtyard full of police officials, one of whom promptly searched me for weapons or bombs. Then I went through a second court, leading out from the first and down 12 steps.

In an atmosphere reeking with the smell of carbolic acid I came to a sickening spectacle. There were 28 Corpses laid out, stripped to the waist, with their upper garments lying in a heap over their hips. Eight of the number were women. The face of one young girl, who appeared to be still a child, was badly disfigured.

The Nationalists have arranged the usual demonstrations for tomorrow, the 114th anniversary of the proclamation of the Polish constitution, and disturbances are highly probable. The workingmen are in an ugly and uncertain mood and have struck at all the factories. Great efforts are being made to bring about a general strike. Men are striking in other cities, 75,000 being out at Lodz.

KALISZ, RUSSIAN POLAND, May 2.—During an encounter on Monday between soldiers and workingmen, a bullet penetrated the walls of the church killing a praying woman.

TO INSPECT MINES.

Officers and Stockholders of Gold Mining Company Going to Sonora, Mex.

Officers and stockholders of the Pittsburgh and Sonora Gold Mining Company have started on a tour of inspection of the property of the company in Mexico. They left Pittsburgh yesterday in a special Pullman buffet car chartered for the trip. The party left over the Wabash railroad and will go as far as Cananea, Mex., over the Wabash lines, returning by the same route. Among the members of the party are the following:

President C. E. Conaway, Thomas A. Deveney, Harry Clark, Dr. T. J. Conaway, Paul McCoy, Ernest McCoy, all of Fairmont, W. Va.; Louis B. Bryden of Grafton, W. Va.; Carl Patterson of Bloomington, Md.; A. J. Ryan and Samuel L. Dillinger, both of Baltimore; John L. Lewis and Frederick Lewis of Pittsburgh; Vice President B. F. Overholt of Scottdale; Daniel Bowden of Carnegie; Dr. J. R. Smith, D. R. Wheaton and Terrence Fitzpatrick, all of Cleveland; Dr. J. A. McCullough of Steubenville and J. S. R. Overholt of Wooster, O.

PITTSBURGHER IN HARD LUCK.

Soldier Returning from the Philippines Is Put Off a Train and Becomes Ill in Ohio.

CLEVELAND, May 2.—(Special.)—A man who gave his name as William Meyer of Pittsburgh is at the White hospital at Ravenna suffering with that dread scourge of the Philippines, the beri-beri. He was recently discharged from the United States army at San Francisco and on his way from Cleveland lost his ticket.

He was put off the train at Hudson and started to walk. He walked to Ravenna, where the old complaint again seized him, and he fell on the tracks. He was found just before a train came along. He says his parents live at Pittsburgh.

LEE AN HONORARY MEMBER.

Southern Society of Pittsburgh Adopts Resolutions Upon His Death.

Resolutions of sorrow upon the death of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee of Virginia, were adopted yesterday by the trustees of the Southern Society of Pittsburgh, Gen. Lee having been an honorary member of the organization.

Gen. Lee is spoken of in the resolutions as a man of many virtues and sterling character, of broad patriotism and unswerving loyalty to duty. In his actions he exemplified the sentiment of a reunited country.

A copy of the resolutions were directed to be forwarded to the family of Gen. Lee and to the newspapers in Richmond.

President to Move Camp.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, COL., May 2.—Secretary Loeb returned from the president's camp today. The party will move to the East Divide creek tomorrow, having been delayed by heavy rains. The party will then work across the range to the head of Garfield creek, and on Sunday will ride into this city.

CALLS A HALT ON GAS PLANT DEAL

Newspaper's Plan for Citizens to Purchase Arrests Philadelphia's Councils.

WILL PAY THE PRICE ASKED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—As a result of the agitation against the leasing of the Philadelphia gas works to the United Gas Improvement Company for a term of 75 years for $25,000,000, the finance committee of city councils today decided to postpone action on the matter for the present and consider a proposition made by the Philadelphia North American. When the lease proposition was introduced in councils last week it was explained that the city was in immediate need of $25,000,000, and for that reason the city would have to lease the gas works for a long term of years.

The newspaper's proposition is that time be given to citizens to form a syndicate which shall pay to the city $25,000,000 in the same manner as proposed in the lease; that all revenues received by the city from the United Gas Improvement Company on account of the present lease to that company, which still has 21 years to run, shall be paid to a trustee, who shall pay the syndicate 4 per cent interest for one year and six months, and after that 5 per cent for the remainder of the 21 years. All the surplus of the revenues, above the interest charges, shall be applied to the liquidation of the principal of the $25,000,000 advanced. If any part of the principal remain unpaid at the expiration of 21 years, when the city shall regain control of the plant from the gas company, all net revenues shall then be applied to the liquidation of the principal, with 5 per cent interest. The newspaper pledges to subscribe $5,000,000 to any syndicate that takes up the proposition.

Mass meetings were held tonight at which speeches were made in opposition to the lease. The chairman of the committee having charge of the general mass meeting to be held tomorrow night said tonight the action of councils committee today would not interfere with tomorrow night's gathering. Plans are still going forward for a demonstration Thursday at City hall. One of the things decided on today was a meeting to be held on City hall plaza, at which prominent citizens will be asked to speak against the proposed lease.

Israel W. Durham, insurance commissioner of Pennsylvania, and leader of the local Republican organization, arrived home from Hot Springs, Va., today. He refused to talk for publication, but it is believed that he had much to do with the action taken by the committee of councils.

ENTERTAINED IN INGRAM.

Reception to Delegates of State Convention of United American Mechanics.

A rousing reception was tendered the delegates of the Fifty-ninth state convention of the Order of United Mechanics by the Gen. John A. Dix council of Ingram last night. The delegates left Pittsburgh in a special train at 7:30 and returned to the city shortly after midnight.

Dr. L. C. Botkin, master of ceremonies, introduced State Councilor Rev. J. A. Lyter of Harrisburg, Pa. The next speaker was A. P. Barnum of Allenport, junior ex-state councilor. A. B. Saybolt of Philadelphia, ex-state councilor, spoke on the object of such organizations as the Junior Order. He described the Ingram council as one of the best in the state. An address by Dr. L. C. Botkin closed the program. A lunch was then served.

The convention opened in the Monongahela house yesterday morning, and besides hearing the reports of the executive officers, held nominations for offices for next term. In the afternoon the delegates attended the Duquesne theater.

Another business session will be held at 9 o'clock this morning. At this meeting the question of changing the name of the organization will be discussed. The question of increasing the per capita tax so as to place an organizer in the field will also be taken up. This afternoon will be devoted to sight-seeing, and in the evening the visiting ladies will attend the Alvin theater. The convention will close tomorrow morning.

Whitney Joins Marty Hogan.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 2.—(Special.)—First Baseman Mert Whitney, secured by Manager Marty Hogan of the Ohio Works team from Baltimore of the Eastern league, and who quit the club because he would not stand for being farmed out, has joined the local team. The first game will be played here Wednesday with Canton.

Landing Cars from Pittsburgh.

COLON, May 2.—The steamer Santona, from New York, April 20, has arrived here and is discharging 140 flat cars from Pittsburgh and 1,500 tons of rails to be used in double-tracking the Panama railroad. Other shipments will follow.

STANDARD WILL TAKE THE ENTIRE PRODUCTION

Announces Intention to Place 150 New Storage Tanks at Independence, Kas.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDEPENDENCE, KAS., May 2.—The Standard Oil Company announces that it is its intention to perfect plans at once to take all the oil produced in this field. To this end it has just purchased 150 new 35,000-barrel tanks, which will be erected at once for storage purposes. The Standard now has more than 200 of these tanks in which it has about 7,000,000 barrels of oil stored. Back in the Ohio field the Standard has 11,000,000 barrels of oil in tanks, which it bought 17 years ago, and the tanks have never been emptied since that time. It is possible some of the oil now being purchased in Kansas may lie idle for that many years.

The frequent slumps in the price of crude oil is causing a cessation in field operations. Many of the largest operators are hanging up their tools and suspending all unnecessary work until there is a better market for the oil. If all the oil could be taken there is not the slightest doubt that instead of completing 250 wells a month, there would be 500 or 600 completed a month. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of apparently good territory yet to be drilled and investors are nervous to get at it, but the inability to dispose of the oil deters them.

There has not been a time since the field opened when so many men with money were in the field looking for leases or developed property to buy. In spite of the general idea that the present condition would put many properties on the market at a cheap figure, very few of these deals are being made. A few small companies are going under the hammer, more from bad management than anything else.

New Engine House for Millvale.

Millvale council last night appropriated $5,000 for the erection of a fine engine home and borough jail at Lincoln avenue and Sedgwick street, Millvale. The borough fire company now occupies a small antiquated structure in Lincoln avenue, which is annually flooded. Council repealed the ordinance giving a franchise to the Federal Telephone Company and demanding that the company remove the poles within 30 days to avoid confiscation.

The Truth about Whiskey.

The purity of Whiskey is based upon the distillation.

There is no more mystery about making whiskey than about making a Waltham watch.

The furnish (the grain) must be sound, the mash sound and the fermentation perfect—When the product is properly matured you have whiskey—The quality depends on the perfection of the method. The Gibson distillery has the most advanced machinery, uses the best grain and is to-day the largest producer of high grade whiskey in America.

Gibson's RYE is sold as "STRAIGHT" or BLENDED, but it is all Gibson's RYE and that means A PURE WHISKEY.

YOU ARE GROWING YOUNG! MOTHER

BANISH THOSE GRAY HAIRS!

Stop Falling Hair—Kill Germs of Dandruff

Thousands of mothers all over the country have ceased to grow old.—They are growing young again.—Their gray hairs are gone.—The natural color of the hair has returned and with it beautiful hair, soft and luxuriant. Any person can accomplish the same result by using Wyeth's Cream of Sage and Sulphur.

WYETH'S CREAM OF SAGE AND SULPHUR

Dandruff Cured

is positively guaranteed to GROW Hair no matter how Bald, provided one spark of life remains in the roots.

If all other so called remedies have failed. If you have given up all Hope —Give Wyeth's Cream of Sage and Sulphur a trial—you run no risk, if it does not cure your money will be refunded. Read of these marvelous cures.

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly, and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Cream of Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications removed the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

MISS E. A. BOSS,
Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grew Hair on Bald Head

For two or three years my hair and been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four month's ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

SWITCH RIGHTS CASE IS ARGUED

R. C. Hall Wants Pennsylvania Railroad Enjoined from Blockading Streets.

GOLDEN MAY BE SUED CIVILLY

Judge Young yesterday heard arguments and testimony in the equity suit of Robert C. Hall to enjoin the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from maintaining and operating switches in Liberty avenue and Third street. The case was still on when court adjourned. Hall claims the railroad obstructs free access to his property. He also claims the railroad violates the laws of the state and the city code by operating trains in Liberty avenue and in front of his property between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. and letting cars stand in the streets for unreasonably long periods. He claims that conditions have reached such a state as to amount to practically a confiscation of the private property rights of citizens. He claims the Third street switch is a temporary switch and should be discontinued.

The company denies that it is trespassing on Hall's property and contends that it does not unreasonably block the street. The company denies the right of Hall to be heard or to assert rights under any ordinance of the city, as it is a matter between the city and the railroad company. The company alleges the Liberty avenue tracks were constructed under its charter and that the plaintiff is not injured and cites the great demand for cars by shippers as reasons for loading and unloading in the street.

The railroad also makes a point of its Duquesne way system, which is being built to relieve Liberty avenue. Attorneys William Kaufman and Watson & Freeman represent the plaintiff and Patterson, Sterrett and Acheson the defendant.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been allowed by Judge Buffington to intervene in the suit of Ida Larkin against the city of Allegheny to prevent the transfer of that part of South Park wanted for a station. The arguments were made on the petition to intervene, J. M. Stoner, counsel for Mrs. Larkin, objecting to it. City Solicitor Porter said he had no objection if the court would require the railroad to pay the costs in the event the city lost its case. The railroad now becomes the real defendant in the case.

Another Magistrate Reversed.

Judge Shafer filed an opinion in the case of Max Haberl against the city of Pittsburgh reversing the decision of a magistrate who fined Haberl $10 for the alleged violation of a city ordinance in maintaining a chimney on South Seventy-eighth street. The court finds that Haberl is not violating the ordinance, which does not prohibit the erection of chimneys except those that are built so as to annoy neighbors by the smoke.

In criminal court Samuel Golden, a second-hand furniture dealer, was acquitted of a charge of larceny made by Rose Quigley of 1436 Penn avenue.

In the cases of ex-Councilman John Hock of the Thirteenth ward, Allegheny, charged with assault and battery and pointing firearms, nolle prosses were allowed, the defendant paying the costs. The suits grew out of trouble at the Republican primaries held December 27, last. The charge of assault and battery was made by William Pepperney, who alleged Hock choked and beat him; the other information was made by M. F. Cavanaugh, who alleged the defendant pointed a revolver at him. When the cases had been settled the defendant and prosecutors buried the hatchet by shaking hands.

Somerset county liquor licenses were argued before the superior court yesterday. In the petitions for license presented by nine applicants of this county last February the names of the bondsmen were not given, but the bond, duly signed, was filed with the petition in each case. The Somerset Prohibition alliance filed an exception on the ground that the petition did not comply with the Brooks law. The applicants contended that the bonds being filed with the petition gave the public the information required by law and asked leave to amend. The court decided that it had no power to permit such an amendment and refused the licenses. Appeals were taken. In the arguments the appellees raised the point that the bonds were prepared after the petitions were sworn to and that in some cases surety companies were offered as bondsmen, of which the court had no knowledge.

Other cases argued were E. L. Miller, appelant, vs. Cambria county, common pleas, Cambria county, a case started to settle coroner's fees; A. B. and H. S. Goldstein vs. the Adams Express Company, appellant, common pleas, Cambria county, an action over money claimed to have been lost in transit; Elizabeth A. Murray, appellant, vs. B. H. Murray, an action over an executor's compensation; the school district of Farmington township, appellant, vs. S. E. Carson, an action over a tax collector's bond.

An order has been made allowing May Pitcairn to take her husband, Albert Pitcairn, to Bedford county during the summer. Pitcairn is a lunatic and is in his wife's charge.

Alleges She Was Defrauded.

Celestia Gwynn filed a suit for $2,000 damages against John H. Fisher, alleging that he, with others, conspired to defraud and cheat her. She alleges that Fisher sold her 10 shares of stock of the Sheppard Manufacturing Company, for which she paid $500, and that he represented the business to be successful and paying dividends. She avers that he told her the company would buy back the stock if she was dissatisfied and that when she learned that the concern was not as represented she demanded her money and received a check for $100, which was no good, and a note for $400 which is still unpaid. She states that Fisher is about to leave the jurisdiction of the county courts.

Elizabeth Wernz filed a libel in divorce against Henry Wernz, alleging indignities. She claims that he abused her, called her vile names and threatened to kill her. She avers that on one occasion he set fire to the bed in which she was sleeping. Decrees were granted Ella Buzzard against Jacob Buzzard, and Emmanuel E. Etter against Carrie B. Etter, desertion being the grounds in each case.

Common pleas court No. 2 dismissed the demurrer of the defendant, Samuel F. Nixon, to the suit of the Allegheny County Light Company, and directed Nixon to file an answer. The suit is an action for the specific performance of a contract for furnishing electricity in which the plaintiff alleges a breach of contract.

A charter was granted to the Oak Leak club, a social organization.

Mary A. Jeffries entered equity proceedings against Frank E. Schlumpf to restrain him from conveying or encumbering property in the First ward, Sewickley. She asks the court to direct him to execute a deed of the property to her. She avers she agreed to purchase the lot, paying $500 down and $10 a month on the balance. She alleges that on April 11 Schlumpf informed her that she had defaulted in paying her interest and demanded the surrender of the agreement.

Opinion Filed By Judge Over.

An opinion has been filed by Judge Over of orphans' court, sitting in common pleas court No. 2, in the bill for the partition of the real estate of Conrad and Rosanna Reel. The latter died intestate, leaving several children. One of the latter also died intestate, but prior to his death had adopted a grandchild, whose mother was dead. The point at issue was whether this child could inherit both as a child and a grandchild. Judge Over decided that she took as a child only.

Judge Over also filed a per curiam in the case of B. A. Groah vs. C. E. McPherson. McPherson is restrained from assigning applications and patents for an improvement of gas heaters, encumbering the title thereof or manufacturing or selling the improvement as described in the application for the patent.

Executions issued: Ernest Petros and Paul Andros vs. George Karapolis and Peter Andrianos, $436 69; Jane N. Crossan vs. Daniel Edwards, $3,083 10; A. Goldman vs. M. E. Stewart, $111 25; Melvin G. Campbell, use, vs. Louis M. Young, $2,139 50; John M. Goehring vs. Albert M. Risher, $1 871 55; Elizabeth and Alice Harper vs. Robert M. Neal, $5,512 50; Germania Savings Bank vs. Annie M. A. Dunn, $1,301; M. Schertzer vs. Marcus Ward, $8,170 02; O. L. Merkt vs. Bradley Manufacturing Company, $194 09; same vs. same, $180 30.

TRUE BILL FOUND IN CASE OF BUNCO PREACHER

U. S. Grand Jury Holds the Rev. S. P. McKinney for Alleged Attempt to Get Money by Fraud.

The grand jury for the May term of the United States court finished its work yesterday afternoon and was discharged with the thanks of the court. The most important bill returned was that against the Rev. George R. McKinney, a Methodist minister, who is charged with mailing a letter in executing a scheme to defraud. He resided at Ingleside, Westmoreland county. He is charged with corresponding with W. Tilly, of Eureka, Cal., with intent to defraud him out of $50. McKinney is alleged to have represented himself as a woman and wrote letters proposing matrimony, signing himself as "Mary Robbins."

One of the letters sent by McKinney to Tilly is self-explanatory, being as follows:

"Ingleside, Pa., July 20, 1904.

"Mr. W. Tilly.

"Kind Sir:

"You have been highly recommended to me and I would like to correspond with you. I am a lady, 28 years old. I weigh 140 pounds, light complexion, light hair, blue eyes. I have always lived on a farm. I am 5 feet 7 inches high. I would like to exchange pitcures with you. Of course I am just a poor girl and have worked hard all my life. I can give the best of reference.

"MARY ROBBINS,
"Ingleside, Pa."

McKinney is said to have started a correspondence and then to have proposed the sending of certain sums of money with which to use as car fare to take "her" to the prospective groom.

The other bills returned were: Lowry A. Barnhart, making and passing counterfeit money; Abraham Aliskovitz, cigar manufacturer, using the same cigar box twice for cigars; Clarence Grimm, unlawfully intercepting a letter for another; Samuel H. Imel, making a false affidavit in a pension case; George Smith, making a false affidavit in a pension case; C. A. Lane and Richard Oliver, mailing letters in executing scheme to defraud; David B. Oliver, bankrupt, concealing assets from his trustee; C. W. Vincent and Jacob Roth, depositing improper articles in the mails; John M. Burnett and Nathan White, mailing letters in executing a scheme to defraud (3); Domenico Greco, altering a money order; Arthur J. Capes, embezzling money order funds; Julia Caputo, altering a money order (2).

Before Judge Buffington in the United States district court several cases were disposed of, three of the defendants admitting the charges against them when called for trial. Julia Caputo, of McKeesport, pleaded guilty to a charge of raising a money order. She was not sentenced. She was alleged to have procured a money order in Glassport for $6 10 and then to have raised it to make it read $60 10. When she tried to pass it on a McKeesport jeweler, the deception was discovered and the woman arrested.

F. W. Albright, proprietor of a South Side store in Carson, near South Tenth street, pleaded no defense to a charge of embezzling money order funds. Albright conducted one of the local sub-stations of the Pittsburgh postoffice, and is said to have taken $234 43 of government funds.

Mary Cooney, of Houtzdale, Clearfield county, pleaded guilty to a charge of forging a money order. Sentence was suspended. She was alleged to have raised a money order from $4 to $14. The jury in the case of Robert Armstrong, charged with robbing the postoffice at Force, Pa., returned a verdict of guilty.

Bernard L. Smith, charged with mailing a postal card having defamatory language, and Enoch Thomas, charged with embezzling letters of value, entered pleas of guilty, but were not sentenced.

The jury in the case of J. R. Wible, who is charged with altering a $1 certificate so as to make it $10, was out when the court adjourned. He is said to have passed two of the bills, one on Mrs. Emma Hawkey, a storekeeper of Rodebaugh station, Westmoreland county, and the other on Mrs. Henrietta Shirley, of Donahue station, near Greensburg. Both of these women were in court and positively identified Wible as the man who passed the altered money on them. The alteration was made with a rubber stamp and was a crude effort. Mrs. Hawkey said that when the money was passed at her store, she knew it was bogus, but was afraid to refuse to take it as she was alone in the store at the time.

The Duke of Genoa came into the public eye by recently visiting St. Peter's cathedral at Rome and receiving the blessing of the pope. Never since the fall of the papal states a member of the house of Savoy has trod upon Vatican soil and the visit of the prince who received the special blessing of Pope Pius is generally taken to mean that a reconciliation between church and state is near at hand in Italy.

FIRST WIRELESS SENT FROM PACIFIC PORT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The first wireless telegraphic message from a coast port has been received here. The message was sent by Rear Admiral Goodrich on board the flagship Monterey, now at Monterey, to the Mare Island navy yard, asking if the Bennington had arrived.

EQUITABLE STILL AHEAD.

Big Business Done by the Society During April.

The reports of the Equitable Life Assurance Society's business for April are extremely gratifying, showing a total of very nearly one thousand more policies written during that month than were issued during the corresponding month of last year.

The total paid-for business of the Society for the first four months of the year is also larger by more than $5,000,000.00 than for the same period of 1904, demonstrating very conclusively the confidence that business men have in this largest and strongest of all Life Assurance Corporations.

By reason of its large capital and surplus, its splendid facilities and the combined judgment of its board of directors the Safe Deposit and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street, is better fitted to act as executor of estates than is an individual.

THE THREE RIVERS

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis island dam indicated a stage of 5.4 feet and the river was falling slowly.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., May 2.—At 8 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 21.4 feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from the port of Cincinnati were: Virginia, Pittsburgh; Tacoma, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville, and City of Cincinnati, Louisville. The Queen City will arrive from Pittsburgh early Wednesday morning. She will return at 5 o'clock the same night. When she arrives in Pittsburgh she will take aboard the rivers and harbors committee of the national congress for an inspection trip of the Ohio river in connection with the proposition to improve the river by the lock and dam system. The last of the towboats to leave here for Pittsburgh on the present water was the Tom Reese No. 2, which passed up today from Louisville. Work on raising the towboat Relief is progressing slowly. More work can be done when the water falls to less than 15 feet in the local harbor. The hull and machinery of the George Matheson, which was also cut down by the breakup of the ice last winter, have been raised. Clear and warmer.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; in canal 8.4; on falls, 6.2; below locks, 20.8. Fair and warm.

MORGANTOWN—River 8 feet 5 inches and falling. Clear and warmer.

PARKERSBURG—River 9 feet and falling. Clear and mild. The Valley Belle left for Middleport, the French for Creston, the Ben Hur for Pittsburgh and the Queen City for Cincinnati.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet 4 inches and falling. Clear and warmer.

GALLIPOLIS—River 14 feet and falling. Partly cloudy and warmer.

WARREN—River 1 foot 8 inches. Fair and mild.

POINT PLEASANT—River 10 feet 7 inches and falling. Cloudy. Down—Tacoma. Up—Henry Lowry, Greenland, Frank Gilmore.

MARIETTA—River 8° feet and falling. Cloudy and warm. Queen City down, 4 p. m.; Ben Hur up, 5 p. m.

WHEELING—River 7 feet 9 inches and falling. Clear and warmer. Departed—Queen City, Cincinnati, 6 a. m.; Keystone State, Pittsburgh, 9 a. m.; H. K. Bedford, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.

FOREIGNERS GO BY BOAT.

Charleston, W. Va., Gets a Big Consignment from This City.

Charleston, W. Va., was forwarded a big consignment of foreigners from this city yesterday, by boat. About 30 Slavish immigrants, some with their wives and families, boarded the steamer Kanawha yesterday, and started on the trip down the Ohio and up the Kanawha. They are engaged to work in a West Virginia lumber camp. None of them are practical woodsmen in the American sense, but they have all had more or less experience in the old country. This is the first shipment of this class of laborers, by river, from this city to that section, but it is believed an immense business in that line will be built up within the next few years.

The Keystone State got in about 10 o'clock last evening from Cincinnati. She will leave again at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Admiral Dewey left at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Morgantown. She carried a big trip of freight and a number of passengers. The Morgantown line will have the side wheel boats in service next week.

The J. C. Risher came up from the lower river yesterday with a tow of empties for the River Coal Company.

The local harbor of Masters and Pilots has forwarded a communication to Washington asking that a dike be built across the Ohio river at the head of Mustapha island, below Parkersburg. Many accidents have occurred at this point and it is believed an 8-foot dike will remedy the trouble. A number of other requests for dredging and other improvements were included in the communication.

Wreck on Canadian Pacific.

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, May 2.—Two firemen on the Canadian Pacific railroad were killed and five passengers injured in a collision between a passenger train and a freight, about 35 miles west of Revelstoke. Both trains were derailed and went down the embankment.

OLD LETTERS BESMIRCH MEMORY OF GEN. HULL

Written By Himself, They Are Found in Toronto, and Explain His Surrender of Detroit to British.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DETROIT, May 2.—Two old letters, written by Gen. William Hull of the United States army during the war of 1812, on the surrender of the post of Detroit, have come into the possession of C. M. Burton of this city, a collector of antique letters and documents. Although Mr. Burton declines to make the contents public for the present, they are said to contain preliminary offers from Gen. Hull to surrender the post. It has been supposed that Gen. Hull's surrender only followed Gen. Brock's show of force and demand for surrender.

The letters were found in Toronto, among a heap of ancient papers. During the court-martial of Gen. Hull, following his surrender of Detroit, it was intimated, Mr. Burton says, that such letters existed, but they were not produced.

"After a reading of these letters," said Mr. Burton, "one can understand that August 16 morning, when Brock confidently crossed the river and landed at Springwells, and the raising of the white flag by Hull, without first making any fight."

ROCHESTER COUPLE EMBARK ON THIRD MATRIMONIAL TRIP

John H. Emerick, a carpenter, and Mrs. Mathilda Fisher, both of Rochester, Pa., took out a license yesterday to start upon their third matrimonial venture. Emerick has been twice married and both his wives are dead. Mrs. Fisher has had two husbands. Her first union was dissolved by the death of her husband while the second was through a decree of divorce, granted April 19, in Beaver county. The marriage license clerk called her attention to the fact that her husband still has the right to appeal from the decision of the lower court, but she seemed satisfied to take chances. Emerick is aged 49 and his prospective bride is 39 years old.

DR. HILPRECHT IS GOING TO TURKEY

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves.

The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia.

They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They always cure my headache in five minutes time." FRED R. SWINGLEY, Cashier 1st Nat. Bank, Atkinson, Neb.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

MELLIN'S For the Baby FOOD

If you want a good food for your baby, — a food that is endorsed by physicians, a food that contains a large amount of digestible constituents, a food that feeds, a food that will nourish, sustain and promote the growth of your baby, — try Mellin's Food. We will send a sample for you to try.

Mellin's Food is the ONLY Infant Food, which received the Grand Prize, the highest award of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, 1904. Higher than a gold medal.

MELLIN'S FOOD CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone.

May we buy a bottle for you?

You who are sick and discouraged—we make this offer to you. We will buy you a bottle of Liquozone—a 50c bottle. You may try it at our expense.

We ask you to write us—you who still cling to medicine for what medicine cannot do. We want to show you—as we have shown millions of others—the only way to cure a germ disease. Please don't hesitate. Don't wait longer. The test shall not cost you a penny.

Not Medicine.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas. No drugs, no alcohol—nothing but gas enters into it. The process of making takes fourteen days, and requires immense apparatus. Then we get one cubic inch of Liquozone for each 1,250 cubic inches of gas used. This process has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. Yet it is not only harmless but remarkably helpful. The effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Even a well person feels its instant benefit. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is life to an animal, but deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. For that reason, medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease, while Liquozone is almost certain. We proved this fact for years, through physicians and hospitals, in thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. Then we paid $100,000 for the American rights—the highest price ever paid for any discovery used in the cure of sickness.

Liquozone is now used by the sick of nine nations in the treatment of germ diseases. In millions of homes it has done, and is doing, what medicine cannot do.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Asthma	Goitre—Gout

PROPOSALS.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, United States Geological Survey, Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., April 29, 1905. Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the engineer, United States Reclamation Service, Billings, Montana, until 2 o'clock p. m., June 28, 1905, and thereafter opened, for the construction of pumping station, concrete culverts, siphons, drops, etc., and furnishing two steel highway bridges, four steel sluice gates with stands, and 120,000 pounds steel bars for reenforcing concrete. Total amount of concrete about 1,600 cubic yards. Above work to be done along line of canal east from Huntley, Montana, in conection with the Huntley project. Specifications, form of proposal, and plans may be obtained at the office of the chief engineer of the reclamation service, Washington, D. C., or from H. S. Stockton, engineer, Billings, Montana. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1,000, payable to the order of the secretary of the interior, as a guaranty that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bonds in the sum of $10,000 for the faithful performance of the work. It must also be accompanied by the guaranty of responsible sureties to furnish bond as required if the bid be accepted. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, to accept one part and reject the other, and to waive technical defects, as the interests of the service may require. Bidders are invited to be present. Proposals must be marked "Proposal for building structures and furnishing material, Huntley project, Montana." E. A. Hitchcock, secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, United States Geological Survey, Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., April 29, 1905. Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the engineer, United States Reclamation Service, Hazen, Nevada, until 2 o'clock p. m., June 15, 1905, and thereafter opened, for the construction of outlet and controlling works and bridge at Lake Tahoe, Tahoe city, California, involving about 90,000 cubic yards of earthwork, 500 cubic yards of concrete, etc. Plans, specifications and forms of proposal may be inspected at the offices of the Reclamation Service in Washington, D. C., and Hazen, Nevada. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $500, payable to the order of the secretary of the interior, as a guaranty that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract, and furnish bond in the sum of $5,000 for the faithful performance of the work. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, to accept one part and reject the other and to waive technical defects, as the interests of the service may require. Proposals must be marked "Proposal for Lake Tahoe outlet works, Truckee-Carson project." E. A. Hitchcock, secretary.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL—Department of the Interior, Office of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., April 25, 1905. Sealed proposals, indorsed: "Proposals for coal," and addressed to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., will be received until 2 o'clock p. m., of Thursday, May 25, 1905, for furnishing and delivering as required at the various Indian agencies and schools during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, about 4,476 tons of hard coal; 26,254 tons of soft coal and 127½ tons of blacksmith coal; or bidders may submit proposals for the delivery of all or any portion of the coal at Omaha, Kansas City, Sioux City or St. Paul. Bids must be made out on government blanks. Schedules showing the quantities of the several kinds of coal to be devilered at each agency and school, together with form of proposal and all necessary instructions for bidding will be furnished upon application to the Indian Office, Washington, D. C.; to the Indian warehouses at Nos. 119 and 121 Wooster street, New York City; No. 265 South Canal street, Chicago, Ill.; No. 602 South Seventh street, St. Louis, Mo.; Nos. 815 and 817 Howard street, Omaha, Neb., and No. 23 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.; to the several Indian agents and school superintendents, and to the office of this newspaper.

RALLY IN STOCKS MADE PROGRESS

Sentiment in Wall Street Again Conservatively Bullish—Local Market Dull But Firmer, and Prices Closed Higher.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Sentiment in Wall street is again conservatively bullish. The rally in stocks made further progress yesterday, and the volume of trading contracted to normal limits. At no time during the day was there that feverishness displayed since last Thursday, and the distribution of business was better. The technical position of the market, however, is not as strong as it was at the opening on Monday, for the reason that there has undoubtedly been a large reduction of the short interest, and there is also no doubt that a considerable amount of stock bought for support is for sale on any further rally.

The London market for American securities was firm and higher, and foreigners continued to buy, being credited with taking large amounts of United States Steel common and the Vanderbilts. Nearly everything opened higher and advanced smartly during the first hour. A slight reaction was followed by renewed buying and a continuation of the recovery, but there was a marked falling off in the dealings. United States Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper were strong features of the industrial list, and Union Pacific was heavily bought. A prominent professional personally appeared on the exchange and bid for large blocks of Union Pacific, and accompanied his operations by wagering that the stock would reach 125 before the close of the day. The highest price touched, however, was 122⅞, but the manipulator probably recovered the cost of his wagers by selling on the rise and covering on the subsequent decline, the stock closing at 121⅝.

An incident of the day which was construed as bullish was the special meeting of the directors of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, at which resolutions were adopted for issuing an additional amount of common stock, already authorized, at par, holders of the common and preferred being given the privilege of subscribing for 15 per cent of their present holdings. This privilege was calculated to be worth from 15 to 17 per cent, and was looked upon in the light of a "melon." Northwest immediately advanced from 227 to 233 and closed at a net advance of 7½ per cent for the day. The movement helped the remainder of the Vanderbilt list and sympathetically all the high-grade railroad stocks. Northern Pacific, which opened at 175, rose to 180, and closed 4½ per cent higher for the day. Heavy selling of St. Paul just at the close caused that stock to lose all its early gain and close slightly lower.

An incident of another kind was the break in Consolidated Gas, which became quite pronounced in the late dealings and tended to check the advance in the rest of the market. The stock sold off from 201¾ to 192¼, and closed at the lowest. The break was on the report that the governor of the state had announced that unless the New York legislature passed the gas bills recommended by the recent investigating committee, providing for a reduction in the price of both gas and electric light, he would immediately call an extra session for the consideration of the bills. Peoples Gas sold off and closed lower, being naturally affected by industrial, legislative and political developments in Chicago.

While the general market did not close at the highest prices of the day, the final transactions averaged higher than the close on Monday. Call loan rates ruled easy, at 2¾ to 3 per cent, and banking authorities were quoted as saying that the outlook favored a continuation of the present easy conditions.

The local stock market was dull and narrow, but a firmer tone prevailed, and prices closed higher. United States Steel common was the most active stock and closed a fraction higher than New York. The preferred closed 1¼ per cent higher. Crucible Steel common was strong, rallying to 11⅝. Only 25 shares of the preferred changed hands, at 63⅝, a gain of ⅝ per cent. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas made a strong rally, selling at 58, and Manufacturers Light and Heat rallied to 35. Philadelphia Company common sold at 44 to 44¾, closing 2¼ off from the last sale previous to yesterday. Pittsburgh Coal stocks were dull but firm, and the preferred closed ⅝ per cent higher. National Fire Proofing preferred closed $1 higher, at 35. Westinghouse Electric was also $1 higher, at 86. Independent Brewing preferred rallied to 41½ and the bonds to 107¾. The remainder of the list was steady and unchanged.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Stock market less active, but prices closed firm and higher.

Westinghouse Electric closed a dollar higher at 86.

Pittsburgh Oil & Gas sold $1 higher at 58.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred and Crucible preferred each closed ⅝ up.

Independent Brewing preferred and bonds closed fractionally higher.

IN WALL STREET.

The rally in stocks made further progress and a better feeling prevailed.

Sales included 1,050,400 shares stock and $2,365,000 bonds.

United States Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper were well bought.

Northwest advanced 7½ points on the new stock issue.

Consolidated Gas broke 9 points and was the only weak feature.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The return of a more cheerful feeling in Wall street yesterday seemed to be based mainly upon two things: One was the report that harmony had been patched up between the rival railroad factions, and the other that what has come to be known as the "Equitable Life affair" was in a fair way of settlement. As to the first, there may be some additional light on Friday, when the stockholders of Union Pacific meet to vote upon the proposition to authorize $100,000,000 additional preferred stock. As to the Equitable Life matter, private telegrams received yesterday expressed the belief that Mr. Cortelyou would be prevailed upon to take the presidency, despite denials that he was being considered. Bullish sentiment on the stock market, however, is very conservative compared with what it was before the recent slump. Since the break in prices it has been generally admitted that the previous high level more than discounted all the good things that could happen this side of the 1905 harvests, and that the inflation in values was largely due to operations of bull pools. If prices were too high a week ago, there have been no developments which would warrant an immediate restoration, and while the public displayed a disposition to pick up bargains on Saturday and during the first hour on Monday, there is no reason to believe that the public will follow an advance to the previous high level. The average of prices have already recovered to within about four points of the level quoted on the day of the Milwaukee defalcation last week. This recovery has been due in large part to the covering of shorts. When the demand from this source is satisfied, it will be entirely natural for the market to sell off again, and until some of the predicted increases in dividends are realized, it will take more than rumors to get the public into the market at the old level.

The conspicuous advances late in the day were the result of a stirring anew of the rumors of deals, which have almost dropped out of sight in the demoralization of sentiment for the past week. The revival of talk of the lease of the Louisville & Nashville to the Atlantic Coast Line on a dividend guarantee was especially effective. The action of the Chicago & Northwestern directors towards a 15 per cent stock increase set afloat again various rumors regarding the railroad adjustment to be worked out in the northwest. That stock itself had an immediate influence on the Vanderbilt group besides. No detailed information was given as to the ends proposed with the proceeds of the new issue, but speculative sentiment indulged in free conjecture along the lines that suited best the prevailing mood. The new stock is part of an increase authorized by the stockholders fully three years ago to be issued from time to time in the discretion of the directors. Plenty of rumors were current also of the distribution of Northern Securities assets in a manner to adjust all differences in that territory.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges yesterday exceeded $11,000,000, the largest for any day for more than a year.

The Second National bank has declared dividend No. 85, being 7½ per cent for the past quarter, payable forthwith.

The Bank of Pittsburgh has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 3 per cent.

The Pennsylvania railroad dividend is payable May 31 to stock of record May 5. The stock will be quoted ex-dividend today.

The directors of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent, payable May 27. The last semi-annual dividend was 3½ per cent.

Stockholders of the Manufacturers' bank reelected President John C. Stevenson and the former board of directors.

The American Cotton Oil Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on its preferred stock, payable June 1, to stock of record May 15.

Big Four advanced 3½ per cent, although its net earnings for March decreased $741, despite an increase in gross of $103,843.

Jacob Field was bulling Union Pacific yesterday and wagered $1,000 that it would reach 125 before the close. At one time he bid 122¾ for 20,000 shares, but the highest price for the day was 122⅞.

Southern Pacific will issue $30,000,000 4 per cent bonds to refund a similar amount of 4½s now out.

Total sales on the New York board yesterday were fully a half million shares smaller than on Monday.

Attorney General Parker of Massachusetts says that in his opinion the acquisition of the stock of a Massachusetts street railway corporation by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company is illegal, and that the attorney general of the commonwealth may, by appropriate process, invoke the action of the courts looking either to the nullification or restraint, of the prohibited transaction, or to the forfeiture of the charter of the offending corporation insofar as the same exists by grant of the commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The bills drawn by the recent legislative investigating committee of New York provide that the price of gas shall be fixed at 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, that the price of electric current sold to the city will be at the rate of 10 cents a kilowatt hour, and that the price of electric currents sold to private consumers shall be at the same rate as that for the city, in the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Kings, except in the annexed district and Coney Island, and Richmond and Queens boroughs. In these excepted districts the price is fixed at $1.25 for the ensuing year and then reduced by a graduated scale at the rate of 5c annually until it reaches the rate of $1 for each 1,000 cubic feet.

The statement sent out by the American Car and Foundry Company with the dividend checks showing a total surplus on February 28, 1905, of $11,932,487 will be the last statement issued until the annual report appears some time in June. The company closed its fiscal year April 30 and the earnings for March and April will of course be embodied in the annual report. The earnings for March and April are expected to make a fair showing and the financial results for the year will only be on a moderate scale. For the quarter ended February 28, the company reports net earnings of $536,000, an increase of $3,577. For the half-year net earnings were $1,075,694, a decrease of $1,018,214.

Gross earnings of Illinois Central for March increased $264,933, and net earnings increased $194,138.

Gross earnings of Rock Island for March increased $199,340 and net earnings increased $9,279.

It is reported that First National bank of New York interests have formed a syndicate to take over the balance of $60,000,000 Northern Securities stock owned by Union Pacific at $150 a share. This report was subsequently denied, but there was a strong feeling that some deal has been made in connection with these interests.

N. W. Harris & Co., bankers and prominent bond dealers of New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, have just opened a local office in the First National bank building, and will be represented by Mr. Frederick E. Calkins. As will be seen in our advertising columns, Harris & Co., are offering to investors $700,000 Allegheny county (Pa.) 30-year 4 per cent bonds. It may not be generally known that the assessed valuation of this county is greater than that of any of the states of Connecticut, Maryland, Iowa, Virginia, Rhode Island or twenty-seven others, and is nearly equal to the total combined assessed valuation of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Louisville & Nashville gross earnings for March increased $276,606 and net earnings increased $48,178. Atlantic Coast Line earnings for March increased $180,239 and net earnings decreased $1,974.

Clearing house exchanges rose to figures near the record level and this had some influence on the supposition that some large transaction in financial affairs was in course of completion. The Lead and Smelting merger talk had some revival in the natural course of things.

In New York United States government registered 2s declined ¼ and the old 4s ¼ per cent on call.

MARKET IS UNSETTLED BY CONSOLIDATED GAS

Sharp Decline of That Stock Puts Check on Improvement Which Marked Early Session.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: The stock market of yesterday continued during the early hours the improvement which set in at noon on Monday. In the later dealings irregularity developed, and stocks were thrown into some confusion by the heavy selling and sharp decline of Consolidated Gas. Traders thought they detected in this movement an unfavorable or an unfriendly attitude of a strong party towards the recovering movement. In consequence some extension short lines were put out by large operators in the late dealings.

Some check was also applied to professional enthusiasm by the less favorable character of the crop report, which influenced also a nervous and erratic wheat market. Speculative sentiment was somewhat confused as a result of the day's price movement. Despite this a majority of active issues held improvement to the last.

The market for the greater part of the day was influenced largely by the same factors that controlled the situation Monday. This was the failure of any of Saturday's disturbing rumors to materialize. This imparted further confidence to the speculative bull cliques, and forced some short covering.

The news of the day was somewhat mixed. The announcement of the new issue of Chicago & Northwestern stock, offered to holders at par, to the extent of 15 per cent of their holdings, came in the way of a verification of one of the current rumors. The price of the offering was regarded in the light of an extra dividend, and though the issue is not widely distributed the announcement had a favorable effect.

The Pennsylvania road made an excellent showing for March, the net earnings increasing $552,000. Opposed to this were the Albany developments, which depressed Consolidated Gas, and the less favorable crop report.

BEAVERS DENIES GUILT AND FURNISHES BAIL

WASHINGTON, May 2.—George W. Beavers, late chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department, today was arraigned in the criminal court on the charge of conspiring to defraud the government, and gave bond in the sum of $20,000 for his appearance for trial. He pleaded not guilty. District Attorney Beach stated that he would ask the court to take up one of the Beavers cases immediately after the conclusion of the Machen-Crawford case, which is set for May 22.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL SOON MEET

WINONA LAKE, IND., May 2.—Thirty-three state synods and 245 presbyteries, altogether calling for 650 commissioners, will constitute the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, which will meet here on May 18. The commissioners will represent almost 2,000,000 communicants. Among the questions to be presented for action is the proposed union with the Cumberland Presbyterians.

Mrs. Nettie Cravens Dead.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Mrs. Nettie Cravens, who claimed to be the common-law wife of Senator Fair of California, is dead at Mt. Pleasant hospital. She was brought to the hospital recently from Burlington, deranged mentally. Mrs. Cravens leaves several sisters and brothers.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 2.—The features of the wool market are its notable strength here and the centering of interest in the west, where it is reported the highest prices of the season are being paid and most of the Boston buying is now proceeding in Montana, which outside of Oregon is practically the only state where any amount of wool remains unsold. Few territories are offered beyond the new Arizona wools. Pulled wools move freely. Foreign grades are firm. Prices are about as follows: Ohio and Pennsylvania xx and above, 33@34c; x, 30@31c; No. 1, 36@37c; No. 2, 37@38c; fine unwashed, 24@25c; quarter blood, unwashed, 30c; ⅜ blood, 30@31c; half blood, 29@30c; unwashed delaine, 27@28c; unmerchantable, 28@29c; fine washed delaine, 36½@37c. FINANCIAL AND TRADE NOTES.

PATERSON, N. J., May 2.—Articles of incorporation of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation, with a capital stock of $50,000,000, have been filed with the county clerk here. The stock is divided into 2,000,000 shares, the par value of $25 each. The company is incorporated to manufacture and deal in all kinds of tools, machinery, implements and mechanical devices and contrivances in connection with the manufacture of boots, shoes and footwear, either in leather or rubber goods.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $685,019; government receipts from internal revenue, $360,226; customs, $632,877; miscellaneous, $104,131; expenditures, $1,460,000.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Importations to this port during the month of April show an increase of nearly $10,000,000 over the corresponding month of last year. The whole value of importations during April was $60,464,603. Sugar was the chief item showing an increase. There was a large increase in precious stones, also, the valuation this year being $2,429,338, against $1,459,056 a year ago. Automobiles showed a heavy increase during the past month, 62 machines valued at $228,254 being brought in, against 31 valued at $89,000 in April of last year.

LOCAL MARKET LINES ARE ALL VERY DULL

Business Slow and Dealers Are Taking It Easy—Flour Makes Slight Advance.

Every line in the local markets was dull yesterday. Flour stiffened up under the inspiration of the rise in the wheat market and the price is quoted 5 cents a barrel higher than for the past two days. Aside from this there was practically no change in any of the quotations.

Business in the green goods line was particularly slow and dealers in that branch are a little worried. It will be only a couple of weeks now until there will be plenty of farmers driving into town with loads of produce and vegetables of all kinds. This will cut off the business from the regular dealers along the street. Trade does not seem to have come to life this spring as it should have done, although last week was a good one in comparison with some earlier ones.

Eggs are quoted at 17 and 18 cents still, and there is no immediate prospect of a change, although the market is somewhat slow. There is plenty of good fresh stock coming in and the packers are beginning to slow up a little on the storage stock, which augurs well for a lower market.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 7 cars hay, 4 cars feed, 3 cars corn, 13 cars oats, 5 cars wheat; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 7 cars hay, 1 car oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 18 cars hay, 5 cars oats, 1 car corn, 1 car hay and straw, 1 car straw, 1 car feed.

The hay and grain market has not recovered from the severe depression caused by the slump in the western markets last week. Corn is very firm, but prices are unchanged. The price of hay, feed and oats is not expected to advance any now as pastures will settle the feed question for a large proportion of the users of this class of merchandise.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, May 2.—Money was in pronounced demand in the market today for the consols settlement and various calls, including exchequer bonds, $16,000,000, and Grand Trunk, $3,750,000. Discounts were easy. The demand for bar gold for France was keen. Trading on the stock exchange generally was quiet and cheerful despite the disturbances in Russia. Consols were easy owing to stiff contangoes, but they closed steady. A moderate investment demand hardened first-class securities. Americans were the liveliest section. They opened weak and advanced to well over parity on New York and local support. Operators were cautious, following Wall street rather than taking the initiative, while the position there is uncertain. In the afternoon stocks further improved on Wall street and continued buying and closed firm. Foreigners were quietly firm with a hardening tendency, especially Japanese. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 100¾. Consols for money, 90¼; consols for the account (June), 90 7-16; bar silver quiet at 26 3-16d an ounce; money, 1½@2 per cent; the rate of discount for short bills is 2¼ per cent; the rate of discount for three months' bills is 2¼ per cent.

PARIS, May 2.—Prices on the bourse today were buoyant on the reassuring interview with Count von Buelow, the German chancellor, printed by the Gaulois this morning on the Moroccan situation. At the close stocks were firm. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 88.30 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 508. The private rate of discount was 2¾ per cent. Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 15 centimes for the account; exchange on London, 25 francs 11½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, May 2.—Trading on the boerse today was rather active. American iron shares were higher. Exchange on London, 20 marks 48¾ pfgs. for checks. Discount rates, short bills, 2¾ per cent; three months' bills, 2½ per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $2,958; total thus paid since Friday, $19,602, against $105,935 for the same period a week ago; total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $5,329,000; payment by banks to government, $3,926,000; balance on the day's transactions, $1,403,000, paid by government to banks; total net payment by government to banks since Friday, $1,313,000, against $895,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago and $4,771,000, paid by banks to government a year ago.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $133,415,799; gold, $62,323,575; silver, $25,048,059; United States notes, $14,983,126; treasury notes of 1890, $39,542; national bank notes, $12,679,188; total receipts this day, $1,097,246; total receipts this month, $2,678,997; total receipts this year, $454,393,146; total expenditures this day, $1,460,000; total expenditures this month, $3,380,000; total expenditures this year, $489,743,707; deposits in national banks, $92,741,932.

Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies, as compared with last account. Wheat, United States and Canada, east Rockies, decreased 2,158,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased 800,000 bushels; total supply decreased 1,358,000 bushels. Corn, United States and Canada, east Rockies, decreased 2,140,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east Rockies, decreased 755,000 bushels. The leading increases reported this week are: 122,000 bushels at the Chicago private elevators and 87,000 bushels at East St. Louis. The leading decreases are 260,000 bushels in Manitoba and 110,000 bushels at Louisville.

WHEAT MARKET AGAIN IS MAKING ADVANCE

Liberal Decrease in Visible Supply and Falling Off in Receipts Give Strength.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—A liberal decrease in the world's visible supply had a strengthening effect on the wheat market here today. Falling off in primary receipts also tended to advance prices. At the close, July wheat was up ⅜c. Corn is up ½c. Oats show a gain of ⅜@½c. Provisions are a shade to 12½c higher.

The wheat market had a firm undertone, the greater part of the session. Under the influence of higher prices at Liverpool the market opened firm with July up ⅛@⅜c at 83½@83¾c. For a time pit traders were quite free sellers, predictions of rain over the wheat belt in general being responsible for the greater share of the selling pressure. The best demand was from shorts. After July had sold off to 82⅞c offerings dwindled and a firm tone again developed. As trading progressed, the firmness changed to decided strength. The improvement in tone was due partly to good demand for cash wheat at Kansas City and Minneapolis. Another factor, however, that exerted a powerful influence was a decrease of 1,600,000 bushels in the world's available stocks. Last year there was an increase of about a million bushels. A report from Kansas City to the effect that receipts of wheat there would probably be much smaller from now on was partly confirmed by statistics which showed a considerable falling off in the movement in the southwest. Total primary receipts also were less than for the corresponding day a year ago. This fact had much to do with late bullish sentiment. In addition, advices were received claiming damage by rust in Texas and Oklahoma. The highest point in July was reached just before the close, when the price touched 84. The market finished strong with July at 83¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 58,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 203,400 bushels, compared with 218,100 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 168 cars against 314 cars last week, and 103 cars a year go.

An extremely small movement caused active covering by shorts in the corn pit today, resulting in a strong market. Primary receipts today were over 50 per cent less than for the corresponding day a year ago. A decrease of over 2,000,000 bushels in the world's visible supply also helped to stimulate an active demand. July opened ⅛@½c higher at 46½@46⅝c, sold between 46⅝c and 47⅛c, and closed at 46⅞c. Local receipts were 76 cars, with two of contract grade.

Trading in the oats pit was dull the entire day. The tone of the market, however, was firm in sympathy with corn. Estimated receipts for tomorrow of only 28 cars favored the bulls. July opened unchanged at 28¾c, sold up to 29¼c and closed at 29⅛@29¼c. Local receipts were 148 cars.

Provisions were firm on small receipts of hogs. Offerings were small throughout the day. At the close July pork was up 5c at $12 12½. Lard was a shade higher at $7 22½@7 25. Ribs were up 12½c at $7 17½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 20 cars; oats, 28 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

MINES GOLDFIELD, NEV.

SECOND ALLOTMENT OF SHARES OF MONTGOMERY MOUNTAIN MINING COMPANY

100,000 SHARES OF $1.00 PAR VALUE at 75 cents

From the GOLDFIELD SUN, April 30

"A telegram from Salt Lake City announces that the first shipment of twenty-eight tons of ore from the Montgomery Shoshone Mines Company of Bullfrog, netted five hundred dollars per ton from the smelters. The ore was taken from across the forty-two foot vein uncovered in Shoshone Tunnel during the first month's development work without sorting or sampling."

"The Shoshone ledge traverses the property of the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company."—E. A. Montgomery, three-quarters owner of the Montgomery Shoshone mine.

"It is only a matter of a little development work before the Montgomery end of the Mountain will prove as great a bonanza as the Shoshone end."—Major W. A. Stanton, Mining Engineer, formerly on the staff of the late Jno. Mackay at Virginia City.

"The Montgomery property is on strike of the Shoshone ledge. The outcroppings on Montgomery Mountain indicate the same ledge runs through both properties."—Malcolm McDonald, Consulting Engineer of the Montana Tonopah Mining Company.

"The ore body which carries the high values in the Shoshone unquestionably exists in the Montgomery property. The ledge is well, clearly and distinctly defined from one end of the Mountain to the other, a distance of about 5,000 feet."—J. D. Campbell, Mining Engineer in charge of Chas. M. Schwab's and John McKane's Goldfield and Tonopah properties.

The Greatest Gold Mine Prospect in the World

The Montgomery Mountain Mining Company's property consists of seven claims situated on the south half of the Montgomery Mountain in the Bullfrog District and adjoining the Shoshone group of claims owned by the Montgomery Shoshone Mines Company.

Stock in the Montgomery Shoshone Mines Company of the par value of $1.00 is selling at $3.00 per share in Goldfield, although the company is only a month old and development work has only been in progress for two months. Development work on the Shoshone group consists of a tunnel driven into side of the mountain for a distance of 110 feet, a raise to the surface of 47 feet and of a winze 10 feet deep. There are also two drifts on the vein; the vein has been disclosed for a distance of 42 feet inside of the tunnel and the wall of the vein has not yet been reached; the drifts, the raise and the winze are all in high grade ore.

Eminent mining engineers and practical mining men all agree that the same ledge that runs through the Shoshone runs through the Montgomery.

Development work on large and extensive scale has already been commenced on the property of the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company. A tunnel, the site for which was located by Chas. M. Schwab's famous mining engineer, J. D. Campbell, is being driven into the side of the mountain with all possible speed, working night and day with every indication that the Shoshone ledge will be encountered at from 50 to 100 feet.

A tunnel is also being driven in the same manner about 100 feet west with the same object in view.

In addition the Company is beginning a tunnel on its Black Bull claim lying on the southeast side of the mountain, with the intention of tapping an enormous quartz ledge, 18 feet wide which seems to cut the Montgomery ledge almost diagonally. This ledge hasn't even been prospected before by the Shoshone people, because they have had no time to do so, but they are also now driving with the same purpose in view. From every appearance and indication this vein will be equally as good as the famous Shoshone on the same ground.

The first 28 tons of ore taken out of the Shoshone tunnel across the ledge for a distance of 42 feet without sorting or sampling has netted the Montgomery Shoshone Mines Company $500 per ton from the smelters at Salt Lake City.

The Montgomery Shoshone ledge can be traced on the surface by any person from one end of Montgomery mountain to the other, a distance of nearly 5,000 feet, the croppings are so clear, distinct and well defined; it can easily be seen that it is practically one continuous vein running in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction through the entire mountain. It seems only a matter of a few months or so for development work to demonstrate that the Montgomery's ore bodies are just as rich and just as big as those of its neighbor. The "Montgomery Shoshone" man has divided these properties, not nature. The tracing of this ledge is not a theoretical problem, but a simple certainty, that is conceded by all who look at the property.

Neither the company nor its agents are attempting to artificially boost or stimulate the price of shares. They are satisfied that they have a mine, and unlike many others, it will not take years to demonstrate it, because the moment the ledge is cut, then shipping begins and the property being out of debt and money in the treasury, it is not improbable that the company will begin PAYING dividends within six months. The company is mining as economically and as practically as is possible, getting the best possible opinions, not only from one individual, but the best mining talent in the west, and the work in every way will be done in systematic and miner-like manner. The only salaried officer of the company is the Secretary.

The title to the property has been examined and passed upon by Vermilyea, Edmonds and Stanley, the leading mining lawyers of Nevada. The property has been paid for in full. The ground is not bonded, but is owned absolutely by the company.

The company has, since acquiring the property, had the ground thoroughly prospected by the best informed prospectors of the Bullfrog region, and on numerous and many places on the surface rock has been found which pans very high gold values. At the present time one of the company's prospectors is Al. James, who discovered the ore on the Montgomery Shoshone mine before the owners knew what a marvelous property they owned. He vouches for the fact that the Montgomery has the identical ore and it is on his advice, together with that of Sol. Camp, who recently resigned as superintendent of the famous January mine of Goldfield, to take charge of the Montgomery, that the company is developing in the manner hereinbefore mentioned.

THE STOCK OFFERING

The D. H. Peery Company, Bankers and Brokers, of Goldfield, of which D. H. Peery is president, is the fiscal agent of the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company, of which D. H. Peery is also president. 100,000 shares of stock are offered to the public at 75 cents per share and you have an opportunity to purchase a small block of it.

D. H. Peery has interested himself in several other great Bullfrog properties and the D. H. Peery Company will handle all of these. It is believed that the permitting the general public to partake of the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company's offerings a large clientele will be gotten together for Mr. Peery's other splendid properties in Bullfrog and it will be more profitable in the end to do business with many investors than a few. An offer of $500,000 cash was made for all the stock in the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company a fortnight ago, but it was refused.

If you wish any stock in the Montgomery Mountain Mining Company it will be necessary for you to telegraph your reservation and to follow up the same with a remittance in full at the rate of 75 cents per share for whatever number of shares you order.

The following is the directorate:

President and Treasurer, D. H. Peery, Banker and Broker, formerly president of the Salt Lake Stock and Mining Exchange and member of San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board; Vice President, John Sparks, Governor of Nevada; C. K. McCornick, of McCornick & Company, Bankers, Salt Lake City. Directors: D. E. Burley, general passenger agent Ogden Short Line, Salt Lake City, and E. E. Edmonds of the firm of Vermilyea, Edmonds & Stanley, Attorneys-at-Law, Goldfield, Nevada.

Again, if development work on the Shoshone proves that the enormous vein already uncovered on the Shoshone has depth, which all mining engineers who have inspected the property declare it has, then shares in the Montgomery Shoshone may reasonably be expected to advance to $20.00. Mr. Peery is of the opinion that development work on the Montgomery will demonstrate a mine as big as the Shoshone and that it is only a matter of two months when Montgomery shares will keep pace in market value with Shoshone shares.

Eastern representatives of D. H. Peery Company, Fiscal Agents, are O. F. Jonasson and Company, 44 and 46 Broadway, New York, and William A. Mears & Co., 425 Land and Title Trust Building, Philadelphia.

Telegraph your reservation to either of the above or to D. H. Peery Company, Goldfield, Nevada, and let your remittance follow by mail. The right is reserved to reduce your subscription if the allotment is oversubscribed.

ALLEGHENY LOTS SOLD FOR $50,000

Frank McCann Secures 17 Houses in Anderson Street for Investment Purposes.

DELAFIELD WORK AT $80,000

Another $50,000 purchase of Allegheny property made yesterday by Frank McCann, indicates that he has not lost faith in North Side real estate as an investment, although he has bought comparatively little there since 1903, until lately. His present purchase was made through the agency of W. L. Scott & Company, and embraces the properties at 204-210 Anderson street. They are located on the east side of the street about midway between Lacock and Robinson streets, and have a total frontage of 88 feet by a depth of 140 feet to an alley. Sixty-six feet of the property belonged to the McIntosh heirs who were paid $38,000 for it. The remaining 22 feet was owned by B. M. Neal and brought $12,000. Nearly the entire plot is covered with houses, there being four brick houses in Anderson street and 13 small brick dwellings facing in two courts in the rear. The total rental from these is about $3,500 a year. The sale figures at the rate of $568 a front foot. Mr. McCann intends to hold the property for an investment as well as two other pieces in the same ward which he has lately bought. Two deals are now pending for Federal street holdings and at least one deal of over $20,000, in the Fourth ward, is under articles of agreement.

Delafield Streets to Cost $80,000.

The Aspinwall-Delafield Company, at a meeting Monday night awarded to Thomas Sweeny & Brother the contract for grading and paving two miles of streets through the old Delafield farm, opposite Highland park, which they recently bought. The estimated cost of the work is put at $80,000. Next week the contract for the sewers on these streets will probably be awarded, and as soon as possible granolithic sidewalks will be laid over the entire plan. Names have been adopted for all the principal streets which will be 50 feet wide. Freeport avenue will run parallel with and near the West Penn railroad. Brilliant, Emerson, Virginia, Lexington, Delafield and Maple avenues will run at right angles to this street, extending from the railroad back to the hillside. In front of the new West Penn station Brilliant avenue will be 80 feet wide, thus affording a broad business street. First, Second, Third, Fourth and Sixth streets will run parallel with the railroad, through the property, making extensions of the streets of the same names in Aspinwall.

The demand for the 25-foot business lots in Brilliant avenue is likely to take the supply off the market in a very short time. Holzheimer & Bock, of Sharpsburg, have bought the lot at Freeport and Brilliant avenues for $2,500. John Frey, the druggist, has secured the lot at Brilliant avenue and First street for $2,000, and two other of the business lots are articled for. Five residence lots in Maple avenue have been sold, two in Brilliant avenue, one at Lexington avenue and Second street and two at Delafield avenue and Second street. Architect F. C. Sauer, a leading member of the company, has let the contract to S. H. McCain for three 10-room brick houses and to Gries & Beveridge for two more houses of the same kind. The houses will cost $6,000 each, and will be built on the plan at once. The company does not expect to boom its property with a big opening sale. It is already receiving a big inquiry for lots, especially for the one and two-acre plots on the hillside.

Five Apartment Houses Planned.

The Yewthilda Land Company has been chartered to build an apartment house at the southwest corner of Yew and Mathilda streets, Twentieth ward. The company has a capital of $9,000, and the incorporators are Daniel H. Barr, Frank B. Barr, J. W. Patterson, Jr., and Joseph R. Gray of Pittsburgh, and Charles H. Eisenbach of Allegheny. The building to be erected at a cost of about $18,000 will be a three-story brick on a lot 40x100 feet, and will contain 16 suites of two and three rooms each. Architect F. C. Sauer has let the contract for its erection to John O'Hara. A similar structure built in Vine street two years ago by some of the same owners, pays a net revenue of 14 per cent.

Another apartment house, to cost $20,000, will be built by N. F. Arble on a lot 65x105 feet at Rosslyn and Hawthorne streets, Swissvale. He purchased the site a few days ago from the J. M. Loose Realty Company for $4,000, and will start the building at once.

Architect F. W. Braden of Allegheny has plans in progress for the natatorium to be built in Flavel street, East End, at a cost of $45,000.

Architects Robinson & Winkler have plans for a stone residence for J. L. Fisher at Punxsutawney, to cost about $25,000.

Plans are being prepared by Architects Allison & Allison for a three-story brick office and bank building for the First National bank of Monessen, to cost $25,000.

Bids will be taken soon by Architects Rutan & Russell for a stone summer residence for Samuel Walker at Leetsdale, to cost $45,000.

Architect Max Bruening is revising plans for a bank and office building for the First National bank of Oakdale, to cost about $15,000.

George H. Robinson is receiving estimates on a three-story brick apartment house, which he will build for himself at Lang avenue and Formoso street, at a cost of about $18,000.

Local Firms Are Not Worried.

The big real estate corporations of Pittsburgh are not worrying much over the new amendment lately passed by the Pennsylvania legislature providing that they shall, along with individual real estate brokers and real estate firms, pay a tax of 3 per cent per annum upon their receipts from commissions, discounts, abatements and allowances. Under the old act corporations were not included specifically, but some of them have been paying the tax. Recently the Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia objected to the payment on the ground that it already paid a state tax on its capital stock and that this brokers' tax was double the burden and unconstitutional. Its contention was sustained in the common pleas courts of Philadelphia, and the case was at once carried up to the supreme court, where it is now pending. Local officials believe that the tax will be found unconstitutional. Should it be made effective it would affect not over 15 or 20 firms in Pittsburgh, so that it is not, as is generally supposed, destined to bring a large amount of money into the state treasury.

The Realty Trust Company of New York has just issued a neat brochure, which is of considerable interest locally as showing the holdings of prominent Pittsburghers in New York real estate. Andrew Carnegie's holdings in the metropolis are rated at $2,-200,000. The Phipps property is put in at $1,494,500; C. M. Schwab owns real estate valued at $1,000,000; W. B. Leeds, $415,000; Daniel C. Reed, $400,000; William E. Reis, $175,000, and W. G. Park, $275,000. Mr. Carnegie's property is mostly in Fifth avenue between Ninetieth and Ninety-first streets, where his palatial home is located. Mr. Park owns a number of very valuable properties near Fifth avenue and between Seventy-fourth and Ninety-sixth streets. Henry J. Heinz has also realized handsomely on some real estate deals in New York, and lately other wealthy Pittsburghers have bought quite extensively, both for homes and for speculation.

A $150,000 Filtration Contract.

H. L. Kreusler has received the contract from the T. A. Gillespie Company for buildings for the new filtration plant, to cost $150,000. These include an administration building, the superintendent's residence, gate entrances, two gate houses and stables. The buildings will all be substantial brick structures and will be started about July 1. The contractors will not be ready for this part of the work before. The buildings will be rushed to completion, as they are expected to be finished by October 1.

Through the office of E. A. Hess & Co. W. J. McKee has sold to G. A. Pirivotto the properties at 426 and 428 Taylor avenue, Allegheny, for $15,500 cash. The lot, which measures 40x90 feet, is at the head of Resaca place, and is improved with one three-story brick house and two brick dwellings two stories high. The buyer will occupy one of the houses.

The Aron on Friedman Company has sold to O. S. Richard on the A. Goldman holdings, at 2029 Fifth avenue, for $13,500 cash. The property consists of a three-story brick building facing in Fifth avenue, and two frame dwellings in Ann street, the lot being 22x120 feet. The buyer is preparing to erect a four-story brick business block on the lot as soon as the present leases expire, and the brokers have taken hand money on a five years' lease on the proposed building at a rate of $3,000 a year.

Sewickley: A. Z. Byers & Co sold for Mrs. Sadie A. Scott to Sarah Neeley 40x100 feet on the south side of Continental avenue, near Grove street, Second ward, Sewickley, for $2,200.

Thornburg: Keck, Heil & Daschbach sold for the Thornburg Land Company to Mrs. Elizabeth Cavett 50x125 feet on the west side of Princeton avenue, near Yale avenue, Thornburg, for $1,000. The buyer will build a stone and shingle residence.

Missouri avenue: J. A. Young & Co sold to Mary Forsythe lot No. 66 in Missouri avenue, Curry plan, Twenty-first ward, for $450.

Sycamore street: The South Hills Trust Company bought from James J. Kennedy an improved lot, 35x78 feet, at the north corner of Sycamore and Shiloh streets, Thirty-second ward, for $8,555.

Albree street: William Spieth sold to Amanda Case an improved lot, 25x100 feet, on the north side of Albree street, Thirty-ninth ward, for $2,800.

Considerable Oil Territory Work, but None of Importance, Reported

In the town lot development on Salem Fork, near the Girls' Industrial home, in Ten Mile district, Harrison county, the Whalen Oil Company has completed its test on the John Whalen lot and has a show for a 40-barrel producer in the Gordon.

At Freemansburg, Freemans Creek district, Lewis county, the Hope Natural Gas Company's test on the R. H. Hall farm is a good gasser in the fifth sand. On Fish Creek, Meade district, Marshall county, the same company's test on the H. A. Richmond farm is at the top of the Gordon and will be drilled in tomorrow. In the same district the same company is rigging up at a test on the Mary A. Chambers farm.

In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company's old No. 66 on the B. W. Peterson farm has been drilled through the Gordon and is a gasser. This was an old Big Injun well drilled down. South of Littleton, in the same county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 2 on the J. C. Poe farm into the Big Injun 115 feet and has developed no oil or gas. In the same district the Hope Gas company has drilled its test on the James Payne farm into the Gordon and has a light gasser.

Near Hebron, Meade district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil company has drilled its No 6 on the M. Denning farm through the Cow Run sand and has a 10-barrel pumper in that formation.

On Elm run, in Murphy district, Ritchie county, the South Penn company has completed its No. 5 on the H. S. Wilson farm and has a duster in the Big Injun. In the same district A. C. Hawkins has completed his No. 3 on the Rutherford heirs' farm and has a gasser in the Big Injun. In the Bonds Creek district, same county, the Carter Oil company has drilled its test on the V. A. Martin farm through the Keener and has a duster.

In the Calcutta district, Pleasants county, Browse, Proper & Campbell have drilled their second test on the Casey-Grimm farm through the salt sand and have a duster.

In the Pine Grove extension, Wetzel county, the South Penn company has drilled No. 5 on the Pitman-Yeater farm into the Gordon and has a show for a 20-barrel producer.

On the Ohio side, near New Matamoras, W. H. Lowrie & Co. have drilled their second test on the Mary E. West farm into the Keener and the well produced 300 barrels the first 24 hours. This is better than any other preceding well in that district and is located but 600 feet from No. 1.

In the Newport district, Washington county, the Empire Gas and Fuel Company has a good producer on the J. Greenwood farm. It is this company's No. 5 on this farm when drilled into the Berea grit did not show for better than the average well, but deeper drilling developed a second pay and it produced 160 barrels the first 24 hours.

In the Marietta district, M. & P. Davis have completed their second test on the Mary Bell farm and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper. In the same district Dewees & Co. have completed a test on the Cordry farm and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Wolf Creek district, A. Garard & Co. have completed No. 5 on the S. L. Pugh farm and have a duster. In the same district F. M. Selby & Bro. have completed a test on the Lizzie Quinn farm and had the same kind of luck.

In the Rays Run district, Washington county, C. C. Stover has completed his test on the A. J. McMahan farm and has a duster in the Big Injun. No. 2 on the same farm has been shot in the second Cow Run sand and is showing for a 5-barrel pumper.

One mile north of the Decker pool, near Lewisville, in Monroe county, W. G. Decker has drilled his test on the Delmar Fisher farm into the Keener and has a show for a 30 or 35-barrel producer. This location is in advance of developments and shows an extension to the north.

South of Burgettstown, Washington county, R. G. Gillespie has completed his second test on the S. S. Dunbar farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

Near Brightwood, Allegheny county, S. D. Robinson has drilled his No. 3 on the Teresa Grimes farm into the 100-foot sand and has a show for a 10 or 12-barrel producer.

North of DeHaven, Seel & Co. completed a test a few days ago on the Seel farm and got a 3-barrel pumper.

Foreign Capitalists Are Said to Be Selling P. R. R. Holdings

President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad has given out a statement which shows that foreigners are selling their holdings in the Pennsylvania railroad. President Cassatt's statement in part is as follows: "No other railroad company in the United States pays out in dividends as much as the Pennsylvania. At one time foreigners held a vast amount of Pennsylvania stock, but in recent years the bulk of this has come back to this country and more than 70 per cent is held in the United States. The holdings in Pennsylvania have not increased as compared with the holdings in New York and the New England states; New York and New England having secured what the foreigners sold."

On May 31 the Pennsylvania railroad company will begin to distribute among its shareholders $9,038,578.50. The directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent to stockholders on record May 5. This time the number of shares is larger than ever before, there being at the close of business yesterday, 6,025,719 shares outstanding.

Arranging Summer Schedules.

A meeting was held in Philadelphia yesterday to arrange the summer schedule of the Pennsylvania railroad system. Those in conference only included passenger officials who formulated a number of suggestions for the improvement in the service. The passenger officials of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley will ask for another through train between Pittsburgh and Buffalo. No radical changes will be made in the through trains running on the main line between New York and Chicago.

To Attend Railway Congress.

Several local railroad officials left last night over the Pennsylvania railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio for Washington, where they will attend the International Railway congress. The local officials are more interested in meeting the officials of foreign roads and viewing the numerous exhibits than attending the business sessions.

Created New Positions.

The Pennsylvania Lines has created the position of district passenger agent at St. Louis and appointed C. C. Curtis to take charge of the office. Mr. Curtis was formerly city passenger agent. J. L. Bridges, who has been station agent, will succeed Mr. Curtis. G. E. Wilt has been appointed passenger agent at Chicago, a position just created.

Railroad Notes.

W. W. Dunnavant, traveling passenger agent of the Queen & Crescent, left yesterday for Cleveland, after spending two days in Pittsburgh.

Thomas Henry has been appointed general yardmaster of the Panhandle at Dayton, O., to succeed Frank Gustin, transferred.

John W. Frantz, after serving the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for 52 years continuously, was yesterday retired in accordance with the pension rules.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The annual report of the Old Dominion Copper Company shows a production of fine copper of 15,368,147 pounds, an increase of 7,888,426 pounds. The cost per pound for fine copper at Globe was 11.41c; the cost per pound for handling, etc., was 1.05c, making the total cost per pound for fine copper, deducting silver and gold values, 11.19c. The general balance sheet, as of December 31 last shows a profit and loss surplus of $222,-918, against $80,417 on December 31, 1903, an increase of $142,501.

The La France Copper Company syndicate has been closed, the underwriting having been largely over-subscribed. The capital of the company is $2,000,000 6 per cent debenture bonds; $1,000,000 6 per cent preferred stock, par value $25, and $6,000,000 common stock, par value $25. The company has acquired the Basin concentrating and smelting plants which cost over $2,000,000 to put up on the famous Lexington mine.

The April output of Calumet & Arizona was 1,319 tons copper.

The aggregate of the year's sales of ore from the lead and zinc district passed the $4,000,000 mark with the week closing April 29, and the market is up higher than for many weeks. The highest price reported paid was $48 50 per ton for the Bumble Bee and Carnegie output of zinc ore. The Chapman and Lennon Mining Company's at Webb City, the Ohio's at Carterville and several bins on the Continental Zinc Company's land in Joplin sold at $47 50 per ton.

The Federal Mining and Smelting Company has reported the net profits of the company's four mines in the Coeur d' Alenes to have been $1,169,036 for the year 1904. There were 672,669 tons of ore extracted during the year, giving a gross value of $4,760,181. The actual cost of extraction was $1,[illegible]4,434. The cost of transportation was $1,526,424, while the cost of betterments was $7,285, making a total expenditure of $3,5[illegible]1,145.

The actual earnings of the Copper Range Consolidated Company of Boston for 1904 show a surplus of $4[illegible]4,869 from the Baltic, $322,2[illegible]0 from the Fir Mountain and $[illegible]23,756 as one-half of the surplus of the Champion property.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, May 2.—There was a sharp advance in the London tin market, where spot closed at £138 5s and futures at £134 15s. The local market responded to this showing, but was very quiet. Spot closed at $30 00@30 40. Copper was a little higher in London also, closing at £65 10s for spot and £65 12s 6d for futures. Locally the market was dull and more or less nominal. Large holders are still asking $15 25 for lake and electrolytic, but it is reported that this price can be shaded on actual transaction, while there are continued reports of lake obtainable below $15 00. Lake is generally quoted at $15 00@15 25; electrolytic at $15 00@15 25; casting, $14 75@15 00. Lead was unchanged at $4 50@4 60 in the local market and £12 11s 3d in London. Spelter was easier at £23 10s in the London market, but remained quiet at yesterday's decline to $5 80 in New York. Iron closed at 54s 6d in Glasgow and at 52s 0d in Middlesboro. Locally the markets were unchanged. No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $17 75@18 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, at $16 75@17 50; No. 1 foundry, southern and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, at $17 25@17 75; No. 2 foundry, southern, at $16 75@17 25.
